Mrs. Hackett was well and favorably known in Kent and Queen Annes counties, having taught school for a number of years in these counties and in Delaware, and leaves a host of friends on the peninsula who will regret to know of the passing of so useful a person. Her chief delight was in the training of the minds of the children among whom she labored. Coupled with this, she performed many acts of kindness and benevolence, unknown to any one except the recipient and the Righteous Judge from whom she will secure her reward. Her remains were brought to Sudlerville, Md., by train on Wednesday morning last and interment made from the train in Sudlersville cemetery at 10.30 A. M., resting by the side of her late husband.
