THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Entered at the Postoffice at Chestertown, Md., as Second Class Matter.

THE State of Georgia is the first state in the United States to honor a woman with a seat in the United States Senate. The governor of that state has appointed Mrs. W. H. Felton to succeed the late U. S. Senator T. E. Watson. Mrs. Felton is 87 years old.

THE appointment of Hon. Thomas J. Keating, of Centreville, to the Associate Judgeship of this circuit to succeed the late lamented Judge P. B. Hopper has been received with favor throughout the circuit. Judge Keating comes from a long family line of lawyers and is regarded as one of the most able attorneys in this circuit. He has enjoyed a large and lucrative practice for many years and is regarded as a man of judicial ability and temperament and will no doubt prove himself to be a satisfactory and just judge. Judge Keating took his seat on the Bench this week at Denton.

THE Democratic campaign for the U. S. Senate and Congress opened this week; the features of the campaign will be: The general welfare above the claims of any particular class or group of American citizens; equal and exact rights to all men and special privileges to none; immunity from all unnecessary invasions of personal liberty; reliance for individual well-being upon individual enterprise and energy, rather than upon government patronage; regulation (but not ownership) of railroads and other public utilities by the state; the strictest degree of public economy consistent with the public necessities; the largest measure of local self-government compatible with a vigorous national authority; an indestructible union of indestructible states; the sane and ordered liberty of America in preference to the iron hand of European absolutism, the deceitful dreams of European Socialism and the wild and blood-guilty phantasies of European or Asiatic Bolshevism.

"If I am elected to the Senate," said Mr. Bruce, "you may rest assured that my entire political conduct will be shaped by a scrupulous measure of respect for these vital working principles."

Farm Sale Recalls Tragedy.

The sale last week of the Maple Lodge farm, near McDaniel, Talbot county, by Alfred L. Tharp, assigne, at one time the home of Captam Thompson, recalls a tragedy which occured here in 1909 that attracted the attention of the entire country.

C. C. Kimball purchased this farm for $9,100, having sold it three years ago for $16,800. The particular interest in this farm is that it was the home at one time of Edith May Thompson Woodill. Her foster parents lived there and she spent much of her childhood days there.

It was while sojourning there in the spring of 1909 that her death occured at the hands of "Lame Bob Eastman, a defaulted stock broker of New York. The victim was better known as Edith May Thompson, a beautiful, talented girl, who had traveled over most of the world, and it was while sojourning in California that she married Mr Woodhill. On a visit back to her foster parents she met Lame Bob, who was hiding from the authorities in New York and had built himself a shabby bungalow on the Edgar farm, near Bozman, directly on Broad creek.

In Easton, one day, she took the B. C. & A. train for her home, and leaving the train at McDaniel, she consented to go in a motor boat to Eastman's bungalow. She was not seen alive after that.

A day or so later the nude body of a woman was discovered by oystermen just beneath the surface of the water, it being held down by a rope tied to an iron pot. The late J. Frank Turner was State's Attorney then, and he immediately began, in his usual vigorous way, an investigation, which resulted in the end in fastening the responsibility for the murder on Eastman.

SPORTS

(Other Sports on page 7)

Chestertown is all agog over the big football game today at Annapolis between Washington College and the St. John's College team. The great difficulty of the public has been in getting to the scene of the game and back the same day. Almost every way under the sun has been suggested—from an airplane to a row boat. It is expected Mr. Fred Poole's house boat will take about forty to the game.

Mr. Joseph Wheatley was one of the officials at last Saturday's game with Charlotte Hall, as was Rev. C. L. Atwater. Both are thoroughly versed in the game.

One more Waterbury boy joined the Washington College football squad on Thursday. Henry Carrington, three-letter man at Crosby High School last season is the man and he is said to be a most likely prospect for honors on diamond, gridiron and basketball oval. He is a fine backstop at baseball, but his best sport is basketball.

With Carroll, Dumschodt, Carrington, Johnston, Laurens, Fiore, and several others to seelct from, Washington College will have one of the best basketball teams in the country.

Washington College football team is all set for the big battle today at Annapolis. Condition counts a good deal in football and W. C. is in fine shape for a great game.
