AUGUST 20, 1938

H. R. MADDOX.

MR. R. Maddox has been appointed general commercial manager of The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City, effective August 1, according to an announcement made by Lloyd M. Griffin, general manager.

Mr. Maddox is a native of Maryland. He was born in Princess Ann on the Eastern Shore and received his early education in the local schools. In 1921, after graduating from Lehigh University with a degree in mechanical engineering, he entered the service of the Telephone Company in Washington as a student engineer. He later served as engineering assistant until his promotion in 1925 to commercial engineer for the West Virginia Company. In 1928 he again returned to Washington as commercial superintendent. One year later he went back to West Virginia as general commercial engineer and in 1929 became general sales manager in that state. In 1936 he was appointed general commercial manager, which position he held until his recent appointment with the Maryland Company.

In his new position Mr. Maddox' main objective will be the improvement of service for present subscribers and the extension of service into areas which are now without telephones.

Melting Point of Lead, Tin

Lead melts at 327 degrees centigrade or 621 degrees Fahrenheit. Tin melts at 232 degrees centigrade or 450 degrees Fahrenheit. Solder alloys may be classified as "hard solder" if they melt above red heat, and as "soft solder" when they melt at lower temperatures. The melting point of a solder should be lower than that of the metal on which it is used.

21-Inch Man Is Tribal Giant

The highest recorded stature of a race is 71.62 inches for males of the Sara tribe of the upper Nile region in North Africa.

New York . . . Although the telephone is now sixty-two years old, more than two-thirds of the telephone plant in service in this country has been built since the Great War.

* * *

Delhi . . . That Delhi, India, is rapidly becoming more telephone-minded is borne out by reports that over 400 new subscriber lines were added during 1937, which necessitated the transfer of some lines to the Connaught Place system. The two existing Delhi exchanges, Lothian Road and New Delhi, are already overloaded due to the ever-increasing demand for service, and the third exchange at Connaught Circus, which is designed to care for 5,000 lines, will accordingly be increased to facilitate an additional 5,000, according to the American Trade Commissioner at Calcutta.

* * *

Baltimore . . . When a Baltimore, Md., plumber mailed an advertisement to 300 customers recently, he expected a large number of replies from the self-addressed postal card which he enclosed. None of the postal cards was returned, but he did receive twenty-three orders, to the amount of $1,400 from the advertisements. They came by telephone. He had placed his telephone number on the return postal card.

MEN AND WOMEN VOTERS OF MARYLAND

Don't Turn Maryland Over To The C.I.O.

DON'T NOMINATE FOR THE SENATE A MAN WHO IS UNDER OBLIGATION TO, AND SUPPORTED BY A RADICAL LABOR ORGANIZATION.

The C. I. O. is an organization originally formed among United Mine Workers of America, including Maryland miners.

John L. Lewis, a former coal miner of Pennsylvania and a Republican, is the President of the C. I. O.

Walter Nicholas Polakov, a Russian, is the second in command of the C. I. O.

A report recently submitted to a Senate Committee investigating the C. I. O. showed that a large number of the workers and organizers of the C. I. O. are Communists.

Maryland has had enough experience with the C. I. O., notably in the Seafood and Canning industries on the Eastern Shore; Shipping interests in Baltimore; and the Manufacturing centers throughout the State.

What would happen to our Business Men and Working Men, Farmers and Dairymen, our Seafood Canners and our Packers if the C. I. O. dominated the State?

In Cumberland the C. I. O. recently endeavored unsuccessfully to get control of the City Government.

The C. I. O., through its officers and workers and official publications, is actively financing and working for the nomination of David J. Lewis to the United States Senate.
