REMANUFACTURED MOTOR CARS

A New Method of Rebuilding Your Car Completely at the Lowest Charge Ever Dreamed of

Not simply overhauled, but Remanufactured in a new and up-to-date way, by skilled mechanics. Every little part is carefully attended to in order to give you the additional service you least expected your car to give.

Stop in to-day and have your car looked over. There is no charge for our inspection, and let us prove to you the extra service you will get by having your car go through the routine of the most complete machine shop in this section.

Kent Motor Company

Established Remanufacturers of Motor Cars

Kennedyville Maryland

GALENA

Rev. Geo. E. Sterling attended a conference in Chicago last week. He arrived home Sunday and is now confined to his room with a severe cold.

Miss Elizabeth Jarman has resigned her position in the Galena Bank.

Mrs. Theodore Dempsey is still very ill at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnard Jones, of Wilmington, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Caldwell.

Miss Anna Vansant was home part of last week.

Misses Mary and Marian Caldwell were home for the week-end from W. C. I., Dover, Del.

Mrs. N. V. Walters has been very sick for a few days.

Dr. J. W. Latimer is very much worse at this writing. He has been sick for several months.

The fourth quarterly conference was held here Wednesday at 10.30 a. m. Dr. Wise, Dist. Supt., was present. A full board was in attendance.

—Grasping the socket of an electric light globe, which had been giving poor service, in an effort, it is believed, to put it right, Leroy W. Allen, 29 years old, a prominent business man of Seaford, Del., was electrocuted Tuesday night in his garage, where he was working on an auto.

OPEN 7.30 A. M.

HARRY F. JEFFERSON

Chestertown, Maryland

CLOSE 6.00 P. M.

We have just finished taking stock of our shoes and have made a great REDUCTION in prices. We are still holding up our Policy---

"Better Merchandise for Less Money"

Some of Women's Brown Kid Oxfords, invisible eyelets, making a fine growing girl or womens walking shoe, at - - - - - - - 5.00

Children's soft soles; first steps in black and brown, at - - - - - - - - 75c

A Misses' All Leather Shoe, brown and black, sizes 11½ to 2; Excellent for School or Dress wear - - - - - - - - - - 3.50

Discontinued numbers, valued up to $15; pick your choice for only - - - - - 1.98

Underwear Department

We have an exceedingly large stock of winter Underwear which we must dispose of at once, all sizes.

$5.00 Union Suits, now - $1.98

$2.50 Union Suits, now - - .98

$1.50 Single Garment, now - - .59

Just received a large shipment of Spring Munsen Wear.

Millinery Department

We are having daily shipments of the most beautiful hats we have ever displayed.

The pattern hats from Gage, Fiske & Lazarous are the most exclusive.

COME TRY THEM ON—YOU WILL LIKE THEM

Watch Us Grow

WASHINGTON COLLEGE

The Glee Club and the Dramatic Association combined their efforts to give the people of Chestertown a night of wholesome entertainment on Tuesday, Feb. 28. The Glee Club topped the bill and served the audience with an excelelnt musical program. There were solos and songs sung by the whole club. The program was as follows: "Oh! Who Will O'er the Downs So Free," R. L. DePearsall, sung by the Glee Club; solo, "Smilin' Through," Arthur Penn, by Miss Dorothy Shriver; instrument duet by Miss Helen B. Rasin and Mr. Robert Pippin; solo, "Just Awearing For You," Carrie J. Bonds, by E. H. Lewis; "The Goslings," J. Frederick Bridges, by the Glee Club; vocal duet, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," A. M. Tate, was presented by Messrs. W. J. Stenger and C. S. Purnell; select college songs were sung by the Glee Club; solo, "Woodman, Spare That Tree," Ziegfield Follies, was sung by Mr. Preston P. Heck and quartet; "The Monkey and the Chimpanzee," Geo. B. Nevin, was sung by the Glee Club. Then the Dramatic Association came into the spotlight with a one-act farce entitled "An Economical Boomerang," which makes us believe that economy is all right as long as it is practiced by the other fellow. Mr. Alexander Dabbleton, suddenly seized with an economical streak contracted from the recently married Mr. and Mrs. Plover, asks his wife to practice economy. Reluctantly she begins the program with making a skirt. As there was no dummy she persuaded her husband to act as a form. Then started the boomerang on its return journey. Putting on and taking off the skirt gave Mr. Dabbleton no end of trouble. Once he had it on, it had to be pinned up in shape. Pinning in itself was no harm, but the Mrs. took her hubby for a real dummy and used the pins accordingly. With all these vexations the poor Mr. Dabbleton was nearly at his wits end. To make things worse Mr. and Mrs. Plover called at a time when Mr. Dabbleton was posing in his skirt, while his wife left in search for more pins. Seeing them, the economic gentleman makes a dash for the door. But not being able to run in a tight skirt, he falls down and crawls out on his hands and knees. The newly weds think that he has gone crazy and report the matter to the family doctor. The doctor comes and has a long, humorous and exciting dialogue with the maid. Mr. Dabbleton returns and sends the doctor from the room, frightens the maid and falls exhausted in a chair. His wife takes compassion upon him and relieves him of his skirt. Just as things began to clear up the maid comes in and announces that she is going to leave. Now what an admirable opportunity for real economy! We had expected Mr. Dabbleton to be overjoytd. But no, the economical boomerang that he hurled at his wife returned to him with increased force and wounded him terribly, economically. The maid must stay and his wife need bother no more about making her own dresses, that's what dress makers are for, and besides wifey may even have some more money for a new hat too. The cast included C. M. Wingate as Mr. Alexander Dabbleton; Dorothy Shriver as Mrs. Alexander Dabbleton; A. A. Soifer, Mr. Bird Plover; Amie Hickman, Mrs. Bird Plover; G. T. Davis, the doctor; and Rebecca Brown as Maggie, the maid. Then a dance was given in the gymnasium.

Galena Grange

Galena Grange No. 308 held a colonial tea party in the I. O. O. F. Hall Tuesday evening, Feb. 21.

Our lecturer, Mrs. Eva K. McCauley, had prepared a very interesting program for the entertainment of the visitors. Several patriotic songs were sung, solos, recitations and readings were given. These were followed by charades and a musical contest. All were very much enjoyed. At the close of the program refreshments were served.

On Tuesday evening, March 7, the Grange will hold a very important meeting. All members please be present.

PRESS CORRESPONDENT.

KENNEDYVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jones spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Samuel Deshane near Locust Grove.

Mrs. Lula Dukes, of Still Pond, spent Wednesday with her son, Mr. Bruce Dukes and wife.

Service this Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at Grace Presbyterian Church.

Don't forget the entertainment given by the young folks in the school building Friday evening, March 10. Benefit of Grace Presbyterian Church. Come out and help a worthy cause.

Mr. William Grantlin is visiting his brother, Mr. Louis Grantlin, and family.

Mr. Clifford Evans, of Salisbury, spent the week-end with Mr. L. A. Pennington and family.

—The United Auto Stores, a chain store proposition, stock of which was offered in this section some months ago, has been declared bankrupt. The U. S. District Attorney of Pennsylvania says it was "the most gigantic stock-selling swindle unearthed in Pennsylvania in twenty years." Very little of the stock was sold in this section, we understand.

BETTERTON

The Swarthmore Chautauqua was a great success and much enjoyed by both the folks of Betterton and Still Pond. Owing to the improved condition of the roads the assembly hall was filled at each session. Sixty-five guarantors signed for its return next year.

Electric lights have been installed in the high school building and a new stage built in the assembly hall, both adding much to the appearance of the rooms.

The promoters of the new Colonial Hotel spent several days in Betterton the past week.

Lenten services will be held every Wednesday afternoon at 4 p. m. in the Episcopal Church.

A meeting of the high school teachers was held in Betterton on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Brice has organized a mandolin club and has a number of enthusiastic pupils.

The W. F. M. S. held its meeting at the home of Mrs. George Brice. The Ladies Auxiliary held their business meeting Wednesdy afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Crownhart and Messrs. Minor Crownhart and Tilden Myers have returned from Florida, where they have spent the winter.

Mrs. Mattie Tull is spending the week with her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Elzey, in Baltimore.

STILL POND

Miss Florence Kinsey, of Baltimore, is spending several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Kinsey.

Mrs. William Medders has returned home after visiting her daughter, Mrs. Orris Robinson, in Baltimore, also her sister, Mrs. Joseph Davis, in New York.

The missionary anniversary will be held on tomorrow evening. A program is being prepared so come out and enjoy the service.

The regular monthly business and social meeting of the Epworth League will meet on next Friday evening in the Sunday School room. All members and friends are urged to come out.

Mrs. F. B. Harper has returned home after spending last week end with her sister at McDonough, Del.

Members of Friendship Rebekah Lodge are urged to be present at the meeting on Thursday evening of next week to make plans for their anniversary in April.

Mr. Charles Hague has been sick this week.

Mrs. R. D. Moore and children have returned home after visitng her mother in Baltimore.

—Snow Hill's oldest citizen, John J. Hill, died at his residence on Washington Street recently after an illness of several weeks. He was 92 years of age.

©Maryland State Archives, msa_sc6000_35_1-0064.jpg