A thoughtful person suggests that everyone before going boat-riding should leave his name, address, and a brief sketch of his life at the nearest newspaper office—not necessarily for publication, but as an evidence of good faith and to save the coroner trouble.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Little girl of eight: "I heard them say that after the divorce ma would marry M. Ernest, that gentleman who always gives us candy."

Little boy of ten, with the gloomy cynicism of his greater age: "And he won't give us candy then!"

"When you were last here," said the Magistrate to the prisoner, "you promised me that if I released you you would go to work. Why haven't you kept your word?"

What they don't know about music and musical criticism out in Cincinnati would take a conscientious student a good while to learn. But he never listened to Bach's Passion Music."—N. Y. Com. Adv.

"Mother," remarked a Duluth girl, "I think Harry must be going to propose to me."

"Why so, my daughter?" queried the old lady, laying down her spectacles, while her face beamed like a moon on its fourteenth night.

"Well, he asked me this evening if I wasn't tired living with such a menagerie as you and dad."

A certain lawyer who was also a Sunday school teacher, was endeavoring to inculcate into his pupils' minds the necessity of a firm belief in things spiritual, when one of the class, with open-eyed astonishment, exclaimed:

"Why, Mr. Brown, I heard you tell a witness in court the other day that you didn't care what he believed. All you cared about was what he knew."

A lady whose husband was the champion snorer of the community in which they resided confided to a female friend the following painful intelligence:

"My life has not been one of unalloyed delight. I have had the measles, the chicken-pox, the colera, the typhoid fever and inflammatory rheumatism, but I never knew what real misfortune was until I married a burglar-alarm."

TOLD IN HIS OWN WAY.

Uncle Mose's Testimony in the Celebrated Trial of Bob Tompkins.

From Texas Siftings.

A colored man named Bob Tompkins was on trial last week before an Austin justice for assault. Old Uncle Mose was one of the leading witnesses for the State. The main point was whether or not Tompkins had given any provocation to bring on the row.

"Now, tell this jury all you know about the affair," said the justice.

"Kin I tell de jury all I knows in my own way," asked old Mose.

"Yes, tell the jury what you know in your own way."

Old Mose turned solumly to the expectant jurymen:

"Gem'mens ob de jury, you am de meanest lookin' crowd eber I seed—"

"Stop!" bawled the attorney for the State.

"Your Honor will incarcerate the witness for contempt of court!" howled the attorney for the prisoner.

The foreman of the jury got up and asked the court to protect the jury from insult.

"Witness, if you insult the jury again I shall certainly resort to extreme measures."

"I'm not gwine ter consult nobody ef you don't interfere wid me," said old Uncle Mose, sullenly.

"Proceed."

"Gem'mens ob de jury, you am de meanest-lookin' crowd eber I seed outside ob a jail—"

The prosecuting attorney jumped up and down. The foreman of the jury once more howled "Your Honor!" The constable laid his heavy hand on the collar of old Mose, when the latter calmly repeated to the jury:

"You am de meanest-looking crowd eber I seed outside ob a jail. Dem was de berry words de prisoner dar used when he fust come inter de barrom, and which led to de row."

The foreman sat down quick. The attorneys doubled up like jacknives with suppressed laughter. His Honor smiled. The spectators roared; while old Mose, with a surprised look of childish innocence, once more said emphatically to the cowed jurymen:

"You am de meanest-lookin' crowd eber I seed outside ob de jail."

How to Cross-Examine.

'You say you know Mr. Smith? You are willing to swear that you know him?'

'Yes, sir.'

'You mean that you are acquainted with him?'

'Yes, sir, acquainted with him.'

'Oh, you don't know him; you are merely acquainted with him. Remember that you are on oath, sir. Now, be careful. You don't mean to tell the Court that you know all about Mr. Smith, everything that he ever did?"

'No, I suppose—'

'Never mind what you suppose. Please answer my question. Do you or do you not know everything that Mr. Smith ever did?'

'No, I—'

'That'll do, sir. No, you do not. Very good. So you are not acquainted with all his acts?'

'Of course—'

'Stop there. Are you, or are you not?'

'No.'

'That is to say, you are not so well acquainted with him as you thought you were?'

'Possibly not.'

'Just so. Now we begin to understand each other. If you don't know anything about Mr. Smith's acts when you are not with him, you can't swear that you know him, can you?'

'If you put it In that way—'

'Come, sir, don't seek to evade my question. I'll put it to you again. When you say you know Mr. Smith, you don't mean to say you know everything he does?'

'No, sir; of course not.'

'Just so; of course not. Then you were not quite correct when you said you knew Mr. Smith?'

'No, sir.'

'In point of fact you don't know Mr. Smith?'

'No, sir.'

'Ah, I thought so. That'll do, sir. You can step down.'

In the Ark.

From the Boston Transcript.

"Draw near thine ear, I pray thee," said Noah, as he sat smoking his good clay pipe by the fire, after having fed the animals their evening meal and shaken up their bedding.

"What would my lord!" replied Mrs. N., drawing near her ear as commanded.

Noah smoked in silence for the space of a minute or two, and then opened his mouth and spoke as follows:

"I perceive by the indications, mother, that the storm which was central over the Euphrates will move westerly to the Nile Valley on the ...low, with areas of low barometer and ...sterly winds, and showery weather on ... coast. I have been moved, there...

...or N. Fremont St., Baltimore
During the war I was injured in the stomach by a piece of a shell, and have suffered from it ever since. About four years ago it brought on paralysis, which kept me in bed six months, and the best doctors in the city said I could not live. I suffered fearfully from indigestion, and for over two years could not eat solid food and for a large portion of the time was unable to retain even liquid nourishment. I tried Brown's Iron Bitters and now after taking two bottles I am able to get up and go around and am rapidly improving.
G. DECKER.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is a complete and sure remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Weakness and all diseases requiring a true, reliable, non-alcoholic tonic. It enriches the blood, gives new life to the muscles and tone to the nerves.

A combination of Protoxide of Iron, Peruvian Bark and Phosphorus in a palatable form. The only preparation of iron that will not blacken the teeth, so characteristic of other iron preparations.

GENTLEMEN: I have used DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC in my practice, and in an experience of twenty-five years in medicine, have never found anything to give the results that DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC does. In many cases of Nervous Prostration, Female Diseases, Dyspepsia, and an impoverished condition of the blood, this peerless remedy, has in my hands, made some wonderful cures. Cases that have baffled some of our most eminent physicians, have yielded to this great and incomparable remedy. I prescribe it in preference to any Iron preparation made. In fact, such a compound as DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC is a necessity in my practice. DR. ROBERT SAMUELS,
