Babes in the Wood

You remember the old story—they hadn't been brought up to take care of themselves in emergencies. The children of these days are more self-reliant and responsible. They'll make good if we just give them a start, says

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

Take the country-minded farm children—we must find some way to help them remain farmers and buy farms of their own. That with one stroke would solve the whole farm problem.

"If every country kid
Should get it 'neath his lid
To quit the fields of wheat,
And check on Market Street,
WHAT would we eat?"

That, in a verselet, is the whole farm problem. Fortunately, the children CAN be kept on the farm. How? Suppose you let me send in your name TODAY for the next 52 rich, helpful issues of THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN. The first copy you receive will give Dean Davenport's answer. His article is typical of Country Gentleman national service, studying every phase of the farmer's problem and showing him how successful men the country over are solving it. Your farm needs the C. G.: Let me call for your dollar.

HERE is the only successful wide-cut mower. It saves 50% of your mowing cost by cutting twice as much in the same time. Compensating lever and spring carries the cutter bar on the drive wheels instead of dragging it on the ground. This increases traction, does away with side draft and weight on horses' necks—greatly lengthens life of machine.

E-B Standard Mower

This mower is as easy on your horses as plowing corn, and will cut two acres of hay in every mile the horses travel. Come in and see it. Bring your boy along
