The New Superior Drill

Worton, Md., Dec. 1, 1907.
Davis & Satterfield,
Chestertown, Md.:

Gentlemen:—It gives me great pleasure to say that the new "Y" spouts you put on the Superior Fertilizer Finger-Grain Drill this fall gave me perfect satisfaction. I consider the Superior Drill one of the best on the market. It is light running and is so easy and simple in the change of quantities in both grain and fertilizer, that it makes me believe the drill has its right name—"Superior."

Yours truly,
W. D. CARTER.

We warrant this machine to do satisfactory work or no pay. Light draft, simple to operate, a regular distributer of both grain and fertilizer.

All we ask is a fair inspection and an honest judgment.

CASHIER WM. B. COPPER HONORED.

He Was Unanimously Elected President of the Maryland State Bankers Association Last Week.

Mr. W. Bradford Copper, cashier of the Second National Bank, of Chestertown, was unanimously elected president of the Maryland State Bankers Association at its meeting in Baltimore last week. The Bankers Association is one of the most prominent and influential organizations in the State, and its members are all men high in the financial and business life of the State. The honor of the presidency came to Mr. Copper entirely unsolicited, and is the result of good judgment and keen preception of sterling qualificatio ns on the part of the association that has honored the efficient and populor cashier. Mr. Copper is one of the strongest young men in our community. By careful methods and presistent industry Mr. Copper has made himself a first-class business man, and by his affable manner and genial disposition, he has won the esteem and respect of the members of the association that has unanimously honored him. The honor conferred upon Mr. Copper is also an honor to the institusion which he represents, and we have no doubt that the directors of the bank appreciate Mr. Copper's worth, and appreciate the honor which has been conferred. We are sure Mr. Copper will make a most acceptable presiding officer. He was the guest of honor at the banquet at the Belvedere on Friday night, which was attended by 250 bankers from various parts of the country. Messrs. Wilbur W. Hubbard, Cashiers Wm. F. Russell, Allan A. Harris and Mr. Edwin S. Valliant attended as the representatives of the Chestertown institutions.

A Dash for Liberty.

A colored prisoner named Rattler created considerable excitement around Court street on Monday afternoon by making a bold attempt to escape from jail. Rattler with several others had been imprisoned on Monday morning for disorderly conduct and drunkenness, and in some unknown manner he gained access to one of the second-story windows in the afternoon and jumped to the ground and ran at a rapid gait through the court house yard, down Church alley to Queen street. Mr. Preston Ivens saw the negro jump and sounding an alarm, he gave chase. Sheriff Hadaway, who was in the jail office at the time, rushed out and joined in the chase, and he, Mr. Ivens and Bailiff Getshall succeeded in capturing the negro in an alleyway between Mr. Hodgkin and Mr. Boggs, on Queen street. He was taken back to jail. When arrested Rattler had a pint bottle of whiskey in his possession.

Five prisoners from Rock Hall are in jail as a result of a cutting affray early in the week. There are more prisoners in the Chestertown jail than was ever known before in the history of the county.

LOVE OF COWS FOR YOUNG

Prominent Farmer of Chestertown Has Interesting Experience in the Shipment of Calves.

Mr. Wm. S. Collins, owner of the Burchinal farm, one the finest tracts of land near Chestertown, had an interesting experience one day last week which proves conclusively the love of dumb animals for their offspring. Mr. Collins shipped a number of calves by train. He drove the calves and their mothers to the cattle pen at the depot and when the calves had been "locked in" he drove the cows back to the farm near Muddy Creek. About 10.30 o'clock the same night, Mr. Collins, while in his room at the home of his brother, Mr. R. H. Collins, heard the lowing of some cows, and thinking that he recognized their voices, dressed and went down to the cattle pen at the station, and sure enough, there he found his cows peering through the pen rails lowing for their calves. Mr. Collins states that it was a pathetic sight to see the mother love of the cows for their calves. The cows missed their calves at night and they got out of the field and came to the station to find them.

WM. MASON SHEHAN, ESQ., of Easton, and S Scott Beck, Esq., of Chestertown, will address the Fourth and Seventh District clubs at the Court House, Tuesday evening, Sept. 29. A large attendance is desired.

OBITUARY.

FREDERICK EMORY.

Mr. Frederick Emory, an able newspaper man and author, died near Queenstown on Sunday after a lingering illness. He had been in failing health for sometime, which fact caused him some years ago to resign the post of secretary of the Bureau of American republics, at Washington, to which he had been appointed by President McKinley, and which he filled with much ability as well as conspicuous success. Since his resignation he had spent most of his time on the Eastern Shore, where he was born 53 years ago.

Mr. Emory went to Baltimore at an early age and became connected with The Sun in an editoral capacity. Later he removed to Philadelphia, working on the Public Ledger and other papers there, but eventually he returned to Baltimore and again secured a position on The Sun. On being appointed secretary of the Bureau of American Republics he went to Washington, where he married a second time.

He was a capable newspaper writer and also attained distinction in other divisions of literary work, writing several books on different subjects and proving his aptitude in the field of fiction. He was held in high regard by President McKinley and made many friends. He did much excellent work in bringing the bureau to the front, possessed a wide range of information and wielded a facile pen.

He was related to the Emorys of this and Queen Annes counties, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him.
