WIT, HUMOR & WISDOM.

A little boy, who has been used to receiving his elder brother's old toys and old clothes, recently remarked:

'Ma, will I have to marry his widow when he dies?'

'Need a new hat?' he said.

'No, but I will tell you in confidence why I bought it. I want folks to think I'm a Democrat.'—Boston Post.

In the event that one of the fashionable young men of the period should be taken away suddenly in the bloom of his youth, we have prepared the following appropriate epitaph:

'He was better than he looked.'—Ex.

An Iowa farmer bet a new hat that he could cross the railroad track with his team before the train came up. He lost by ten feet. The distance was measured by his heirs.—Detroit Free Press.

The latest advices from Japan report the mikado sick of a peculiar Japanese disease called 'kakake.' One stuttering contributor wonders how he 't-took the kakake.'—Nor. Herald.

'Yes, sir,' said the irate man, 'I got even with that clergyman. I slurred him. Why, I hired one hundred people to attend his church and go to sleep before he had preached five minutes.'—Boston Post.

De shanghigh chicken 'minds me ob certain men dat I'se seed. He crows mighty loud an' brags around 'mong de hens an' young chickens, but when a game rooster comes around he's got business on de udder side ob de fence.—Arkansaw Traveler.

The verdict of the coroner's jury at Tunbridge Wells on the death of a child, was:

'The child was suffocated, but there is no evidence to show that the suffocation was before or after death.'—Medical and Surgical Reporter.

'I reckin it's Vanderbilt hisself,' said an urchin to a group of comrades who gathered around to hear his story of a man who had just been rescued from drowning.

'Why do yer think so?' asked one of them.

'Cos I saw 'im give the feller what hauled 'im out a quarter.'—Brooklyn Eagle.

A visitor at the Percy Yerger mansion, on Austin avenue, remarked, as he caressed little Mollie Yerger: 'She takes after her papa and has got his hair.'

'No,' said the little cherub, 'it's not me that takes after papa and gets his hair. I'ts mamma who does that when he comes home tight.'—Texas Siftings.

Scene on railway platform at Heidelberg. Traveler (to university student)—'Sir, you are crowding; keep back, sir.'

U. S. (fiercely)—Don't you like it? Allow me to tell you that I am at your service at any time and place.'

Traveler (benignantly)—'Ah, indeed; that is very kind of you. Just carry this satchel for me to the hotel.'—Detroit Free Press.

'What do you call them?' asked the small brother of young Brown, who was making a call.

'What do I call them? Why, I should call them beans.'

'There,' said the young brother, turning triumphantly to his sister, 'you said that Mr. Brown didn't know beans, but he does.' And a nine-year-old boy, left the room wearing a twelve-year-old smile.—Rochester Post-Express.

An Austin gentleman who went out hunting near Mount Bonnell was surprised to hear somebody calling out:

'Thieves—scoundrels—lost cause—kept down by Federal bayonets!'

'What in the mischief is that?' asked the hunter.

'It is nobody. There was a lawyer out here a week ago, practicing to take the stump for Ireland, and the echoes haven't been able to calm down yet, but they are much weaker than they were three or four days ago.—Siftings.

An Austin firm sold on credit a pair of boots to a leading citizen, to whose daughter one of the clerks in the store is paying attention. A few days ago the head of the firm said to the clerk:

'You must remind Colonel Soandso about those boots.'

'There is no need of it. He, himself, reminded me of those boots last night without saying a word,' remarked the clerk, as he limped to a box of dry goods, on which he sat down to rest.—Texas Siftings.

'Is it a fact,' asked an Austin young lady of another young lady, 'that you have consented to marry young Spooney and are going to be married right off?'

'Yes, we are engaged.'

'Why he has not got any money, he is ugly and he is dying with consumption; he won't live two months.'

'That is the very reason I marry him. Black is so becoming to me that I ought to have been a widow years and years ago.'—Texas Siftings.

'You musn't touch the top of the baby's head,' said a mother to her little four-year-old child; 'she has a soft spot there that is very tender.'

The youngster gazed at it curiously for a moment, and then asked, 'Do all babies have soft spots on their heads?'

'Yes.'

'Did papa have a soft spot on the top of his head when he was a baby?'

'Yes,' replied the mother with a sigh, 'and he has got it yet.'

And the old man who had overheard the conversation from an adjoining room, sang out:

'Yes, indeed, he has, my dear boy, or he would be a single man to-day.'—Rochester Post Express.

"ROUGH ON RATS."—Clears out rats, mice roaches, flies, ants, bed-bugs, skunks, chipmunks, gophers. 15c. Druggists.

'My father,' said Gilhooly, solemnly, 'was more sensitive to colds than anybody I ever knew. The slightest exposure gave him a cold.'

'That must have been very disagreeable.'

'Indeed it was. He never could sit near a draft for a minute without catching cold. I remember on one occasion he was sitting in the office of a friend, when all at once my father began to sneeze. He insisted that there was a draft in the room. Every effort was made to discover where the draft was, but in vain. The doors and windows were closed and there was no fireplace, but my father kept on sneezing and insisting there must be a draft in the room, and so there was.'

'Where was it?'

'In an envelope on the table, and it was only a little draft for three dollars and forty cents.'—Texas Siftings.

SKINNY MEN.—"Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia, Impotence, Sexual Debility. $1.

A Memphis magistrate had before him one morning last week a young man who at a masked ball the night before had figured as George Washington, to whom, however, his resemblance was so entirely superficial that he became drunk and abusive before the night was over. The magistrate pronounced sentence in the following homely but emphatic language:

'Now if you had got drunk as a private citizen and cussed and ripped around as such I should have fined you five dollars, but inasmuch as you appeared at the masked ball and committed the offense while personating the character of George Washington, the reverned father of his country, I will have to stick you for twenty dollars. I won't have this patrictism business brought into disrepute.'—Memphis Appeal.

SOME ANIMAL STORIES

AN INNOCENT OLD MAN TOLD TO AN UNSUSPECTING EDITOR.

From the Brooklyn Eagle.

'I used to know a lot of stories about animals and things,' said the old man, dropping a Nevada paper and regarding the exchange editor earnestly. 'Some of 'em was quite curus and interestin',' and he leaned back in his chair and joined his finger tips meditatively.

'Animals do some very strange things,' assented the exchange editor.

'Which reminds me of my roan mare,' continued the old man. 'I think that roan mare know'd more'n a hired girl. She had a tail that reached the ground, and you ought to seen that mare catch trout.'

'How did she do it?' asked the exchange editor, brightening up.

'Well, sir, she'd back up to the stream and flip her tail in the water, and out the'd come. Sometimes the air would jest be full o' trout, and the old mare a fishin' and that tail flying around laudin' the biggest fish ye ever seen. Oh, she was old Sagacity! Once a man stood watchin' her and dodgin' the fish, and all of a suddint he referred to one as a speckled beauty. That roan mare jest turned around and kicked his brains out!'

'Served him right!' commented the exchange editor energetically.

'But she died,' sighed the old man.

'How did that happen?'

'The trout fixed it up on her. One day about a gross of 'em got hold of her tail at once and hauled her in. She made it pretty lively for 'em, and when she went under a good many fish came to the surface laughin'.

'How does a fish look when he is laughing?' asked the exchange editor.

'Didn't you ever see a fish laugh? He has to turn on his back to do it,' 'cause the corner of his mouth is turned down. When he flops over they turn up, you see, and that makes him laugh. Them fish that come to the surface was mostly on their backs!'

'Know any more animal stories?' murmured the exchange editor.

'Every hear about our Old Dominion hen? Well, sir, she was on the set for keeps. Couldn't keep her off. Old door-knobs, soda bottles, lamp chimneys, match safes, anything was good enough for her. Finally I put her on three mud turtles, and I hope to die if she didn't hatch out alligators! Yes, sir, three of 'em! One of 'em eat her up, and when we opened him there was the hen settin' on his back teeth, and they'd swelled up so they'd choked him to death!'

'Got her yet?' inquired the exchange editor.

'No, sir,' replied the old man, dismally. 'I lost her in a curus way. She got to feedin' on broken glass and settin' on cartridges. We humored her, until one day the nest of cartridges went off and that ended her. She'd got so thin that the glass in her condensed the rays of the sun and set fire to the powder. I lost a good cow by that explosion.'

'How was that?' asked the exchange editor resting his head on his arms.

'You see, that old cow had been into the family nigh on to forty year, and her horns was decorated with all the gates for miles around. Sometimes we'd find her down in the well, and sometimes we'd find her rootin' around the chimney. The only way we could get her out of church Sunday mornin' was by havin' the fire engine squirt on her, and when we wanted to milk her we used to h'ist her up in a trees and milk her with cork-screws. She was very fond of that hen!' and the old man wiped his eyes.

'Go on!' moaned the exchange editor.

'She was very fond of the hen, and used to bring her old stove-lids and clubs and bootjacks that the neighbers flung at her when she got into their melon patches, for the hen to set onto. Well, when the hen was settin' onto them cartridges the cow was nosin' around, and just before the business blow'd up that cow came for'ard with a couple of old hymn books and a pew door. I suppose she had some new religion in her mind that she wanted hatched out. When the cartridges went off they drove them hymn books clear into her and stove her side out. I didn't know how powerful they was before!'

'That is pretty strong!' conceded the exchange editor.

'Speakin' of strength reminds me of how my old brindle cat used to open clams. She'd sit around and howl until the clam opened his shell to throw an old boot at her, and then she'd stick in her claw and tickle the soles of his feet till he got to sleep and then she'd have him. Clams is a very sagacious bird, too. Ever watch one?'

'Not until he was cooked?' sighed the exchange editor.

'I had one that was right up on himself. The flies and mosquitoes used to bother him when he opened his shell, until he caught a spider and made him weave a web across his mouth and then he was happy. Curl's thing about that clam. After that he used to open himself in the back to feed. Opened on the hinge end so's not to disturb the spider. My darter claimed that he was a young female and hooked up behind, but we all know'd better.'

'Can you show the clam now?' groaned the exchange editor.

'No, sir,' replied the old man, solemnly. 'He came to grief, too. You see, that clam was very fond of rats and he used to sit in front of a rat hole all day long and smell like cheese. We never could get onto how he did it, but he did. There was his sagacity. When the rats came out he'd go for 'em, and I've seen him get eighty to a hundred a day. One day he nipped a stager, and that was the last of him.'

'Make it short,' muttered the exchange editor.

'Yes, sir; well, he got the rat by the tail, and the rat just climbed over and tickled him on the other end. He opened and caught the rat's foot, but of course he lost his grip on the tail. The rat began to scratch him pretty badly, until the clam opened and took in another foot. In that way the rat got all four feet inside the shell.'

'Well, what then?'

'The rest wan't very hard. The rat sprawled around until he got his head and body in. Then he had him.'

'I don't see how,' remonstrated the exchange editor.

'Just here; there wasn't room for 'em both in that shell and the clam had to get out, and out he came.'

'Where did he go?' inquired the exchange editor.

'I don't know,' answered the old man; impressively. 'We never saw him afterward, but I learn that he was seen sittin' around a printin' office pokin' fun at old men who dropped in with items; but I never believed it.'

And as the old gentleman pottered out, the exchange editor rolled up a hard wad of country weeklies and dropped them on the head of the editor-in-chief, who was passing under the window.

"A doubtful friend is worse than a certain enemy," and vice versa a certain friend is infinitely better than a doubtful enemy. Thus Kidney-Wort is an incomparably better friend to the human race than whole catalogues full of doubtful nostrums. It is an unfailing remedy for that tormenting disease piles. It moves the bowels gently and freely, an i thus removes the cause. Do not fail to try it faithfully either in dry or liquid form.

'Has yer got any chillums in dis heah house?' asked Matilda Snowball of an Austin lady to whom she wanted to hire herself as cook and wash lady.

'I have only one child—a little baby.'

'Den I ain't gwine ter hire myself ter no family whar dar am no chillums, or whar de chillums am so small dat all de stealin' and de breakin' ob de dishes am put off on me.'—Texas Siftings.

It Seems to Satisfy

A family want, and I wonder how we ever got along without Parker's Ginger Tonic. It cured me of nervous prostration, and I have used it since for all sorts of complaints in our family. Mrs. Jones, Albany.—Adv.

Oh, My Back!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

Logansport, Ind. Dec. 1, 1880.
For a long time I have been a sufferer from stomach and kidney disease. My appetite was very poor and the very small amount I did eat disagreed with me. I was annoyed very much from non-retention of urine. I tried many remedies with no success, until I used Brown's Iron Bitters. Since I used that my stomach does not bother me any. My appetite is simply immense. My kidney trouble is no more, and my general health is such, that I feel like a new man. After the use of Brown's Iron Bitters for one month, I have gained twenty pounds in weight. C. H. SANGREE.

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

TUTT'S PILLS

A DISORDERED LIVER IS THE BANE

of the present generation. It is for the Cure of this disease and its attendants, SICK-HEADACHE, BILIOUSNESS, DYSPEPSIA, CONSTIPATION, PILES, etc., that TUTT'S PILLS have gained a world-wide reputation. No Remedy has ever been discovered that acts so gently on the digestive organs, giving them vigor to assimilate food. As a natural result, the Nervous System is Braced, the Muscles are Developed, and the Body Robust.

Chills and Fever.

R. RIVAL, a Planter at Bayou Sara, La., says: My plantation is in a malarial district. For several years I could not make half a crop on account of bilious diseases and chills. I was nearly discouraged when I began the use of TUTT'S PILLS. The result was marvelous; my laborers soon became hearty and robust, and I have had no further trouble.

They relieve the engorged Liver, cleanse the Blood from poisonous humors, and cause the bowels to act naturally, without which no one can feel well.

Try this remedy fairly, and you will gain a healthy Digestion, Vigorous Body, Pure Blood, Strong Nerves, and a Sound Liver. Price, 25 Cents. Office, 39 Murray St., N. Y.

Dr. HARTER'S IRON TONIC.

A combination of Protoxide of Iron, Peruvian Bark and Phosphorus in a palatable form. The only preparation of iron that will not blacken the teeth, so characteristic of other iron preparations.

GENTLEMEN: I have used DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC in my practice, and in an experience of twenty-five years in medicine, have never found anything to give the results that DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC does. In many cases of Nervous Prostration, Female Diseases, Dyspepsia, and an impoverished condition of the blood, this peerless remedy, has in my hands, made some wonderful cures. Cases that have baffled some of our most eminent physicians, have yielded to its great and incomparable remedy. I prescribe it in preference to any iron preparation made. In fact, such a compound as DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC is a necessity in my practice. DR. ROBERT SAMUELS,
ST. LOUIS, MO., Nov. 28th, 1881. 310a Wash Avenue.

It gives color to the blood, natural healthful tone to the digestive organs and nervous system, making it applicable to General Debility, Loss of Appetite, Prostration of Vital Powers and Impotence.

HAMILTON EASTER & SONS,
Nos. 199, 201 & 203,
Baltimore Street, Balto.
THE above firm have been Importers, Jobbers and Retailers of Dry Goods for over 50 years. Their present large trade has been built up by fair dealing and selling only such goods as will prove satisfactory to the purchaser and be found of full value for the price paid. The price of every article is marked in plain figures, and the inexperienced buyer pays the same price as those fully acquainted with the value of goods.
Our stock of Silks, Dress Goods, Wraps, Linen Goods, Mourning Fabrics, Hosiery, Gloves and Shawls are entirely of our own Importation.
We have also on hand a very extensive assortment of Domestic Cotton Goods, Flannels, Blankets, Quilts, Comforts, Lace Curtains, Goods for Mens' Wear, &c., &c.
The great extent and variety of our Stock will be apparent in a personal examination, which we solicit from parties reading this advertisement. Shopping by mail is now thoroughly established, and is a source of economy. A single order intrusted to our care cannot fail to establish a satisfactory business. We send samples by mail free of charge; in ordering please state class of goods desired.

FUNERAL DIRECTOR
—AND—
Furnishing UNDERTAKER,
CHESTERTOWN, MD.
CASKETS, Burial Cases, Coffins, Fine Cloth Work, Shrouds, Burial Robes, Merino and Satin Linings, &c., of all descriptions and kinds, and all the requisites of first-class Funeral Furnishings constantly on hand, or furnished at the very lowest prices.
METALIC COFFINS and CASKETS, furnished upon short notice when desired. A full line of SHROUDS and BURIAL ROBES.
Patent Improved
COLD AIR ICE CASKETS for the preservation of the dead; also Embalming Fluids. I have recently introduced a remarkably cheap BLACK CLOTH CASKET, which in appearance is almost equal to the finest. Remember I do not confine myself exclusively to fine and high-priced work, but have an endless variety at medium and low prices.
I have THREE HEARSES, two large ones and one small white one for children and young persons; and with my handsome new Glass Hearse and fine pair of Black Horses, can furnish as fine a Funeral Turnout as can be seen in our large cities. I am constantly adding new features and improvements to my business, in order to keep up with the times; and as there are such changes in style and kind constantly going on, and, as is generally the custom, some friend is called into the embarrassing position of ordering what he supposes may be wanted, it would be much more satisfactory to all concerned to name the price of the article wanted ALWAYS REMEMBER that I guarantee to furnish anything in my line, of the same kind and quality, at lower prices than any other establishment of the kind. Ever grateful for the very liberal patronage heretofore extended me, I respectfully beg a continuance of the same.
Residence second door above my shop.
Respectfully,
Aug10—tf. JOHN N. DODD.
