The New Fall Suits

The figure line is the slender silhouette, which makes for youthful appearance and graceful carriage—the materials are cheviots, serges, broadcloths, whipcords, zibelines and ratines—the styles are mostly strictly tailored, as well as demi-tailored and dressier models. Notable features are the Robespierre, Directorie and Medici collars and the set-on or simulated cuff formed by the trimmings. Another notable trimming is buttons in tones that harmonize with the materials.

You owe it to yourself to see the Tailored Suits for Fall at The Ladies' Apparel Shop of Gertrude Leimbach, Baltimore. The styles are smarter, the workmanship better, the prices lower, and you'll enjoy the exclusiveness and charm of this unusual place to shop.

Show in Bad Luck.

Nebraska Bill's Wild West Show which exhibited here on Monday met with a streak of bad luck while here. The show arrived here early Sunday morning and pitched its tents on Mr. John Gale Usilton's lot. On Sunday night the tent which sheltered the fine horses caught fire, and was destroyed. In the stampede five of the fine stallions were more or less seriously burned, and the bucking mule was seriously burned. On Monday night during the performance the reserved seats with about 400 people on them collapsed and there was a near panic for a time. The escape of many people from death was miraculous, but while there were no fatalities the following sustained injuries:

Harry Massey, Church Hill—Small bone in right ankle broken.

Henry S. DeFord, Chestertown—Leg badly sprained, but no bones broken.

Argus Robinson, Chestertown—Leg broken.

Miss Daisy Barnes, Chestertown, received a severe injury to her right limb.

Miss Zoa Elliott, Chestertown—Injury to one of her limbs.

William Blyman, assistant foreman in the TRANSCRIPT office—Badly sprained ankle.

Mrs. William French, on the Vickers farm near town—Foot mashed but no bones broken.

Others who received only stight bruises were: Mr. John W. Barnes and Mr. W. B. Copper. Strange to say but one child received an injury, though there were 100 or more children on the seats.

Dr. H. L. Dodd rendered medical aid, and the management of the show deserve much credit for the consideration and attention rendered to those who were injured. They left here at midnight for Centreville, after showing to big crowds morning and evening.

One of the men connected with the management came from Centreville on Tuesday to see how the injured were doing, and left his itinery with Mr. John S. Vandegrift in case anything happened more seriously.

The management paid the doctor's bills in each of the above cases.

Young Men's Club.

The Young Men's Club which was instituted two weeks ago by the pastor of Christ M. P. Church, Rev. Dr. W. R. Graham, perfected its organization on Tuesday evening in the lecture room of the church by the election of the following officers:

President—Joseph N. Wheatley,
Vice-President—W. Robert Huey.
Secretary—J. Waters Russell,
Treasurer—Albert Wheat.

The executive committee will consist of the above officers and pastor. A lookout committee will be appointed at the next meeting.

Mr. C. C. Jones was appointed head usher for the morning service for six months and selected as his assistants, Messrs. Joseph N. Wheatley, Frank Elburn and Albert Wheat.

Mr. W. Robert Huey was elected head usher for the evening service for six months and selected as his assistants, Messrs. Arthur Bacon, Norman Nelson and C. N. Satterfield.

The time for the meeting of the club will be the first Frday night in each month. The next meeting will be held at the parsonage the first Friday in next month. The club numbers 25 charter members, and promises to be a usefu adjunct to the church work.
