in the boats for about half an hour, when col. Winder's regiment entered the boats with great order and silence.

About three quarters of an hour after this, the remaining regulars commenced the embarkation, when I dropped down to the line, with a flag in my boat to designate it as the leading boat. I was accompanied by majors Cyrenius Chapin and John W. Macomb, capt. Mills, of the cavalry, adjutant Chace and quartermaster Chaplin, two pilots and 26 volunteers from Buffaloe, under lieut. Haynes.

I mention the names of these gentlemen because they had the day before decidedly objected to passing at the proposed point by day light, but when day light appeared, and one of the men raised some difficulty on that account, he was induced to remain, and it was unanimously agreed to incur the additional hazard and patiently wait the order of the general to put off. At day light we discovered the troops disembarking, and were informed that the invasion of Canada had been abandoned for this season, and that the troops were ordered to winter quarters. A scene of confusion ensued which it's difficult to describe. About 4000 men without order or restraint discharging their muskets in every direction.

About 1000 volunteers came in under general Smyth's proclamation; but owing to the state of the roads, which were bad beyond example, many did not arrive until after the first of December.

It is impossible for me to form any estimate of the number of troops embarked at any one time this morning; it was yet scarcely light, and I was at one end of a line of boats occupying a distance of half a mile — When the volunteers first arrived at the navy yard and it was found that the regular troops had not yet appeared, their officers were instructed to permit them to land and keep themselves warm by exercise, as the boats were covered with snow which had fallen during the night; but they were instructed not to leave the side of the boats, that they might immediately re enter.

Extract of a letter from Halifax dated 8th Dec

INTERESTING POLITICAL TABLE,

To shew the general spirit that prevails amongst the people of the U. States on a question of the first importance, viz. the prosecution of the war against G. Britain, we have formed the following table, giving at one view many interesting facts. In the first department, we have the state of parties in the House of Representatives of the United States, at the time of the declaration of war. In the second, the vote on declaring that war existed between the U. States and G. Britain. In the third, we give the result of the late elections in the several states as far as they are known, with conjectures as to the result in others. The latter are marked thus.*. The last column shews the manner in which the members are chosen.

Note.—Elections have not yet been held in Vermont, New York, New Jersey, Virginia and North Carolina—but the reader who is tolerably acquainted with the feelings of the people of those states, as lately expressed, will admit, that if calculations are erroneous they are so in favour of the opponents of the war. Vermont, we think, is certain. In New York, a greater number of "republicans" will be chosen than are put down; but, perhaps, note more than 13 of her members will give a decided support to the war. In New Jersey, as districted by the "federalists," each party counts upon obtaining 4 of the 6 members the State is entitled to—we therefore neutralize it. Virginia will at least maintain her ground; it is more than probable she will have but 5 anti-war members—we have said 6. In N. Carolina there will assuredly be 8 supporters of the war—very possibly 10. All the rest of the States are undoubted results.

States.	12th Congress.			War votes.		13th Congress.			How chosen.
	WholeNo	Rep.	Fed.	For.	Against.	WholeNo	Rep	Fed.
N. Hampshire,	5	5	0	3	0	6	0	6	G. T.
Massachusetts,	17	9	8	0	8	20	2	18	D.
Connecticut,	7	0	7	0	7	7	0	7	G. T.
Rhode Island,	2	0	2	0	2	2	0	2	ditto
Vermont,	4	3	1	3	1	*6	6	0	ditto
New York,	17	12	5	3	13	*27	13	14	D.
New Jersey,	6	6	0	2	4	*6	3	3	ditto
Pennsylvania,	18	17	1	16	2	23	22	1	ditto
Delaware,	1	0	1	0	1	2	0	2	G. T.
Maryland,	9	6	3	6	3	9	6	3	D.
Virginia,	22	16	6	13	5	23	17	6	ditto
N. Carolina,	12	10	2	6	3	*13	8	5	ditto
S. Carolina,	8	8	0	8	0	9	9	0	ditto
Georgia,	4	4	0	3	0	6	6	0	G. T.
Kentucky,	6	6	0	0	0	10	10	0	D.
Ohio,	1	1	0	1	0	6	5	0	G. T.
Tennessee,	3	3	0	0	0	6	6	0	D.
Louisiana,		0	0	0	0	1	1	0	G. T.
	14	21	06	36	79	49	182	112	67

In this table we remark that though the "republican" majority in the twelfth congress was seventy, the war bill obtained only by a majority of thirty, 128 members being present: all the "federalists and many "republicans" voting against it.

By the new census the house will consist of 182 members—of which 115 will be "republicans," or "war-men"—and 67 "federalists," or "anti-war men"——POSITIVE WAR MAJORITY, FORTY-EIGHT. For it must be observed, that, ALL the "republicans" chosen, are chosen as supporters of the war, unless the terms proposed by our government are acceded to by the enemy.

In the senate, the war majority is considerably strengthened, and will be further increased.

The consideration naturally arising from the facts here presented, should lead us to a vigorous prosecution of the war, as the only way to obtain a safe and speedy peace, the ostensible object of all parties. The majority must and will govern; and opposition, an improper opposition—will only lead to the duration of the war, the disgrace of a country, and the triumph of the foe.

THE REPUBLICAN STAR,
AND GENERAL ADVERTISER.

EASTON:

TUESDAY MORNING, JAN. 5, 1813.

We have received the report of the Committee of Grievances and Courts of Justice, entire—the length (making near seven columns) precludes its appearance this morning. Bad as it is, our readers shall have it; also the testimony when received, as we have no desire to withhold such a display of Legislative Talent, even should it have cost the State 10 or 12,000 dollars.

Why count the cost? Even should the late session of the Legislature have cost the State a few thousand dollars more than ordinary, it is supposed not to exceed the amount expended last fall, in procuring seats for 'wealth and talents.'

Another Federal LAWYER turned EDITOR.

Mr. John Hewes, late editor and proprietor of the Federal Gazette, of Baltimore, has transfered the establishment to William Gwin, Esq. How many federal papers are there in the State that are not either owned, edited or under the controul of federal lawyers?

The good people of Maryland might not say aught against the polite literature daily issuing from the federal presses, were they for a moment to reflect that it comes legally before them.

QUERY—Will not the good people of Maryland prefer an AMERICAN representation next fall, when they have read certain Resolutions?—(See last page.)

COL. WINDER has returned home on furlough from the Central Army.

Washington, Dec. 29.

The Senate have agreed that the amendments of the House to a bill directing the Secretary of the Treasury to remit certain fines, penalties and forfeitures, which now only awaits the sanction of the President to become a law.

A bill has been reported by the military committee of the House of Representatives "in addition to the act to raise an additional military force, and for other purposes," the object of which is to raise, in addition to the present military establishment of the U. States twenty regiments of infantry, to be enlisted for one year, unless sooner discharged. The last section of the bill goes to repeal the act "authorising the President of the United States to accept and organize certain volunteer military corps," and the act supplementary to the same act.

Another bill is reported by the same committee to amend the existing laws relating to the army, one object of which is to encrease the bounty on enlistments; another to authorise the appointment of a third Lieutenant and an additional Sergeant to every troop or company in the service of the U. States.

The Secretary of War, in obedience to a call on him by the house of representatives for information as to the manner in which the law making appropriations for arming the Militia has been executed, has reported several statements to the House, from which it appears that stands of arms have been issued to the following States, viz.—to New Hampshire 1000; to Vermont 2,500; to Rhode Island 1000; New Jersey 1000; Delaware 500; North Carolina 2,130; South Carolina 2000; Georgia 1000; Ohio 1,500; Kentucky 1,500; Tennessee 1,500; Illinois territory 216; Louisiana territory 250—in all 16,090 stands: and that there have been loaned, as follows: to Rhode Island 250; Delaware 650; Ohio 3,500; District of Columbia 2,200. Contracts have been made under the law for 85,200 stands, of which 53,560 had been delivered by the contractors on the 7th October, 1812.

A LAUNCH. On Thursday last, about half past 11 o'clock, was launched from the navy-yard at this city, the frigate Adams, which had been hauled up, divided in the middle, lengthened fifteen feet, and almost re-built. She proudly swam into her destined element at the appointed time, amid the acclamations of hundreds, and under a salute of artillery. After the launch, many of the ladies and gentlemen assembled in a sail loft, which had been cleared for the occasion, and spent a pleasant hour. The Adams is to be commanded by capt. Morris.

We are requested by Mr. Swartwout, who is now in this city, to state that the story related in a Boston paper of the 19th inst. on the authority of his name, is inaccurate, and the greater part of it a fabrication.

Washington, Dec 31.

We understand that, in pursuance of what he has for some time past contemplated, the Honorable PAUL HAMILTON has resigned the office of Secretary of the Navy.

National Intelligencer.

Chillicothe, (Ohio) Dec. 16.

We understand that Gen. Harrison left Franklinton for Sandusky, on the 7th inst.

The Franklinton Chronicle states that about 100 cavalry from Gen. Crook's brigade of Pennsylvania militia arrived there from Mansfield on the 1st inst.

The same paper states that an express just arrived there from Fort Defiance, had bro't the intelligence that the celebrated Indian Chief LOGAN had died of the wounds he received in the late skirmish near the Rapids.

The troops under the command of Col. Campbell, which set out from Franklinton on the 18th ult. on a secret expedition, passed thro' Springfield, on the 27th, all in high spirits.—Their destination is not known; but it is generally believed that the Wabash is to be the theatre of their operations. We expect shortly to hear of some daring enterprize from that quarter, and from the ability of the officers and the courage of the troops, a glorious result may confidently be anticipated.

NEW YORK CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION.

We have not yet heard from all the districts in this State. The following persons are ascertained to be elected: Ebenezer Sage, John Lefferts, Peter De Noyelles, Jonathan Fisk, and Abraham Habrouck, Republican; and Egbert Benson, Jotham Post, jr. Thos. J. Oakley, Thos. P. Grosvenor, Samuel Sherwood, John Lovett, Hosea Moffit, and Alexander Boyd, Federal.

The number of votes given in for Governor at the recent election in Ohio, was about 20,000, of which Return J. Meigs had 11,850, and Thomas Scott 7,903. Nat. Intel.

STATE OF LOUISIANA.

By letters from New Orleans, we learn, that the Legislature then in session had refused to confirm the nomination of Gen Posey as a Senator of the U. States, and had appointed Jas. Brown, Esq. to that office, by the following vote on the second ballot.

Gen. Posey	16
James Brown	26

Three Electors of President & Vice President were chosen by a vote of 23 to 16, who will vote for James Madison and Elbridge Gerry.——Ib.

The organized volunteers of Tennessee, destined for the defence of New Orleans, and the Mississippi, were ordered to rendezvous in Nashville on the 10th inst prepared to descend the river without delay, under the command of Major General Andrew Jackson, of the Tennessee Militia. Ibid.

Annapolis, January 1.

OUTRAGEOUS PERSECUTION.

The noted Mr. Crabb, of Charles Street memory, yesterday, in pursuance of the recommendation of the Committee of Grievances & Courts of Justice, introduced an order into the House of Delegates, PROPOSING TO COMMIT GEN. STANSBURY TO PRISON FOR TRIAL, AS AN ACCESSARY TO THE MURDER OF GEN. LINGAN. This is a degree of political turpitude of which we could not have supposed the federalists of that body would be guilty. Of all other acts of violence and party persecution that have ever yet been committed by them, this appears to be the most base, wanton and outrageous.

When the order was proposed, a spirited debate took place, on which several of the members on both sides partook. Mr. Kilgour, one of the Charles Street band, malignantly charged Gen. Stansbury in the most unfeeling manner with being guilty of MURDER, upon which he was called to order, we believe by several members of the House, and ultimately by the Speaker. This of course drew a reply from Gen. Stansbury, but being reminded by the Speaker that he was out of order, he observed, that as the gentleman from Montgomery had been indulged considerably, he also claimed, and stated that the person who publicly charged him with murder, was "A LIAR AND A RASCAL."

This closed the debate, and the order was referred to a committee to enquire and report the course hitherto pursued by the House in such cases. As this we believe is the first case of the kind that has ever occurred in this state, or in fact in any other, except in the dark inquisitorial ages of Spain or Italy, the committee will be puzzled to find a precedent.

It is thought that if the federalists in the House of Delegates do not come to a resolution in that body to hang, or break General Stansbury on the wheel for his alledged conduct during the late riots in Baltimore, that the Legislature will adjourn this evening or to morrow morning; if however they should come to this determination they will not be able to get it accomplished before some time next week. Md. Rep.

In the adjoining columns will be found the entire report of the Committee of Grievances and Courts of Justice, on the subject of the late riots in the City of Baltimore, and made in pursuance of an order of the House of Delegates of the 18th of November, 1812, authorising the enquiry.—This report in itself requires no comment to expose its real object, and draw down upon its author the sovereign contempt of the world; it therefore only remains for us at a future period to relate some elucidating facts which may not perhaps at present be generally known, and leave the public to judge for themselves, when the evidence is brought before them, whether the report is faithful and impartial according to the testimony given, or whether the examination was played off as a mere farce, to prop the desperate cause of a more desperate faction. We will leave the honest people of Maryland to judge for themselves, whether the object already attained, or the beneficial effects likely to result to the state for the enquiry is by any means an equivalent for such an immense expenditure of their public treasure as has most undoubtedly been occasioned. We are not at present prepared to say what the exact amount of this unnecessary expenditure is, but on the most reasonable calculation, we may fairly suppose it cannot be less than from TEN TO FIFTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS? this too, merely to afford the enemies of our country's rights and honor, an opportunity of venting their malicious spleen in the most approbious invective against a few prominent characters in the democratic ranks, and endeavor to sink the republican party in the estimation of the world, by the odium unjustly attempted to be cast upon them. —Ib.

It has been loudly whispered about town that the report of the Committee of Grievances and Courts of Justice, submitted a few days since to the House of Delegates, is not the real sentiments of a majority of the committee, but that it was drawn up and palmed upon them by Clem. Dorsey, (the Chairman) before they had an opportunity of preparing one to suit their own ideas If this should actually be the case, we should not be surprised if the gentlemen who are innocently made the subjects of such unparalleled abuse in the report, were to come down upon the author of such a vile impostor with the old statute of Scandalum Magnatum, and recover damages for circulating false reports. However, be this as it may, when the report was under consideration in the House it was observed by a gentleman present, that Dorsey was as uneasy as a cat in a hot skillet, for fear he should be left in a minority.

The Legislature of this State closed their arduous labours about 10 o'clock of Saturday night last, after passing 195 laws, mostly local. Extracts follow: STAR.
