ARRANGEMENTS are being made for a mass meeting at Chestertown for the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, October 26, at which the State candidates will be present. Full particulars of the meeting will be given later.

THE announcement in Thursday's papers of the engagement of President Woodrow Wilson to Mrs. Galt, of Washington, came as a great surprise to the people of the United States, but the entire nation accepts it with favor, and hopes the President and Mrs. Galt much happiness.

THE Republicans are laying great stress upon Democratic differences to elect their State and county tickets this fall. For this reason, therefore, if there is any difference in the Democratic ranks, it should be promptly swept aside, and all Democrats, of every faction in the county and State, should get together and organize to accomplish a complete Democratic victory.

CANDIDATES NOTIFIED.

Large Gathering of Democrats at the Meeting.

The State candidates, Emerson C. Harrington, Albert C. Ritchie and Hugh A. McMullen, were notified of their nomination for Governor, Attorney General and Comptroller, at a large gathering of Democrats at the Rennart Hotel Monday.

The Baltimore Sun, in referring to the meeting and to Mr. Harrington's speech of acceptance, says editorially:

Notifying candidates of their nomination is a pure formality, more or less useless, at which little is usually expected beyond gushing gratitude for the "honor and responsibility," florid laudation of the party and honeyed appeals for loyalty thereto.

But Mr. Harrington utilized Monday's ceremony at the Rennert to reiterate, in words that could not be misunderstood, every pledge made by the party in its platform and every promise made by himself in the primary campnign. If anybody expected any backstepping or evasion by the Democratic candidate they were much mistaken. His ringing words aroused enthusiasm among the large crowd assembled, and his earnest indorsement of President Wilson for a second term was greeted by long-continued applause.

The Democratic party in Maryland—or any other party for that matter—could adopt no better policy for success than Mr. Harrington expressed in these apt words:

"I believe that a plank put in a platform is made to be kept—not broken—and that the surest guaranty of the continuance of our party in power is for our party to keep its faith with the people, to live fully up in spirit and letter to its platform pledges, and to go beyond, not fall below, the expectations of those who entrust us with power."

Not alone the party's duty to fulfill grudgingly the letter of a promise to the people, but to exceed the expectations of those to whom the promise was made, is Mr. Harrington's ideal, and it would be hard to better express party responsibility and obligation.

No mere words these, for even if Mr. Harrington's good faith could be doubted, he and his party have given guarantees for it in the personnel of the Economy and Efficiency Commission, the findings and recommendations of which the Democratic candidate expressly and forcibly pledged himself to support.

No less clear and satisfactory were Mr. Harrington's references to other matters of particular interest to Baltimore. He said:

"I am in favor of the full measure of home rule for Baltimore city and in favor of Baltimore city's settling its own controversy with the Pennsylvania Railroad."

And continuing he made the following admirable promise:

"And I want to go one step further. If the appointment of the Police Commissioners and Liquor License Board shall remain in the hands of the Governor of the State, I want to say in language as emphatic as I can bring to my command that the Police Board and Liquor License Board of Baltimore city will be under the domination and control of no man, I care not who he is. Of one thing the people of our State may be assured—and he who thinks otherwise does not yet know me, . . . the Police Board of Baltimore city and the Liquor License Board shall be men of such distinguished ability, independence and integrity that they will do neither my bidding nor the bidding of any man. . . . I think the police force and the Liquor License Board ought to be kept out of politics. . . ."

On the annexation question Mr. Harrington was less specific than we might have hoped, and yet he not only went as far as he had ever gone, but rather farther, and as he expressed it did not close the door of hope to even the most radical annexationist. He favored the control of its harbor by Baltimore, and any further annexation he said would be up to the Legislature. By inference he would not attempt to defeat any fair measure that it might enact, and he declared that he had made no promise of any kind on the subject other than that contained in the platform.

Altogether Mr. Harrington's speech was admirable in its tone, its evident sincerity, its definiteness, and in its expression of high ideals of public service.

CLARK PREDICTS WILSON IN 1916.

Sure People Won't "Drop Pilot Overboard While Storm Whips Waters."

STANDS BY TARIFE LAW.

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 2.—Champ Clark, Speaker of the House of Representatives, in a speech at the Democratic State banquet here last night, reviewed the legislative record of the Democratic party and expressed confidence in the verdict of the voters in the election of 1916.

He said in part: "To millions of voters the present political situation is entirely novel. At every Presidential election since 1896 the Republicans have held the Federal Government and the Democrats were fighting to wrest it from their iron grasp. Now all this is changed—and, as we believe, changed for the better.

"For years those who love us not asserted that Democrats were a party of negation, that we did not have sense enough to legislate. Unfortunately for the country a majority of the people believed their gibberish for a long, long long time. We wandered in the wilderness as long as did Moses, but at last the scales fell from the people's eyes and they concluded to entrust us with power once more.

STANDS BY TARIFF LAW.

"What happened: In two brief years we placed on the statute books more constructive legislation of the most highly beneficial character than the Republicans enacted in two decades—legislation so good that in addition to Democratic votes, nearly all the progressives and a large per cent. of the regular Republicans voted for our great constructive measures.

"We passed a great tariff bill—the greatest ever placed upon the statute books. It contains many excellent changes from the Payne-Aldrich-Smoot monstrosity and it contains one new feature that would make it the best of all the tariff bills even if the rest of it were as bad as the last Republican tariff bill, which most emphatically it is not. That new feature is the income tax. I make bold to predict that the income tax provision never will be repealed, no matter what party gets hold of the law-making power.

"The people seem to have absolute confidence in the pilot of the ship of State—Woodrow Wilson—and are not likely to drop him overboard in mid-ocean while the storm whips the waters into fury. He did his duty, the Democratic House did its duty, the Democratic Senate did its duty. We submit that we deserve well of the Republic—all of us. Having discharged our duty and been faithful to our trust—the people will assume that we will do our duty and be faithful even to the end."

WHEN PRESIDENT WILSON AND HIS CABINET PRAYED.

Kneeling, They Asked God's Help When Nation Faced Crisis—Bishop Anderson Describes Scene.

[By the Associated Press.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 2.—How President Wilson went down on his knees and led his Cabinet in prayer at a recent meeting was told here yesterday by Bishop William F. Anderson, of Cincinnati, at a session of the Indiana Methodist Episcopal Conference.

"When the President arrived at the Cabinet meeting," said Bishop Anderson, "his face wore a solemn look. It was evident that serious affairs of the nation were on his mind. He said to the Cabinet members, 'I don't know whether you men believe in prayer or not. I do. Let us pray and ask the help of God.'

"And right there the President of the United States fell upon his knees and the members of the Cabinet did the same, and the President offered a prayer to God. While the war rages in Europe we in this country should thank God that in this crisis of the world we have a Chief Executive who is a servant of God and who stands with his hand in the hand of God. Every minister in the land should, every time he offers a prayer, take Woodrow Wilson by the hand and lead him into the presence of God and ask that he be given strength to continue to be great apostle of peace among men."

FIRED HOUSE FOR REVENGE.

Origin of Burning of Costello Home Explained.

TWO FIRES AT NEW BUNGALOW LAST WEEK RESULTED IN ARREST OF THE GUILTY PARTY.

Twice last Tuesday was the handsom-bungalow at Worton Manor Beach, thae Mr. A. M. Culp is building for Mrs. Nant nie Costello, and which is said to be the most beautiful house in Kent county, discovered to be on fire, but both times the fire was put out before it had done a great deal of damage.

The previous building, on the same site, was burned to the ground last January, and the fire marshal was here investigating the origin of the fire, but was unable to secure any clue that would lead to the arrest of any one.

These two fires in quick succession in the new building, following the one above, led to the arrest of James Washington, a fourteen-year-old colored boy, who had been seen hanging around the new building, by State's Attorney H. W. Vickers and Deputy Fire Marshal Famous last Saturday morning. State's Attorney Vickers was notified last Wednesday of the two fires at the Costello home and he immediately set out to find the guilty party, enlisting the aid of the deputy, who arrived here Friday.

After a rigid cross examination the boy admitted that he set fire to the house that was destroyed last January and also had fired the new house twice last Tuesday.

Washington said that Mrs. Costello had whipped him last January and that he had made up his mind to "get even." The case will be tried during the October term of court.

AUTOS CRASH AT THE FOOT OF DAVIS' HILL

Nobody Injured, But Machines Somewhat Damaged.

The automobiles of Mr. Owen C. Smith and an unknown party crashed at the foot of Davis' Hill near Galena, last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Smith was accompained by Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Satterfield and the former's parents, Capt. and Mrs. Frank N. Satterfield, of Rock Hall. In an interview with Mr. Charles N. Sattrrfield, he said that they were accending Davis' Hill at a slow rate of speed and keeping sharply to the right of the road in order to avoid any possible accident, when the other car, coming in the opposite direction, and in the middle of the road, forced them off the cement road, which was a drop of several inches, their rear wheel striking the front wheel of the other car, causing the car to slide and damaging it slightly.

Mr. Smith's machine was considerably damaged, but none of the occupants injured in either car. Several autoists from Chestertswn arrived upon the scene of the accident and rendered valuable assistance to Mr. Smith, the party arriving in town at 7.30 P. M.

Mr. Satterfieid's statement completely exonerates Mr. Smith from any blame in the accident.

A Sad Case.

The following letter has been sent to us for publication, and we gladly publish it:

Portland, Maine, Sept. 29, 1915.

TO THE EDITORS—

There may probably come to locate with the people of your city a man by the name of Herman R. Hall, who is 39 years of age, medium height, black hair and grey eyes, weight about 156 lbs., and would probably have with him a Danish woman, a perfect blonde, height five feet six inches, weight about 112 lbs., and whom no doubt he would introduce as his wife or a relationship. I, his wife, am a resident of Portland, Maine. My husband, who is also the father of my six-year-old daughter, deserted us on August 26th. He has been a very successful dentist in this city, a man who is very capable in his profession, and who no doubt will prove himself very efficient in any city in which he might want to locate. I am without the necessary funds to instigate a personal search for him, and am taking this method to let the general public know that he is neither divorced or separated (only by his own desertion) from the woman that is his lawful wife, and who has used every effort to take care of the sacredness of her marriage vows. The woman presumably with him is in no way related to either one of our families.

I will thank you very kindly if you can allow me the space to publish this where it will get the attention of the people who really care about their citizenship.

Yours very truly,
MRS. SARAH K. HALL,
37 Deering St., Portland, Me.
