A Bright Prospect.

The Transcript has not much space for editorial matter this week, but will take space to remark this fact,—that as the 6th day of November approaches Democratic prospects grow brighter and brighter. Democratic prospects have never been dark since the Hon, Rob't M. McLane was nominated for Governor. But today the outlook is better than it was one week ago, and is still growing brighter. Mr. Holton may put $50,000 in the election, as he is confidently expected to do. But Mr. Holton's individuality will kill more votes than Mr. Holton's money can buy. He has been accused by prominent members of his own party of being the sort of politician that resorts to the worser methods of politics for success. This opinion of him is generally entertained throughout the State, and intelligent people generally regard him as being too small a man morally and intellectually to be Governor of Maryland. When Robert M. McLane and Hart B. Holton stand side by side to be chosen between, the contrast is painfully against Mr. Holton.

The Ten November States.

Ten States will vote on the 6th of November of this year for different local officers. In view of the result of the last election in Ohio, much interest attaches to these approaching contests, from their bearing on the Presidential contest next year.

For comparison with the coming returns, we have taken the very last elections in each State as the fairest expression of the present popular opinion. In every instance this method is favorable to the Democrats, as will be seen by the following figures:

Connecticut voted for Governor in 1882—Democratic majority over Republican, 4,161. Democratic majority over Republican and Temperance combined, 3,127.

Maryland: Congressional election, 1882—Democratic majorities over Republican, 6,210.

Massachusetts: Governor in 1882—Democratic majority over Republican, 13,949. Democratic majority over Republican and prohibitionist combined, 11,812.

Minnesota: Congress in 1882—Republican majorities over Democratic, 40,823.

Mississippi: Congress in 1882—Democratic majority over Republican and Fort Pillow Chalmers, 19,604.

Nebraska: Governor in 1882—Republican over Democrat, 27,070; Republican over Democrat and Anti-Monopolist, 23,172.

New Jersey: Congress in 1882—Democratic over Republican, 2,003.

New York: Governor in 1882—Democratic over Republican, 192,854; Democratic over Republican and Prohibitionist, 167,071.

Pennsylvania: Governor in 1882—Democrat over Republican, 40,202; Republican, Independent Republican, Greenbacker and Prohibitionist over Democrat, 32,733.

Virginia: Congressman at Large in 1882—Coalitionist over Democrat, 5,808; Coalitionist over Democrat and colored Republican, 1,466.

Of these ten States, the Democrats will probably carry Connecticut, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Jersey and New York.

The Republicans will carry Minnesota and Nebraska.

Pennsylvania and Virginia are placed in the doubtful column, with the chances in favor of the Democrats in both of them.

The six States classified as probably Democratic give 82 electoral votes. Add to them Alabama, 10; California, 8; Delaware, 3; Florida, 4; Georgia, 12; Kentucky, 13; Louisiana, 8; Missouri, 16; Nevada, 3; North Carolina, 11; South Carolina, 9; Tennessee, 12; Texas, 13, and West Virginia, 6, and there would be an aggregate of 217, or 16 more than are required to elect a President next year. The 14 electors of Massachusetts could be omitted, and there would still be a surplus of two to spare beyond the 201 votes needed under the last apportionment.

Ohio with 23 votes; Indiana with 15 votes, which gave 11,000 Democratic majority over the Republicans last year; Wisconsin with 11 votes, which sent six Democrats in a delegation of nine to Congress in 1882, and Michigan with 13 votes, which elected a Democratic Governor and a majority of the Congressional delegation in 1882—these States are all omitted from the reckoning, although they might fairly be added to the Democratic column, and will probably swell the Democratic majority in 1884.

These figures are most encouraging to the Democrats, but they must still bear in mind that, to win the Presidency next year, discretion, harmony, union and energy are indispensable elements. They have a powerful enemy to combat, possessing the whole machinery and patronage of the Government, and reckless as to the use of both.

The Republicans stole the Presidency in 1876. They procured it by corruption in 1880. They are prepared for any other desperate enterprise by which the Treasury might be retained in partisan keeping. Vigilance and courage must not be relaxed, even though the road to victory seems broad and clear.

The Republican party must go, and it must go next year.—N. Y. Sun.

Effect of the Civil-Rights Decision.

The first public action since the Supreme Court decided against the constitutionality of the civil-rights law is that taken by Senator Brown, of Georgia, as president of the State road of Georgia and head of the Georgia syndicate. He has announced that the policy he proposes to pursue in respect to persons of both races traveling on the Western and Atlantic Railroad is to provide separate cars for the whites and blacks, with as comfortable accommodation for the colored people paying the same price as that provided for the white. But while making this arrangement, he states that he will be more careful than ever to see that the colored people have their full rights on the trains. The conductors will be ordered neither to permit white people to intrude upon colored nor the latter upon the white. In all other respects they are to be treated alike. In the States east of the Potomac, and probably also in Virginia under the Mahone rule, the intermixing of white and colored people on the trains will, it is to be presumed, be permitted as usual. East of Maryland the colored people form so small a sprinkling of passengers that it would entail a heavy expense upon companies to run separate cars for their exclusive use, and even in Maryland it is just to say that the colored people as a rule have shown themselves to be so well behaved that the whites have no just cause to complain of them. Long before the Supreme Court decision was announced the relations between the two races were being quietly adjusted by mutual though tacit consent. It was a law that had been ignored on both sides, and the only effect of its remaining on the statute books would have been to encourage vexatious litigation.

"FRANCE," says the London World, "is reconstructing her navy, Germany is reorganizing hers, Russia is fast strengthening hers, and Italy is developing a very powerful fleet. All Europe is, in fact, recognizing the necessity of having heavily armored ships, fitted with modern ordnance, and carrying trained crews. Our admiralty are not unconscious of this significant fact, and the constructive programme which is arranged for the next financial year will show that Lorthbrook and his colleagues are also alive to the importance of increased expenditure, rather than retrenchment, in the building of line-of-battle ships."

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. MARBLE WORKS

Chestertown, Md.

ALLOW ME to tender my sincere thanks for the past patronage of the public, and hope to receive their approval and patronage this present year. I am prepared to cut and finish every design in the marble business.

I have a very handsome assortment of my own finished

TOMBSTONES.

Some of the Latest Designs

HANDSOMELY FINISHED,

COPIED FROM THE LATE PARIS EXHIBITION.

A large assortment for children, different patterns, some as low as $8.00, lettering included. Some fifty different patterns for grown persons, handsomely finished, some of them as low as $15.00, lettering included. Also, a fine line of different patterns, expressly for the very thick and heavy and handsomely finished of the best marble.

Marble Posts, marble Vases with Pedestal, Marble Coping, Tombstones and monuments, of all sizes and styles.

Marble & Sandstone worked to order. I warrant all my work not to color or blister—time has no effect on it. I set up all of my work, thus relieving the purchaser of all trouble or risk.

Come one, come all, that are in want, and examine my work and learn my prices. I will be thankful. Don't send the money out of your own neighborhood.

Call and see me. I do not like to can vass for work, for I think it too sad a business to barter with relatives or friends.

My work can be seen in all the cemeteries of Kent and the adjoining counties.
