THE GRIM REAPER.

CHARLES ESTES.

Notary Public, Charles Estes, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Walter U. Lusby, on Tuesday evening, in the 82nd year of his age. The deceased had been in failing health for some time but about two weeks ago he was seized with an attack of pneumonia to which he succumbed. The deceased was one of the best known and most highly esteemed men in this county. He came to Chestertown from Elkton when a young man and engaged in the foundry business on the corner of Princess and Cannon streets. He later disposed of the business to the late Wm. A. Hyland, but retained the position of manager until the discontinuance of the business. For 35 years Mr. Estes served as Notary Public in this town having held the office under every Governor in those years, except Governor Lowndes. In politics Mr. Estes was an ardent Democrat and in his younger days he was closely associated with the late Richard Hynson, William S. Walker and Dr. Samuel Beck, whose confidence and friendship he enjoyed to the fullest extent, and prized in the highest degree. In business, the deceased was ever courteous and considerate. He performed the duties of Notary Public up until within a week of his death, and in every transaction in life he was noted for his promptness and rugged integrity. He was a great lover of children and of his home. He always had a good word and a pleasant smile for everyone, and it was always a peculiar pleasure to sit and converse with him because of his knowledge of men, and of events of his community. The deceased was twice married, his first wife being a Miss Amos, of Baltimore. By his first wife, he leaves one son, Mr Samuel Estes, who is engaged in business in Washington, D. C. Miss Agnes Estes, daughter of his late son, Mr. Ellie Estes, is a grand-daughter. Mr. Estes' second wife was a Miss Frazer, sister of Mrs. Benanna Russell, and Mrs. Wm. A. Wheatley and the late Mrs. Lewin S. Fowler, of this town. The surviving children by his second marriage are: Messrs. Fred, tourist Pullman conductor, with headquarters in St. Louis, James and Ollie Estes, of this town, and Mrs. Walter U. Lusby, with whom the deceased lived, and who with her husband, did everything in their power to make the declining years of her aged parent comfortable and happy. Mr. Estes was one of the landmarks of Chestertown. He was popular with our business people, and he will be missed for his many noble traits of character. Funeral services will be held from the residence of his daughter on High street, this morning at ten o'clock, conducted by Rev. Dr. F.T. Little. Interment will be made in Chester cemetery. The pallbearers are: Messrs. W. Bradford Copper, cashier of the Third National Bank, William F. Russell, cashier of the Kent County Savings Bank, James W. Crouch, teller in the Chestertown Bank of Maryland, William A. Wheatley, Frank H. Howard and William Robertson. Undertaker C. L. Dodd will have charge of the funeral arrangements.

MRS. SARAH C. HENDRICKSON.

Mrs. Sarah C. Hendrickson, widow of the late Victor Hendrickson, died at Hahnemann Hospital, Phila., where she had been for special treatment, Monday night, aged 66 years. Mrs. Hendrickson had been in failing health for some years, but it had only been since after the death of her esteemed husband that the nature of her case became so serious as to render special treatment necessary. Just the day before her death her daughter, Mrs. King, visited her and she seemed better. Mrs. King was surprised therefore to learn of her sudden death. Very few people here knew of the seriousness of Mrs. Hendrickson's disease. It was known only to the family. She bore her sufferings with the fortitude of a noble christian woman such as she was all through life. For years the family lived in Chestertown, and during those years they were constant attendants upon the services of the Methodist Protestant Church and Sunday school. Since their removal to their farm, near town, the energies of the deceased were exerted toward lifting the burden of farm life from the shoulders of her family, and helping to add to the comfort and pleasures of home such as only a devoted mother and loving wife could do. The home of the deceased has always been noted for its hospitality, and no stranger was ever turned away empty handed. The deceased was before marriage a Miss Ford. She was a sister of Messrs. William and Robert Ford, Mrs. Virginia Byron, of this town and county, and of Mrs. Marcellene Stewart, of Baltimore, by all of whom she is survived. Her immediate family consists of the following children—Mrs. Wilbur H. Morris, Mrs. Frank Shinn, Mrs. Edward C. Walters, of this county, and Mrs. Robert King, of Illinois, and Messrs. George and Percy V. Hendrickson, well-known farmers of this county. Funeral services were held from the residence of her son, Mr. George Hendrickson, near town, on Thursday at 1 P. M., conducted by Rev. Dr. F. T. Little. Interment was made in the family lot in the Chester Cemetery. Undertaker J. E. Ferguson had charge of the funeral arrangements. The pallbearers were Messrs. Tylden Brice, Charles S. Hill, Walter T. Morris, Harry Nicols, James Wood and William Wink.

MR. GEORGE M. D. HART.

Mr. George M. D. Hart, of Townsend, Del., president of the People's Bank, of Middletown, Del., died at his home in Townsend on Friday afternoon last. The deceased was born near Fairlee, Kent county, August 20th, 1844. He was for a number of years station agent at Townsend, president of the school board of the town, a trustee of the poor, and a member of the town council. Besides a widow, he leaves two sons, James Austin and H. Allen Hart. The deceased's wife is a cousin of Benj. F., Harry, and George Rash. Mr. Benj. Rash attended the funeral on Monday, and he states that it was the most largely attended funeral he ever saw, thus attesting the great esteem in which Mr. Hart was held by the people of Delaware.

MRS. MARY JANE HOGAN.

Mrs. Mary Jane Hogan died at her home, near Melitota this week, aged 80 years. She leaves a husband and six children—four sons and two daughters. Funeral services were held yesterday, conducted by Rev. G.A.Morris. Intermens was made in Wesley Chapel cemetery. Undertaker Casey Bros. had charge of the funeral arrangements.

CAPTAIN JAMES CALDER TURNER.

Captain James Calder Turner died at his home in Monkton, Harford county, on Tuesday, aged 73 years. The deceased was the father of Mr. James C. Turner, director of athletics at Washington College, and was a prominent citizen in his county.
