A shews the beginning of ten feet lane as altered in pursuance of an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Maryland, passed in the year 1810, and made sixteen feet wide as shewn by the black lines and lettered from A to F, namely running from A to B to C to D to E to F and thence to the beginning at A.

The letters A—B shew the west end wall of a two story brick building owned by the Heirs of the late Caleb Hewett by which wall the East side of the said alley so widened is now in part bounded.

City Commissioners Office.

Baltimore, May 7th, 1817.

In pursuance of an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Maryland, passed at November Session 1810, entitled "an Act to widen and alter the direction of "Ten feet Lane" in the City of Baltimore":—

We, the City Commissioners have caused to be surveyed and laid down the annexed plat, agreeably to the following locations, this day made, to wit:- Commencing at the S.W. corner of a two story brick house, owned by Caleb Hewitt's heirs, on the North side of Chatham Street, (said house standing about two feet six inches back from the North line of said Street,) and running with the west wall of said house sixty eight feet eleven inches, which point is two feet Northerly from the North West corner of said wall,- thence North 37¾ Degrees East fifty two feet to a point Eighty four feet Easterly from the South East corner of C. Burrall's two story brick house on the North side of Vulcan Alley, and ninety eight and an half feet from the North East corner of Richardson Stuart's brick dwelling House- thence North 52¼ Degrees West sixteen feet, and then for the West line, parallel with the aforesaid 1st. & 2nd. lines and at the distance of sixteen feet therefrom to Chatham Street.

Which Lane thus widened and altered we do hereby agreeably to the directions of the aforesaid Act of Assembly condemn as a public highway for the use of the public forever hereafter. In Witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands and seals the day and year first above written.
