The Transcript

R.H.COLLINS, T.D.BOWERS, EDITORS.

THE TRANSCRIPT extends sympathy to Gov. Goldsborough in the loss of his mother. There is no earthly being that is so dear to a man as his mother, and when she is gone, his best friend has departed.

DR. HARE, superintendent of the Maryland Anti-Saloon League, and his assistant, Mr. J. Bibb Mills, were in Chestertown on Wednesday interviewing candidates and looking after the interests of their cause.

DO DR. HARE and Mr. J. Bibb Mills know about that oyster scald in Skinner's Neck? If they don't, somebody had better put them wise before they put their O. K. on Beck, Turner and Lewis.

YOU may as well try to stop the water from rushing over the Niagara Falls as to try to stop the people of this State from voting for Blair Lee for Governor. The people want Lee, and they are going to have him in spite of the politicians and the politicians' money.

MR. ROBERT LEWIS, the Organization candidate for the Legislature, is acknowledged to have paid for the oysters at that oyster scald in Skinner's Neck. Now, be honest, and tell who paid for the 16 gallons of beer and one gallon of whiskey that was used. It was there, it makes no difference how they may try to squirm out of it, for we got it from men in the Fifth District who know it was there.

THE Sun, speaking of Senator Maloy's good looks as compared with those of Mr. Albert C. Ritchie, both of whom are candidates for Attorney-General says: "The cause of the futile discussion in that 'Pat' Maloy is so lovable that many are willing to defend him against any criticism whatever, regardless of the facts. When his looks were derided defenders arose en mass and battled for him in the newspapers, on the street corners, in the barrooms and everywhere else."

MR. JAMES T. DIXON has declared in emphatic terms to those who have interviewed him during the week that he will be a candidate for clerk of the court in the coming primaries. He states that he has received encouragement from his friends all over the county, and that he means to make a fight for the nomination. Mr. Dixon has many friends throughout the county who are very bitter over the manner in which he has been treated by the Organization leaders.

THE Harrington wave of victory has gone to sea since the moaning of the "city and counties" issue began to cross the bar. That one issue makes Harrington's nomination absolutely impossible, if the Democrats desire to elect a Democratic Governor in the November election. And who did it? Harrington's friends. So, Mr. Voter, what's the use in throwing your vote away? Vote for Lee and nominate a man whom the people from one end of the State to the other want, and who is sure of election.

ROBERT G. HILTON, of Montgomery county, a staunch friend and supporter of Senator Lee, was on Wednesday appointed by President Wilson subtreasurer at the Custom House, Baltimore, the salary of which is $4,500 a year. The Lee people now have Miles, Internal Revenue Collector; Mitchell Diggs, naval officer; Guy Steele, Surveyor of the Port of Baltimore; Stockham, United State marshall, Warner, appraiser, and Robert G Hilton, subtreasurer. Senator Smith has Ryan, Collector of the Port, McQuade, appraiser, and Dennis, U. S. District Attorney. See who the President is with in this State?

SENATOR JOHN WALTER SMITH'S influence in the last Legislature, through his control of Senators Jesse D. Price, Wm. W. Beck and Carville D. Benson, created a deficiency in the State treasury of $1,000,000 JUST FOR THE LAST SESSION. The Beck crowd in Kent county created an indebtedness of over $100,000 for the tax-payers of the present and future to pay. All three of these lieutenants of Senator Smith are candidates for re-nomination in the primaries, and the people should defeat every one for their reckless waste of the people's money in the last session.

MR. WALTER H. HADAWAY, the Anti-Organization candidate for Clerk of the Court, is making a quiet but very encouraging campaign for votes. There is no bluster or pretension about Walter. He knows how to go after votes, and he is gaining friends every day. There is no more worthy man in the entire county than Walter Hadaway. He is a friend to everybody and he never imposes upon anybody's friendship. He deserves the vote of every man because of his genuine uprightness of character and his genuine worth to those in need. Walter Hadaway will be the next clerk of the court for Kent county, because the people are with him in this fight.

WHY does not the Beck organ tell the people of this county how it is that Senator Beck secured only $95,000 of the $6,600,000 appropriation for good roads passed by the last Legislature, when Cecil, Queen Anne's, Caroline and Talbot received from $110,000 to $150,000? Was Senator Beck as mindful of the interests of the people of his county as he should be, when he let the opportunity pass to secure for his county all that it was justly entitled to for good roads? The people have a right to know why this thing happened, and why it is that Kent county did not get enough money to finish the State road as far as Fanuel's Branch as the original contract called for. Senator Beck knows why we did not get this money, and his organ should tell the people. Be honest, now, and come on with the truth. We want you to tell the people how interested you were in their welfare in the last Legislature.

IN their wild efforts to stem the great tide towards Lee in Wicomico county, the Smith-Harrington forces are handing out State and Federal jobs, and making all sorts of promises of jobs to those who are willing to leave the Lee camp. But the Lee forces are standing like a stone wall against this misuse of State and Federal patronage, and the county is overwhelmingly for Lee.

THE friends of Mr. A. Hanson Stavely, of the Second District, are urging him to announce himself a candidate for delegate to the State Convention, as are also the friends of Mr. Wm. T. Jones, of the First. Both of these gentlemen are warm supporters of Senator Lee and the Lee ticket in this county, and have a host of friends who would be glad to see them thus honored.

THE Barroll organ says, "Just think of a whole barrel of whiskey coming to Chestertown on one train!" What has the Barroll organ done or advocated towards limiting the supply?—Beck Organ.

We didn't pass the infamous GALLON-A-MONTH law, such as your representatives, Beck and Turner, did in the last Legislature, and we would be ashamed to acknowledge that we had anything to do with such a law.

VIOLATORS OF LAW.

We have it, from one of the most responsible business men in the Fifth District that there were 12 gallons of beer and one-half gallon of whiskey at that oyster scald in Skinner's Neck, given in honor of Mr. Robert Lewis, Organization candidate for the Legislature, some Saturday afternoons ago. This gentleman told us that the men who took the drinkables to the scald, met the boat that brought the beer and whiskey from Baltimore on the waters of Long Cove, SO AS TO KEEP FROM SIGNING FOR IT, and the Organization leader in the Fifth District arranged the whole affair. An act of that kind is an open violation of law, to say nothing of the beer and whiskey.

CANDIDATE FOR STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

Mr. Clifton L. Jarrell, one of the most prominent young men in Chestertown, and well-known throughout the county, has consented to be a candidate for the State Central Committee on the Lee ticket. Mr. Jarrell is an ardent Lee man, and will make an active canvass in the interest of the State and local ticket. He will do honor to Kent as a member of that committee and should have the vote of every man who believes in Senator Lee and President Wilson.

The friends of Mr. Charles C. Wood, of the Sixth District, are urging him to be a candidate for the State Central Committee also. Mr. Wood would make a most excellent man for this position.

THE STATE VS. SMITH.

Blair Lee got 64 votes in the convention four years ago, and came within one vote of winning the nomination for Governor, without the support of the Baltimore city Organization. He carried 15 of the 23 counties against Senator Smith's candidate, Senator Gorman. In the last United States senatorial fight Carrington carried a majority of the counties of the State over Smith, and but for Baltimore city, Senator Smith would have been defeated for re-election. Now, with such conditions as these existing how can there be any city vs. the counties issue. Carrington, a city man beat Smith a county man in the counties, and Smith a county man won over Carrington a city man only through the aid of the city vote. No, the issue is not that of the city against the counties, it is THE STATE OF MARYLAND AGAINST JOHN WALTER SMITH BECAUSE OF HIS RECORD IN THE UNITED STATES SENATE, HIS ANTAGONISM TO PRESIDENT WILSON AND HIS RECORD AGAINST THE PEOPLE IN THE LAST LEGISLATURE, AND HARRINGTON IS BURDENED WITH THE INIQUITIES OF SMITH

HOW FAR THEIR INTEREST GOES

As an evidence of the real interest which William W. Beck and other candidates on the Organization ticket take in the people of the Fifth District was shown last Friday night when Mr. Beck, Mr. Charles L. Dodd, Mr. Harrison W. Vickers and others went to Rock Hall, and plead with Capt. Joseph Apsley and others who are interested in the organization of a Watermen's Protective Association, to drop the matter, as there was nothing in it. It was exactly the same thing when the fishermen had a case against the Federal Government to protect their rights in Baltimore and Washington. Mr. Beck was invited to help the fishermen, and he refused to do it. Capt. Apsley told Mr. Beck of this Friday night. He told him he was asked to help the fishermen out of their difficulties, and he would not have anything to do with it. And in spite of Mr. Beck's efforts to break up the formation of an association which means so much to the financial welfare of the fishermen of the entire bayshore, the meeting was held with a hundred or more men in attendance and some 75 or 100 fishermen from along the bayshore joined the association. This is one of the most beneficial things that could be done by the fishermen, and any man who would seek to prevent the formation of an association of this kind, which is purely non-partisan, is stabbing a thirst at the most vital interests of the fishermen, and should not be allowed to have charge of their interests in the Legislature.

THE PEOPLE WANT TO KNOW.

Wm. B. Copper, of Kent county, candidate for the State Comptroller nomination, has told the pubiic what he will do. Recognizing, as does every business man in the State, the need of a complete change of the State's financial system as applicable to this branch of service, as a practical business man and an experienced financer, Mr. Copper, whose qualifications are recognized all over the State, definitely states what is needed and what will be done.

Senator William Miles Maloy, of Baltimore, a candidate for the nomination as attorney General, likewise states what he will do; how he will save the State thousands of dollars which it is now expending, and how he will give better service in the Attorney General's department, for less money than the State is now receiving.

These are things the people want to know. The public is tired of the suave, easy going politician type, the men whose reputations have been built up on the number of jobs they can land for faithful followers; the State wants and needs economy and men whose determination and slogan will be "better service and fewer jobs."—Cambridge Record.

WE REGRET most seriously that Mr. Bryan should deem it necessary to resign as Secretary of State simply because of a difference of views between him and President Wilson as to the character of the note which has been sent to the German government. This is no time to air differences of opinion upon questions which are of such momentous concern to the American people at this critical time. Mr. Bryan knew what he was doing when he took the step, but perhaps he has failed to count the cost of his action to himself. But this is the hour above all times when every patriotic American should stand by President Wilson in his terrible responsibility, and we believe that the American people, regardless of politics or the attitude of Mr. Bryan, are standing as one man behind President Wilson, and are trusting him to solve a situation that means so much to the integrity and honor of his countrymen. Mr. Bryan, we fear, has made a fatal mistake, which only the future will reveal, but whatever happens, we shall trust President Wilson to do the right thing for his country, his God and our homes.

CALLS IT TREASON.

Editor Williams, of the Cecil Whig, discussing the city vs. counties issue, which the Smith-Harrington papers have raised simply because Mayor Preston endorsed Senator Blair Lee for Governor and not Mr. Harrington, says:

"There is no feeling of antagonism between Baltimore city and the counties of Maryland—except in the ranks of the political fellows who raise that subject merely for political capital. Baltimore is full of people who have moved into the city from the counties, and vice versa. We are the same folks exactly, in or out of town. We are fellow-Marylanders—bound together by the same State interests and the same State patriotism. Each section has, of course, its own local pride, but the State interest and State pride are as wide as our borders, are the exclusive property of no coterie, no locality. The man from Allegany is as true-hearted a Marylander as the man from Cecil; the man from Baltimore city is as much a Marylander as the man from Worcester. Every man of sense and State patriotism recognizes this fact and rejoices in it. The only man who strives to mar the unity of our relations is the unprincipled politician—the fellow who will sacrifice anything on earth for a political advantage . . . and every recreant Marylander, every small-bore politician who thinks more of his political faction than he does of his State interest ought to be sternly and permanently rebuked for raising such a cry. So far as the fight between Smith and Lee is concerned, we say 'a plague on both your houses.' But when the State's unity, harmony and true interest are attacked by a false and wicked cry, we have a right to protest as a Marylander. The man who will sacrifice the welfare of his State to a factional quarrel is a traitor—a thoughtless or a conscienceless traitor."

THE LAWYER VS. THE FARMER.

The old adage that self-preservation is the first law of nature, is as true of the lawyer as it is true of the layman. We have no criticism to offer of the letters that have been appearing in the Kent News from Saturday to Saturday in defense of the lawyer. A lawyer is no saint. His acts are by no means infallible, and when he enters the realm of politics and becomes a candidate for office his record is no more sacred than that of the humblest layman. What we have said editorially about the lawyer in the Legislature we believe is simply the commonly accepted opinion of the general run of the people of this county. The interests of the people cannot best be represented by a lawyer. He makes laws to suit himself and his interest rather than that of the great mass of the people, and it is upon their premises that we have builded our arguments against the lawyer. The farmer on the other hand may be selfish, he may make laws in his interest and not in the interest of the lawyer. But when he does this he is legislating in the interest of a class that outnumbers the lawyer fifty to one, and to that extent, if the farmer makes laws, fifty are benefited where only one is benefited when the lawyer manufactures the statutes. Now is that not sound reasoning? We think so. Now then, if the laws which the farmer would pass would benefit fifty people while it is benefiting himself, is he not a better man to send to the Senate than the lawyer whose laws are beneficial primarily to the legal fraternity? The statement of the American Agriculturist, one of the leading farm papers in the country, last week that the time has arrived for the people of Pennsylvania to weed out of its Legislature some of its lawyers and place in their stead good, substantial farmers and business men, applies with equal force to our Maryland Legislature. We venture to say that if the Maryland Senate had contained a majority of farmers in the last Legislature, there would have been no such laws put over on the people as the State Tax Commission law, the Employer's Liability Act, which takes money out of the people's pockets only to place it in the treasuries of the great insurance and trust companies. It is high time for the business people and our farmers to wake up to the necessity of sending to the Senate men from their ranks, men whose interests are their interests and men who believe in the greatest good to the greatest number, instead of sending the lawyer whose interests have nothing at all in common with the interests of the great majority of our business and agricultural life. Until the people wake up to this fact, we may expect to have such laws passed as we had in the last Legislature, not a single one of which was of the slighest benefit to our great body of people, but rather made their burdens heavier than ever.

HARRINGTON DIGS POLITICAL GRAVE.

The issue of the "City vs. the Counties" which the Smith-Harrington papers have raised on the Eastern Shore, only because Mayor Preston endorsed Senator Blair Lee for Governor instead of Mr. Harrington, has killed Harrington as dead as hector as an available candidate for Governor, and Harrington, by raising the issue, has dug his political grave. The Eastern Shore of Maryland does not furnish the majorities which elect the Democratic ticket in the fall election, nor do any of the counties of the State. That majority must come from Baltimore city. As a proof of this statement we have only to refer to the senatorial fight between Senator John Walter Smith and E C. Carrington, Jr., in the last election when Carrington received a majority of the votes cast in the counties and Baltimore city gave Smith his majority of 15,000. By arraying the city of Baltimore against the counties, the friends of Harrington have thrown the red flag in the face of the people of Baltimore city, and have virtually said, if Harrington is elected Governor, the city of Baltimore can take care of itself. This issue, in the event of Harrington's nomination, will be the finest kind of capital for the Republicans, and they will use it to the fullest extent, and in our judgment it will mean the certain defeat of the Democratic ticket if Harrington should be nominated. The friends of Mr. Harrington have, therefore, done him a most serious injury. They have placed his nomination absolutely beyond the realm of advisability, and they have made him a much weaker candidate in the election than Senator Gorman was, for the very simple reason that Baltimore city will knife the life out of any man who has the audacity to flaunt the red flag in her face, when he must depend almost absolutely upon the city vote for his majority. With Blair Lee as the candidate for Governor, no such issue as the city vs. counties could be used by the Republicans, nor can any other issue be used successfully, because of the splendid record which Senator Lee made in the Senate of Maryland in his advocacy of progressive legislation. And in view of this damaging issue which the Harrington forces have raised, the only reasonable thing for the people to do is to nominate Blair Lee for Governor, and thus insure to the Democrats a candidate who has not insulted Baltimore city, and who can win in the election because Maryland is a Democratic State and the people want no more Republican Governors.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Rock Hall, Md., June 10, 1915.

TO THE WATERMEN OF KENT COUNTY.

Gentlemen:

I understand that Mr. Wm. W. Beck has hired the Junior Order Hall for the evening of June 19th, to hold a "Waterman's" meeting. The purpose of this meeting is to organize an association outside of the present Waterman's protective Association of Kent county, which is doing such splendid work.

Before any of our people go to Mr. Beck's meeting or join his new Waterman's Club, I wish them to consider the following propositions:

1. Is there any necessity for more than one association among our Watermen to protect the fishing and oystering interests of our community from outside interference?

2. Is it likely that the greater good will be done our people by continuing to work together as they are doing: "to promote, protect and advance the interest and welfare of the fishermen and oystermen of Kent county" or to divide as Mr. Beck is seeking to divide them in two hostile camps?

3. Will our enemies in Harford county and the Legislature have easier work driving us out of business if we stand together, or if we are cutting each others throats?

Yours truly,
"A TRUE WATERMAN'S FRIEND."

Senator W. W. Beck's Record in the Legislature, 1914.

In the Senate Journal, page 1551, it appears that at first the Legislature running mad in its course of huge appropriation for the pleasure and emolument of its members, undertook to appropriate $100,000.00 to defray the expenses of a party to journey to the Panama Exposition in California. In the face of great popular clamor against this unnecessary expense the Legislature conceeded $25,000 to the public and reduced this appropriation to $75,000. This is enough money to more than build a good shell made state road from Chestertown to Rock Hall.

Instead of using it as suggested in an economical way, a Commission of 25 members, one of whom, of course, was Senator Beck, together with four other members of the State Senate, all of whom ardently espoused the passage of this legislation, represented the State at the Panama Exposition.

It would be impossible to estimate directly or indirectly the vast benefits that the State derived by being represented by our Senator—whether we received any benefit or not, it is certainly a great satisfaction to our tax payers to know that spending this money in places where it is most terribly needed at this time, may be added to the entertainment and amusement of Senator Beck during the winter just past, which is certainly a far more gratifying matter to contemplate for patriotic citizens. A TAX-PAYER.

Skinner's Neck, June 9, 1915.

MESSRS. EDITORS: I saw in the Kent News where Mr. Frank J. Keiser says that no beer nor whiskey was at that oyster scald in Skinner's Neck some Saturdays ago. I know it to be a fact that there were three kegs of beer and a ½ gallon of whiskey, and if Mr. Keiser wants to know what the people of Skinner's Neck think of him for writing such a letter as that, he can find out by asking. Yours, DEMOCRAT.
