PAINT UP
Paint Up

A little money, now, to save the surface, or a lot of money, later, for repairs and replacements—which?

Conservation of property is as sound thrift as putting money in the bank. Don't let your buildings run down.

The man who is going to paint "one of these days" is the man who is going to take out insurance "one of these days." He postpones protection in either case.

INSURE YOUR PROPERTY WITH "ACME QUALITY PAINT."

Our stock of paint is complete for either inside or outside work. Paints, Varnishes, Linseed Oil, Turpentine, etc.

—Centreville will have a B. V. D. factory.

—The State-wide Athletic Meet will be held in Baltimore June 9.

—Mr. A. Mair took a strawberry to Kennedyville recently that measured six inches around it.

—Beginning Saturday, June 3, the Library will be opened from 10 until 1 on Tuesdays and Saturadys.

—Chstertown baseball lovers will have 25-cent baseball this year. Jump in and help the team.

—Mrs. Irene Chilcutt, of Centreville, attempted suicide last week by taking poison.

—It is "berry picking time" in Ridgely and they have a floating population of about 2000.

—The High School Commencement will take place at Washington College on the evening of June 14.

—Mr. J. H. Clendaniel, Jr., has sold two Jewett touring cars and two Commerce trucks during the past week.

—W. T. Keating, county treasurer of Queen Annes, sold 17 pieces of propery for state and county taxes last week.

—Last Tuesday, May 3, was the anniversary of the destructive hail storm that did so much damage in this county last year.

—Noland & Son, Chestertown merchants, are advertising exceptionally low prices on useful articles this week. Read their adv.

—The Ford touring car of J. R. Cray, of Stevensville, took fire recently near Chester River bridge and was somewhat damaged.

—The terrace around the Third National Bank has been planted with grass seed and in a few weeks the whole corner will be greatly beautified.

—The McCauley heirs have sold their 500-acre farm on the state road at Davis Hill, near Galena, to Mr. Herbert Ford, of Kent Co., for $22,500.

—It is reported that Mr. Charles Faulkner sold this week his 100-acre farm near Galena to Mr. Louis Miller, of Kent, for $6500.

—Mr. J. T. Jester's case against the C. and P. Telephone Co., due to come up in Easton this week, has been moved to Cecil.

—The closing exercises for the seventh grade students of Kent county schools will be held June 14, at 10 o'clock in William Smith Hall.

—The High street steps to the Voshell House have been removed and are being replaced with an observation balcony.

—The Noland-Bennett-Russell Motor Co. during the past week sold a Chevrolet sedan, a Buick sedan and a Buick six open model.

—Mr. William Wallace, director of music in Chestertown M. E. Church, has opened a barber shop over the automobile garage of Noland-Bennett-Russell.

—The spring issue of the C. and P. Telephone Directory has been received and if studied carefully will be a strong factor in bringing about a greater efficiency of service.

—D. P. Fillinghame, a farmer of near Chesapeake City, was fired upon by Jno. Harris, with a shot gun recently and painfully injured. An overdue note is said to be the cause of the trouble.

—Under the superintendency of Dr. E. J. Clarke, the Kent County schools are ranked by the State Educational Authorities as second, Baltimore Co. being the only county ahead of Kent.

—Mr. A. P. Emerson has sold his hotel, "The Emerson," to Mr. Charles Willis. Mr. and Mrs. Emerson have bought Mr. Wilis' home on the state road just outside the town limits.

—Univ. of Delaware and W. C. were in a heated baseball contest yesterday when we went to press. Betterton High won from Chestertown Tuesday, 11 to 10.

—Mr. George Rash caught a muskrat in his garden recently with a steel trap. The little fellow has been doing considerable destruction before he was trapped.

—The damage suit of Harvey W. Morris against J. B. Dunn, removed to Easton, on Monday was settled by compromise, judgment in favor of Mr. Morris being entered for $1000.
