TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect

ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.

When it was known that royalty was to be present at a charity fair in London, and that any one would have a chance of buying a rose from the Princess of Wales, the response was overwhelming. The great success of the night was for the Princess of Wales. There was such a crush that for a time one could only catch a glimpse of the ladies who had been chosen to assist the Princess, in two large mirrors which hung in and booths at such an incline as to reflect the figures and faces that fitted before them. She wore an exquisite white costume. The short petticoat was a mass of lace and white silk, and the corsage glittered with beads. At the throat was a cherry-colored velvet ribbon sparkling with diamonds, and throwing into relief a diamond necklace. The feathery puffs of light brown hair were ornamented with diamond horseshoes. A correspondent says that no mob could possibly behave worse than this throng of fashionably attired people when it realized that the princess was on duty, and would hand over a rose for anything from a half crown upward. She had to retire for a few minutes while gentlemen besought the people to be less demonstrative and to fall into line.

Grape growing in California pays about as well as any form of agricultural industry, even without discounting the extravagant stories told about the profits of orange culture. The Napa Register tells of a vine grower in Green Valley who has a vineyard comprising only twenty-one acres, but these yielded enough to enable him to ship 100 tons of grapes to a wine cellar in Napa City and 9,000 boxes of 35 pounds each to San Francisco, and still keep on hand ten tons for his own use. The grapes thus shipped by him sold for $20 per ton in Napa City and at two cents per pound in San Francisco, giving him $5,100. The entire cost for growing and selling the fruit was $840, leaving him a net profit of $4,000, or more than $200 an acre. Wheat growing, even with the most successful, could not have paid over $80 an acre. The land that yielded so bountifully could have originally been bought outright for much less than the profits of a single year.

Could some of the elegantly dressed women at the fashionable watering places hear conversation like the following it might not increase the enjoyment of their diamonds and finery: 'Do you see that lady in the white ottoman silk?' a correspondent was asked. 'The one with the shapely figure?' he responded. 'Yes, that's the one; but her shape always seems to me like a certain bottle of bitters. Why? Because her father's fortune came from the manufacture of a constituent of cocktails. Over yonder, in dainty re ll, is the wife of a face powder; going down the hallway are the two daughters of a cough syrup, and the swell who drove past a few minutes ago in a dog cart tandem was the son of a pill.'

LITTLE Harry had been told not to bathe in the mill-pond; but as he was climbing over the fence back of his house he saw other boys in bathing, and the temptation was too much for him. He was careful, however, to keep his head dry, so as not to arouse suspicion when he returned to his mother. But she immediately taxed him with having disobeyed her. 'Why, Mother,' said he, taking off his hat, 'look at my hair; it would be wet if I had been in swimmin'.' 'Yes, my son; but how comes your shirt wrong side out?' 'Oh! why'—faltering, then gleefully—'Oh, I turned that getting over the fence.' 'Oh, you did. Did you? Well, then, one good turn deserves another.' And the wails from little Harry told that he had been turned to a horizontal position.

THEY had a revival down in Indiana recently which ended in old Ben Wilson being made a deacon. Last Sunday old Ben was especially annoyed by young men who during the whole time of service were flirting with his youngest daughter. Their misbehaving was carried to a climax when the regenerated father was praying. Suddenly he felt that he could bear it no longer, and, raising his voice to the highest pitch, he prayed: 'An' now, Lord, hev mercy on the dum idiot with the store clothes on as is winkin' at our Alice, and keep him a-hangin' around the church door when service is over till I can git to him an' put a head on him! Amen.'

JOHN MORANDA was a successful fraudulent hero for a week in Salt Lake City. He carried one arm in a sling, and said that he had hurt it by a fall. Then his confederate, William Naylor, came forward with a thrilling account of having been robbed by highwaymen, who would have murdered him had not Moranda gallantly fought them off. 'He's so modest that he lied about his arm,' Naylor added; 'it is wounded by a bullet. The scoundrels took my last dollar, but as soon as I get a remittance from New York he's got to take his reward.' Both men were lavishly entertained while pretending to wait for the draft, and they found it easy to borrow several hundred dollars before the time came for disappearing.

"I ate some soft-shell Crabs."

This is what Captain Hodgden said when speaking of an unpleasant experience he had on board ship, near Washington. He added: 'The bad effects of which I soon felt.' Then he went on to say that he had severe pain, followed by a terrible attack of dysentery. Those wicked crabs would have been the death of him but for the fact that he always carried Pain Killer on board his vessel. Have Perry Davis's Pain Killer at hand by day and by night for sure relief.

A vigorous old fellow in Maine who had lately buried his fourth wife was accosted by an acquaintance, who, unware of his bereavement, asked: 'How is your wife, Cap'n Plowjogger?' To which the Cap'n replied with a perfectly grave face: 'Waal, to tell ye the trewth, I am kinder out of wives just now.'

 "Every truth has two sides; look at both before committing yourself to either." Kidney-Wort challenges the closest scrutiny of its ingredients and its grand results. It has nothing to fear from truth. Doctors may disagree as to the best methods and remedies, for the cure of constipation and disordered liver and kidneys. But those that have used Kidney-Wort, agree that it is by far the best medicine known. Its action is prompt, thorough and lasting.

A successful strike occurred when the Richmond night express train struck a negro walking on the track who got a glimpse of the locomotive's headlight just before being landed in the woods a dozen or two yards from the road line. His first conscious words were, 'for de Lord's sake, boss, who frow dat lantern at me.'

When a Chicago girl reaches the summit of Mount Washington, and miles of some of the grandest scenery in the world are unfolded to her view, she just gives a little gasp and exclaims, 'It takes the cake!'

WELLS' "ROUGH ON CORNS."—Ask for Wells' "Rough on Corns." 15c. Quick, complete permanent cure. Corns, warts bunions.

THERE is an Oxford graduate in the poorhouse at Newburyport, Mass., and he gives what is called 'a very eloquent and critical lecture on English poetry, making judicious selections and showing wonderful knowledge.'

The Summer Solstice.

Parents would at times give the world, if they could, to find a sure cure for Summer Complaints in children. The famous Dr. Worthington's Cholera and Diarrhoea Medicine is certified to by leading physicians, as an infallible cure for complaints of the stomach and bowels. Price 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

Some one says 'no thoroughly occupied man was ever miserable.' That man evidently didn't know what it is to attempt the feat of keeping twin babies quiet while their mother goes to church.

FLIES AND BUGS.—Flies, roaches, ants, bedbugs, rats, mice, gophers, chipmunks, cleared out by "Rough on Rats." 15c.

A jury in London forbade a woman the administration of her own affairs because of the peculiar bird-like formation of her head, which they believed was an indication of insanity.

SYMONDS'S Corn Solvent, quick, permanent cure for Corns, Bunions and Warts. 25 cents. Druggists.

The first woman to arrive in Carbonate, Col., received an ovation, marked by such substantial tokens of welcome as a town lot, a mining claim, and the money with which to buy a silk dress.

DECLINE OF MAN.—Nervous Weakness, Dyspepsia, Impotence, Sexual Debility, cured by "Wells' Health Renewer." $1.
