No. 2165 Value

It is very important to have the proper dress shoes, but it is no less important to provide yourself with good shoes for every-day wear. The shoe illustrated above is an exceptionally good value at the price. Same style in russett is No. 4142. These shoes look well, feel well and "stand the bangs" of service.

LOCAL MATTERS

Good Game Booked For Tonight.—The strong Ursinus basketball team will meet the local Collegians on the W. C. floor tonight. This college always sends a strong aggregation here and a great game is looked for. The W. C. boys have a fine aggregation, which will make the northern college hustle to score a victory over them.

To Start Big Incubators Tuesday.—Messrs. W. H. Truslow & Son advertise in this issue that they will start their big incubators next Tuesday, February 4. The eggs must be at the farm on Monday. The compartments of the incubators hold 150 and 200 eggs respectively and not less than that number will be taken. This firm has first-class incubators and has had a great many years of experience. They do satisfactory hatching as a consequence.

Big Sale At H. Sachs & Son.—The big inventory sale at H. Sachs & Son's of Chestertown began yesterday, Friday. This progressive firm's big sale is eagerly looked for every year by the Kent county people who are on the look-out for bargains. This firm is one of the most reliable in Kent County and shoppers can doubtless secure some rare bargains there. See their full-page adv. on page 2 of The Transcript.

W. C. Wins.—The Washington College basketball team defeated the quintet representing the Cape May Air Station Saturday night by the score of 25 to 18. Capt. Lankford starred for W. C., caging 6 goals, while Forward Carl, of the Cape May aggregation, kept the score fairly close by his success at caging fouls, getting 14 out of 18 shots. W. C. has a fine team and the club that wins from them will have to hustle.

Wedding Announcement.—Mrs. Geo. Beck announces the engagement of her daughter, Violet Ringgold, to Mr. Samuel C. Emory. The wedding will take place very quietly at St. Paul's Church on Saturday, Feb. 8, at 2 p. m. No cards.

Burned To Death.—Henrietta Hynson, a young colored woman about 22 years old, and daughter of Richard Hynson, was so badly burned on Jan. 12 by her clothes coming in contact with a red hot stove, and being ignited, that she died a few days afterward.

Grain Elevator For Kennedyville.—Mr. James G. Metcalfe, a grain buyer of Chestertown, will have a grain elevator erected at Kennedyville in the near future that will hold about 20,000 bushels, which will be located on a railroad siding, with scales which will weigh as high as carload lots. Mr. Metcalfe will continue to maintain his office here. Kennedyville and the farmers in that neighborhood will be greatly benefitted by this new structure.

Automobile Club Meets.—At a meeting of the Kent County Automobile Club held Monday evening last the following officers were elected: Allan A. Harris, president; Mr. Alexander Wilson, 1st V. P.; Wm. E. Clendaniel, 2d V. P., Conlyn Noland, 3d V. P., and Howard F. Owens, 4th V. P.; J. H. Sides, Sec.; J. G. Beck, Treas.; W. B. Copper, Dr. H. C. Hughes and A. L. Sparks were appointed a Board of Governors. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the annual meet and banquet which will be held in February.

Making Arrangements For Firemen's Benefit.—The Volunteer Firemen of Chestertown held a meeting Monday evening, which was largely attended. The following committees were appointed: A committee to confer with the Choral Club; a committee to confer with the High School and a committee to arrange an entertainment and supper—all of which will be for the benefit of the company. Many of the firemen's coats and boots are out, and the company requests us to announce that they should all be brought in as soon as possible.

LOCAL ITEMS OF INTEREST

—The paper mill closed this week for some repairs.

—The ducking season closed in this county yesterday, Friday.

—H. F. Jefferson & Bro. advertise their annual White Goods Sale for next week.

—Mr. Charles Brown, Sr., has been appointed night watchman at Washington College.

—The price of butter took a decided tumble in Chestertown during the past two weeks.

—Mr. J. Thomas Smith, the well-known Rich Neck farmer, has 180 acres in wheat this year.

—Don't forget Mr. S. G. Caldwell's big sale next Monday, Feb. 3. This will be one of the largest sales of the season.

—Mr. William Faulkner resigned his position with Mr. W. W. Hubbard on Thursday and has gone into the auto business.

—Mr. W. H. Christoe, special representative, is in town assisting County Agent Burrell in the organization of boys clubs.

—Contractor Frank E. Duyer is erecting a large and convenient barn for Mr. Walter Wright on his farm near Chestertown.

—We received the 31st annual report of the Maryland State College of Agriculture this week. The College is in a prosperous condition.

—A big supper and a series of concerts will be held in the near future by the Chestertown volunteer Fire Co. to raise funds for the company.

—Mr. E. F. Coleman has been appointed keeper of the Crumpton Bridge by the Kent County Commissioners in place of Mr. J. H. Coleman.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Reed have purchased from Mr. L. Bates Russell the dwelling property adjoining the home of Walter U. Lusby, on High St.

—Mr. Fred S. Russell has accepted the agency for the Buick automobiles in Kent county. Mr. Russell is a hustler and should make quite a success of it —Chicken raisers should begin to get their breeding pens separated and prepare for an early hatch this year. They will have early layers next fall if they do.

—An interesting article appeared in the Baltimore Sun of last Sunday written by Mr. J. M. Cain, oldest son of Dr. and Mrs. James W. Cain, formerly of this town. He is in France.

—Mr. John N. Bennett has sold his interest in the automobile business conducted by Turner & Bennett, to his partner, Mr. A. S. Turner, and has retired from the firm.

—Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Simmons entertained the directors and officers of the Peoples Bank at their annual dinner on Wednesday. A sumptuous repast was served.

—The continued mild weather has started many Kent farmers to plowing. Mr. E. R. Anthony, the progressive Queen Annes trucker, is the first one we have noticed in this section.

—The H. L. Boyd Insurance Agency in Chestertown has been purchased by Messrs. Durding & Satterfield. This firm is composed of T. B. Durding, of Rock Hall, and Charles N. Satterfield, of Chestertown.

—Mr. R. Snowden Thomas, one of Kent's leading breeders of Rhode Island Reds, received a letter from Australia this week inquiring about a cockerel. Mr. Thomas receives inquiries from all parts of the world regarding his chickens.

—Now that national prohibition is just around the corner, Kent countians who have followed with interest the long drawn out battle between the wets and the drys are wondering just what steps will be taken to pass legislation calculated to enforce the law, after it becomes effective.

—Rock Hall grange will hold a meeting Friday evening, Feb. 7, at 7.30 p. m. in Rock Hall High School building. All members are requested to be present as there is important business to be attended to at that time.

—Messrs. W. Irving Walker and William T. Duyer saw the largest flock of swan go over Mr. Walker's property on Wednesday that have been seen up the Chester River in many years. They estimated the number at around ninety.

—Harry Moffit, a trapper, of near Townsend, claims the distinction of having caught a muskrat and a mink in a trap at the same time. His only explanation is that both animals made a grab for the bait at the same instant.

—Mr. Frank Hurlock will move his store to the Carmine building on High street next week. The store has been thoroughly painted and repaired inside and will make a splendid stand for Mr. Hurlock. The store will be open to the public on Saturday next, Feb. 8. Look for big bargains.

—Kent County has the prize hog raiser of Maryland in Master James Hadaway, of near Rock Hall. On May 10 he secured a shote weighing 49 lbs., which on Nov. 10 tipped the scales at 458 lbs. He has been awarded the prize of a $50 Liberty Bond offered by the state and $20 offered by Kent Co.

—A friend inquired the other day what had become of the kind of countryman who used to blow out the gas when he went to the city? Latest reports from him is that he lives in a house with all the conveniences of the city and has his own motor to come and go to the city at will.

—Mr. George Chaires found a big raccoon in a hollow tree the other day. But when he returned with a weapon the animal had departed. Raccoons are plentiful in Tolchester Swamps. We understand a colored man has killed ten there this season.

—Mr. Lemuel Powell, of Queen Annes, near Chestertown, a well-known weather prophet of this section, says that we will begin having bitter weather about the second week in February, which will continue until late in the spring. Mr. Powell predicted the hard winter last year.

—Officer Cooper purchased a pair of nice-looking rabbit dogs from Mr. Charles Johnson this week. Officer Cooper is a great lover of rabbit hunting and expects to be in for the fun next year when the season opens.

—Dr. Charles F. Smith has purchased a beautiful American eagle from a Chestertown young man. This bird was mounted by Dr. A. S. Hall and will adorn the dental parlors of Dr. Smith at Salisbury.

—Mr. J. J. Scott, chief clerk of the railway mail service, will be in Chestertown on Tuesday next, Feb. 4, to investigate the advisability of restoring a mail clerk on the Chestertown-Massey railroad. This service was abolished about a year ago.

—Kent county is not to passively accept the sacrifices made by her sons in the army and navy during the great world war. While complete plans have not been formulated, it is certain that the citizens of the county will participate in a mammoth welcoming event for the returning soldiers and sailors.

—Breadstuffs constituted the principal item in American exports during 1918 with a value of $801,497,730, compared with a value in 1917 of $631,988,510. Exports of meat and dairy products combined were valued at $941,240,883, against $437,449,572 the previous year. Cotton products exported in 1918 were valued at $674,122,790 against $575,303,782 in 1917. Exports of mineral oil were valued at $344,290,444 in 1918, compared with $252,977,476 in 1917.
