MRS. J. M. SHERIDAN DEAD

She Was Wife of Former Pastor of St. James M. P. Church.

Mrs. Matilda Warfield Sheridan, wife of Rev. Dr. J. M. Sherman, pastor of Broadway Methodist Protestant Church, died Sunday morning at the Maryland General Hospital, Baltimore, of pneumonia, following an attack of blood poisoning. The body was removed to the parsonage, 1702 East Monument street, where many members of the congregation called on Sunday.

About 10 days ago Mrs. Sheridan slightly scratched the palm of her hand and a few days later it began to swell. Drs. Ridgely W. Warfield and J. M. H. Rowland were summoned and they found that blood poisoning had resulted.

An operation was performed but the patient's condition showed little improvement. On Thursday pneumonia developed and Mrs. Sheridan was removed to the hospital. Her death saddened the entire congregation.

Mrs. Sheridan was born near Glenwood, Howard county, and was the daughter of the late George K. Ridgely. She was related to the Ridgely and Warfield families of Howard county. She was married to Rev. Dr. Sheridan in 1879. For the last five and a half years she has lived in Baltimore.

Rev. Dr. Sheridan was formerly president of the Maryland Annual Conferene of the Methodist Protestant Church, and for four years was pastor of St. James and Lynch's M. P. Churches this county. Until her health failed Mrs. Sheridan was prominent in church work and took an active interest in the Sunday school, aid societies and young people's organizations.

She is survived by two sons, J. Ridgely Sheridan, of Fairmount, W. Va., and and Jarrett M. Sheridan, Jr., of Baltimore, and two daughters, Mrs. Walter T. Morris, of Kent county, and Miss Sallie E. Sheridan.

Funeral services were conducted in Broadway Methodist Protestant Church Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Dr. J. S. Bowers, president of the Maryland Annual Conference, assisted by Rev. T. O. Crouse, pastor of Mount Royal Methodist Protestant Church; Rev. D. L. Greenfield, of Westminster, and Rev. J. W. Gray.

Burial was made in Oak Hill Cemetery, near Glenwood, Wednesday morning. The pall-bearers were: Rev. Dr. F. T. Little, Rev. C. S. Barrett, Rev. Dr. J. W. Kirk, Rev. G. W. Haddaway, Mr. Daniel Baker, Mr. Ruxton M. Ridgely, Mr. R. T. Jefferson and Mr. A. R. Lewis.

Kennedyville Items.

While the cost of living is said to be high in these days; yet the farm laborer never had a better chance to save money. He gets $1.50 per day and board which is equal to $12.00 per week which is $48.00 per month, and if he works by the month he gets from $14.00 to $18.00 plus his board which would amount to $12.00 more per month making a total per month of $26.00 to $30.00 per month and often a horse is kept by the farmer in addition to this.

The Kennedyville grange held its regular meeting on Monday night with a good attendance. They meet every Monday night from now on through the fall and winter. The Worthy Master announced on Monday night that if next Monday night was stormy that the grange would meet on Tuesday night as the time for the Pomona Grange was drawing near and preparations for same had to be made. Grangers will please remember.

There will be a meeting of the members and friends of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Shafer on Monday afternoon October 14th at 2.30 P. M. The president, Mrs. M. J. Othoson, desires a good attendance as arrangements for the election day meals are to be made and other important matters to be discussed. The president has been sick for sometime but is slowly recovering, but still is not able to do any work.

We are sorry to report that little Elva Walls has the typhoid fever.

Dr. Sparks returned home on Wednesday after spending a few days very pleasantly with friends in Queen Anne's and Wilmington.

Mr. Charley Nickerson, who has been in Philadelphia for several weeks was at home this week with his father, D. T. Nickerson.

Mrs. Annie Redmile and Mrs. Harry Redmile are spending sometime with friends in Wilmington.

Betterton Notes.

Betterton has another building boom. Mr. Max Price, recently retired from farming is having erected a fine cottage on Bayside.

Mr. Howard Turner expects to build himself a home on Bayside, but does not expect to complete it until the spring.

Mr. F. S. Groves, general manager of the Baltimore & Philadelphia Steamboat Company, is having a very handsome bungalow built on the high bluff overlooking the broad waters of the Chesapeake Bay.

Mr. John F. Green and wife are spending some time in Baltimore.

Capt. Chas Bacon has returned from a very pleasant visit to friends in Philadelphia.

Dr. Nurkin, who has had a very bad attack of rheumatism is very much improved.

Mr. Waller is having one of his cottages painted and improved by putting in two windows on the south side.

Mrs. Furgeson is visiting her son in Baltimore.

Mr. Howard Turner has had a new roof put on the Hotel Rigbie.

Mr. G. Herbert Moore expects to move to Savannah, Georgia in the ne ar future.

Mrs. F. S. Moore visited Betterton the past week.
