—Washington College will hold its first annual Eastern Shore Interscholastic Championship Athletic meet at College Field on Saturday, May 27. A full account of the meet will be given next week.

Prof. Waite, poultry expert of the Maryland University, made an interesting address Thursday afternoon before the Rich Neck Farmers Club. Mr. and Mrs. W. Irving Walker entertained Prof. Waite while here.

—Hard heads are biting on the fishing grounds of Chester River. Messrs. W. B. Strong, H. Clay Brown, Capt. Edward W. Emory, E. B. Pennington and Eben F. Perkins made a catch of ten hardheads and two rock this week.

—The Chestertown Farmers' Association will hold its first meeting at the Court House Tuesday evening, May 16, at 8 p. m., for the purpose of buying and selling farm products. All farmers, whether members or not, are requested to be present.

—Weekly production of coal apparently has struck a temporary level a little above the 4,000,000 ton mark, the United States Geological Survey has announced. Early reports for the week ending May 6 indicated that production of coal would aggregate 4,150,000 tons.

—Mr. R. C. Young, the Still Pond merchant, who has been carrying for the past year the Gill Bros. celebrated ice cream, is again ready to serve his patrons along this line. He has recently hung a very attractive sign in front of his store. You can't fail to see it.

—The successful candidates at the election Saturday of Town Commissioners of Rock Hall were John R. Dowling, Jr., J. Robert Lewis, William E. Leary, Wm. C. Francis and Herbert A. Urie. Marion T. Miller had withdrawn his name. The new councilmen are expected to take oath of office next week.

—Mrs. Pearl Hickman, of Perryville, Cecil county, was arrested and taken to the county jail at Elkton last week to await hearing on the charge of being the mother of the infant female child which was found in the Susquehanna river, near the old mill, on the Perry Point Hospital reservation. The body was in the water but a few minutes when discovered.

—The burned district of Pocomoke City has been a scene of unusual activity the past week. The weather, most of the time, has been of the most favorable kind and it is really wonderful what rapid strides have been made in the way of cleaning up the burned section of the town. Several of the lots which a week ago were filled with broken bricks and other debris are now in perfect condition and ready for the workmen to begin the labor of reconstruction.

Lord's Day Alliance

The following letter is being sent out to the people of Kent county and has been handed to us for publication:

Dear Friend.—The Lord's Day, basic to the home, the church and the best moral welfare of the state, is being fiercely attacked by selfish interests that would wrench it from the home and church and give it to sports, amusements and money making.

That the people of our part of the state may help arrest these attempts to commercialize the Lord's Day, there will be held in the Chestertown Methodist Protestant Church at 3 p. m., Wednesday, May 17, a conference of the friends of the Lord's Day. Rev. Dr. S. S. Hepburn and others will speak on the Responsibility of the Home and the Church for Lord's Day Training.

Immediately following this discussion a brief conference of pastors and Sunday School superintendents will be held to outline a plan of campaign.

At 7.30 p. m., the same day, a platform meeting will be held, to be addressed by Dr. E. L. Watson and Dr. W. W. Davis. Every Church, Sunday School and Young People's Society in Kent County and Queen Anne's, adjacent to Kent, are earnetsly requested to send their most active workers to Chestertown the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, May 17.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

Mrs. Adele T. Garrison and two children and Mr. S. A. McGuigan, of Harford county, close friends of Mr. Marion Malcomb, have been the guests of himself and wife at their beautiful home in Morgnec, overlooking the Chester river.

Miss Irene Kirby has taken a position as book-keeper at the Chestertown Ice Plant.

Mrs. J. W. McIntire has been visiting relatives in Baltimore the past week.

Mrs. James Kirby was the guest of relatives in Baltimore last week.

Mrs. T. B. Elliott and daughter, Miss Zoa, were in Baltimore last week.

Mr. Fred Hirons, of Florida, visited his parents here last week.

Mrs. Louis Sheats spent part of last week in Baltimore.

Miss Jeannette Gooding returned last Friday from the hospital.

Mrs. Sallie Hines is visiting her daughter at Chesapeake City.

Mrs. Emma Baker and children were in Philadelphia last week.

Mr. Zay Davis was the week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Davis.

Mrs. Emma Snitcher is quite sick at the home of her daughter.

Miss Nettie Russell is visiting relatives in Baltimore.

Mr. Robert Robinson, formerly of Chestertown, now of Idaho, has been made telephone manager.

Mr. Neal A. Truslow has been made advertising manager and sales promotion man for the Western Cartridge Co., in Alton, Ill.

Mr. John Bell fell on Washington avenue Saturday afternoon and bruised himself considerably.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE

Never in the history of W. C. was there so much athletic activity as there is at present. Baseball practice is held daily. The campus is the scene of foot ball practice. The girls are contributing their share to sports by playing tennis daily. Then, in addition, we now have a nine-hole golf course on the campus which is used daily by professors as well as students. Between half past three o'clock and supper time, after classes, the entire hill takes on the appearance of a busy bee hive, where nearly everyone is actively engaged in some sport. And the scene is really vivifying, for it creates such an atmosphere of activity that one must be truly a drone not to catch the spirit and "get in."

On May 4, during chapel, the student body was addressed by Mr. Hobbs, the editor of the Sunday Sun. He dwelt on the importance of idealism in working, thinking in life.

No less than twenty candidates reported to Prof. Woodman as entrees in the declamation contest to be held during the commencement week. This is no doubt the greatest number that turned out for that contest in the last few years. It remains now to be seen how many of them will hold out and show up for the contest on the appointed day. Both the Adelphia and Mt. Vernon literary societies have elected debating teams which will represent them in the annual debate on June 19. The Adelphia team consists of Messrs. Goodrich and Levy. The Mt. Vernon team is made up of Messrs. Langham, Byron and Knight, alternate.

The Dramatic Association is working hard under the direction of Dr. Gould to produce the commencement play, "Betty's Last Bet." The Glee Club, under the direction of Prof. Howell, is working on a minstrel show, which will be presented some time during commencement week.

GALENA

The farmers of this neighborhood are very busy planting corn. They tell us that grass is growing slow as the nights are so cold.

We were shocked to learn of Mrs. Herbert Caldwell's death last Wednesday, May 3. She was buried in Galena cemtery May 6. She leaves father, mother and sister (Mrs. Lee Gale), husband and two little girls to mourn her loss, which is very sad indeed.

The sale of Mr. Bradford Pierce's property last Saturday was largely attended and both personal and real estate sold very well.

We see quite a few visitors in town this week.

The children's play ground on the old school property is being put in shape very rapidly under the advice and direction of Rev. Geo. Sterling. The children are building great hopes on great pleasures for the future.

Twilight Glory

A man spends himself during the day. Into the cup of his working hours he pours the wine of his life. He comes to the twilight hour less than his full self: his homeward gait gives him away. He is tired; sore, perhaps; defeated. But to come to the twilight hour and miss its glory is half-calamity. "When you come to the end of a perfect day"—Mrs. Jacobs, in her popular song, tells what to do. When you come to the end of a perfect day you might conceivably get on without the crimson and gold of twilight. If ever you could do without the glory it would be at the end of a perfect day. But when you come to the end of an imperfect day, in which you blotched your work or could not finish it or forfeited self-respect or lost your friends; then may God grant the twilight glory. I do not think it would be quite safe to fall asleep without it.—George Clarke Peck.
