A Study in Housekeeping.

Now that the high cost of living is absorbing the attention of housekeepers, especially the fellow who has to fork over the cash every Monday morning with which to run the home for the week, the following experience of one of our best and most careful housekeepers during the two days of the P.O.S. of A. Convention last week may prove interesting to those who are endeavoring to solve the problem of how to live cheaply, yet well, in view of the high cost of everything we have to eat. This lady took four delegates for the two days at $2 per day. There were four others in the family besides the dog. She gave her guests the best of everything, fried chicken, soft and hard crabs in various styles, fried rock, ham and all the vegetables, besides dainty deserts and coffee. She kept account of every item of food, the cost of the coal and wood she burned and every other item. It cost her $6.50 to entertain her guests for the two days. She therefore cleared $10, one of the guests remaining an extra night and for breakfast—and she had enough left to provide for her son, his wife and children, who spent the day with her, besides the regular family the next day. It only goes to show what good management will do even in these days of high prices. Her guests expressed themselves as delighted with their entertainment, and the sumptuous meals which they enjoyed every day.

Kennedyville Items.

The dry weather is broken. Kennedyville and vicinity had a few good showers on Saturday night, and a heavy rain Monday afternoon accompanied with heavy thunder. All are much relieved to get rid of the dreadful dust. The farmers can now go ahead with their plowing and cultivation of the soil for wheat sowing.

Our tomato cannery started up business Saturday afternoon, securing the first picking of a few of the growers of the community. The Baltimore pealers came in the early part of the week, making quite an encampment. Mr. L. A. Pennington is foreman for Mr. Baldwin.

Most of the families of our village have entertained visitors during the summer. Mrs. Lulu Dukes has had with her for a week or more a house party from Baltimore and Denton.

Mrs. E. A. Brownley and Miss Blanch Simonds, of Baltimore, have been guests of Mrs. Tilghman Shafer during the past week; and Miss Anna Simonds, of Baltimore, spent the week with Mrs. E. L. Redmile.

Lewis a former pastor of Kennedyille charge. Miss Lewis left on Thursday to visit friends at Chestertown and Wesley Chapel. Miss Nowland left on Saturday for Dover, Del., where she will spend a few days with friends in their cottage on Delaware Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Weer entertained her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes and little son, of Dover, Del., over Friday night of the past week.

Mr. Morris. Song service and brief sermon in the M. P. Church Sunday evening, 7.30 o'clock; topic, Heavenly Food. Whole service forty five minutes. All are most cordially invited, and particularly the young people.

The 2nd Quarterly conference, for the present year, will be held in the M. P. Church Monday morning, Sept. 2nd. A full attendance of the official board is earnestly desired.

Millington Items.

Our people were delighted to see the refreshing rains of last Saturday and Monday. How glad we are to be rid of the dreadful dust. The farmers can now go ahead with their plowing and cultivation of the soil for wheat seeding.

Master John Colling, of Chestertown, has been the guest of his uncle, Mr. Finley Collins.

Miss Edna Strong and Miss Daisy Williams and mother, of Baltimore, are visiting Dr. and Mrs. Merritt Brice.

Miss Helen Nolanberg, of Philadelphia, spent last week with Miss Elizabeth Dixon, near town.

Miss Elsie Green, of near Sudlersville, spent a few days this week with her cousin, Miss Essie Moore.

We noticed an account in last week's paper where a farmer near Chestertown recently sold 2 calves for $46.60, saying it was the highest price ever brought for 2 calves in this county as far as known. We would like to compare ooe of our sales with that. Mr. John E. Bailey, of teis town, paid Mr. S. J. Johnson of Massey, $47.90 for 2 calves, being $1.30 above the high price record. So we have some good stock also and some wide-awake buyers.

Mrs. Eldridge Wilson was the guest this week of her brother, Mr. Wm. Harrington, at Bear, Del.

Miss Bertha Culley, of near town, is visiting friends in Wilmington, Del.

Mrs. R. J. Taylor gave a party last Monday evening in honor of her guests, Misses Mary and Elizabeth Taylor, of Stockton, Md. Those present were: Misses Mary and Elizabeth Taylor, Lillian Loper, Esther Spear, Clara Merchant, Pearl Langrell, Mary Numbers, Helen Marshall, Dorothy Taylor, Elizabeth Bottemly, Helen Tyler and Gertrude Rehfus. Music and games were indulged in until a late hour, when refresements were served, after which they bid their hostesses adieu.
