DANCING SCHOOL.

F. D. MALLET has the honor of informing the families of Easton and its vicinity, that he will open a Dancing School at Mr. Henrix's on Wednesday next, 25th inst. from 8 in the morning till 10, for young ladies, and from 10 till 12 for young gentlemen—from 3 in the afternoon for young ladies; after the tuition of the young ladies, the young gentlemen will be taught. In order that Mr. M. should be able to make any arrangement agreeable to the School, it is necessary that the number of pupils should be sufficient to render it advantageous for a continuation.

Mr. F. D. M. would be happy if those families wishing to honor him with their names, would do it this week, as it is of all-importance to him, to ascertain the number of pupils for his continuation or not.

The newest mode, and the most fashionable Dances, will be taught. No eulogium is necessary to be made on his part as a teacher.

☞ A subscription paper is left at the Store of Mr James B Kinggold, where those disposed to patronize his School are invited to call

MAIL STAGE,

From Easton to Chester-Town,

STARTS from the subscriber's Tavern every Sunday and Thursday morning, after an early breakfast, and arrives at Chester Town before sundown same evenings, where the line continues the next morning through Wilmington to Philadelphia. Returning, leaves Chester Town every Tuesday and Saturday morning, and arrives at the EASTON HOTEL, (late Fountain Inn) same evenings; where the best accommodations are prepared for Travellers, and conveyances furnished for those wishing to proceed to either of the lower counties.

The subscriber has a new Stage, good strong horses, and a careful driver, added to the certainty of progressing on the route without delay, renders the present establishment worthy the attention of the Public, from whom he solicits a share of patronage.

His Hotel is large, and will at all times enable him to furnish private rooms to Travellers—his liquors of the best quality—his table spread with the varieties of the season; and his servants and fare for horses surpassed by none on the shore—added to his own personal attention, he flatters himself in being able to give entire satisfaction to those who may give him a call
