It is thought proper to publish in connection with this notice the subjoined sections of the registration law so far as they are applicable to the counties, which bear paricularly upon the powers and duties of the Register and the rights of the citizen:

3. Each of the said officers of registration shall have in addition to the other powers hereinafter conferred upon him, or which may be hereafter conferred upon him by law during the respective times of his appointed sittings, the power of a justice of the peace to preserve order and enforce obedience to his lawful commands at or around his place of registration; to keep the access to such place open and unobstructed; to prevent and suppress riots, tumult, violence and disorder, and all other improper practices at, around or near to his place of registration tending to intimidation or to the obstruction of the work of registration, or the revision of the registration, and to protect and keep safe the registries of voters hereinafter referred to while in his custody and possession; he may compel the presence of witnesses before him while sitting as an officer of registration for all purposes connected with the performance of the duties of his office by summons and attachment; he may while sitting as such officer of registration commit for trial any person committing at or around his place of registration any offense forbidden by this article; he shall have the power to issue any of said summons, attachments or commitments when sitting in any county of this State to the sheriff of said county or to any constable thereof; all such processes shall be served by said respective officers in the same manner as if they were issued by the judge of a court of record having jurisdiction of the subject matter or by a justice of the peace exercising police powers within such respective jurisdictions; the sheriff or any constable in any county in this State who shall serve any of said processes shall receive the same fees and in like manner as it is or may be by law provided that he shall receive fees in other State cases, but no officer of registration shall charge or receive any compensation for any service performed under this article except such as is provided by this article.

5. All persons who prior to the passage of this act shall have vacated or removed from or have gone with their parents from the place of their actual abode, domicile, dwelling-place or habitation within this State, and shall have taken a domicile, dwelling-place, abode or habitation out of this State, shall be conclusively presumed to have thereby intended to abandon their legal residence in this State, and to have surrendered their right to registration as legal voters in the State unless within thirty days after the passage of this act they shall go in person before the clerk of the circuit court for the county from which they shall have so removed or before the clerk of the superior court of Baltimore city, if their removal shall have been from said city and make and acknowledge before such clerk an affidavit that when they so removed they did not intend to change their legal residence within the State, but that they had a fixed purpose to return at a definite time, and that they intend to return to this State and to take up their actual domicile and habitation therein, on or before six months next preceding the Tuesday after the first Monday of November, eighteen hundred and ninety; * * * and unless the persons respectively making such affidavits shall actually return to this State and shall actually take up their abode, domicile or habitation therein six months before the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, eighteen hundred and ninety, they shall be conclusively presumed to have lost their legal residence therein and shall not be entitled to registration as legal voters, and the officers of registration shall strike off their names from the registry, if they be entered thereon; and after the passage of this act all persons who shall vacate and remove from the place of their actual domicile, abode, dwelling-place or habitation out of this State shall be conclusively presumed to have lost their residence in this State, and shall in consequence thereof become disqualified to vote, unless at or about the time of such removal or within ten days thereafter they shall go in person before the clerk of the circuit court for the county from which they shall so remove, or before the clerk of the superior court of Baltimore city, if such removal be from said city, and shall make and acknowledge before him an affidavit declaring that notwithstanding such removal from their domicile, abode, dwelling-place or habitation, they do not intend thereby to change their legal residence but that they have a fixed and definite purpose to return to this State on or before six months preceding the next succeeding election in November; * * * and if the persons making such affidavits shall fail so to return and take up their actual abode, domicile, dwelling-place and habitation in this State on or before six months next preceding such November election, they shall be conclusively presumed to have abandoned such declared intention and shall thereupon become disqualified to vote in this State, and the officers of registration shall refuse to register them as qualified voters, or shall strike off their names from the registry if their names be entered thereon; the clerk before whom such affidavit shall be made, shall retain, index and record the same, and shall be entitled to demand and receive for each acknowledgement the sum of thirty cents, and for indexing and recording the affidavits and acknowledgements thereto, the same compensation as is allowed by law for indexing and recording deeds, such costs to be paid to said clerks by the commissioners and mayor and city council of Baltimore respectively; such affidavits shall not be admissible in evidence as evidence of the right of the persons making the same to registration, unless they are recorded within five days from the date of the acknowledgement thereto, and a duly certified copy thereof shall be receivable in evidence in the same manner as a certified copy of a deed; false swearing in any such affidavits shall be deemed to be perjury, and shall be punishable as purjury is by the Code of Public General Laws, article twenty-seven, title 'Crimes and Punishments,' sub-title 'Perjury;' said officers of registration shall require the production of such affidavits duly recorded, or a duly certified copy thereof in all cases where they shall have reason to suspect that the person applying to be registered as a qualified voter has lost his residence by reason of his removal from the State as hereinbefore mentioned, and they may also in such cases put any question which they may deem proper to such applicant, concerning the place where he dwelt in the county or legislative district before such removal out of the State, his occupation before such removal and since, the time when he so removed, and when he returned, and all other pertinent facts and circumstances touching the right of such person to be registered, and they may require the truth of the answers of all persons to such questions to be corroborated by independent evidence if in their discretion they shall think proper; and if in answer to their questions or upon testimony produced before them it shall appear to their satisfaction that the person applying to be registered had left the State without any intention of returning at some definite time in the future he shall not be entitled to be registered as a legal voter.

Wonders

Are wrought by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor in restoring gray hair to its original color, promoting a new growth, preventing the hair from falling, keeping it soft, silky, and abundant, and the scalp cool, healthy, and free from dandruff or humors. The universal testimony is that this preparation has no equal as a dressing, and is, therefore, indispensable to every well-furnished toilet.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for some time and it has worked wonders for me. I was troubled with dandruff and was rapidly becoming bald; but since using the Vigor my head is perfectly clear of dandruff, the hair has ceased coming out, and I now have a good growth, of the same color as when I was a young woman. I can heartily recommend any one suffering from dandruff or loss of hair to use Ayer's Hair Vigor as a dressing."—Mrs. Lydia O. Moody, East Pittston, Me.

"Some time ago my wife's hair began to come out quite freely.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

not only prevented my wife from becoming bald, but it also caused an entirely new growth of hair. I am ready to certify to this statement before a justice of the peace."—H. Hulsebus, Lewisburgh, Iowa.

"Some years ago, after a severe attack of brain fever, my hair all came out. I used such preparations for restoring it as my physicians ordered, but failed to produce a growth of hair. I then tried, successively, several articles recommended by druggists, and all alike fell short of accomplishing the desired result. The last remedy I applied was Ayer's Hair Vigor, which brought a growth of hair in a few weeks. I think I used eight bottles in two years; more than was necessary as a restorative, but I liked it as a dressing, and have continued to use it for that purpose. I believe Ayer's Hair Vigor possesses virtues far above those of any similar preparation now on the market."—Vincent Jones, Richmond, Ind.

An Eastern paper devotes an entire page to show why a new White House is needed. It makes out a strong case, but after all a new White House is not half as badly needed as a new President.—Chicago Herald.

The Democrats of Ohio are to be credited, at least, with courage—for they start their campaign in one of the great wool States with an emphatic declaration in favor of a tariff "for revenue only."—Public Ledger.

It is unfortunate that the Treasury Department should have to watch Wall street's symptoms as the doctor watches the humors of an hysterical patient, but so long as the taxing power is used for other than the legitimate purpose of raising the revenues needed for the support of the Government that sort of thing must be.—New York World.

The Republicans in Congress are in desperate straits, caught as they are between the devil of the McKinley bill and the deep sea of Blaine's reciprocity scheme.—Utica Observer.

Literary Notes.

Among the attractions in the forthcoming number of Harper's Bazar (published September 19th), will be a story by Kate Upson Clark, entitled "Solly: A Story of a Gentleman;" Miss Elizabeth Bisland's fourth paper on "An American Woman's First Season in London;" and a new chapter on bird-lore, entitled "The Tanager's Nest," by Olive Thorne Miller.

"Antoine's Moose-Yard" is the title of an article which Julian Ralph will contribute to Harper's Magazine for October. It is a narrative of hunting adventures in the great Canadian woods, and is accompanied by twelve spirited illustrations from drawings by Frederick Remington. A moose-yard is the name given by Canadian huntsmen to the feeding ground of a herd of moose. Each herd or family of these great wild cattle has two such feeding grounds, and they are said to go alternately from one to the other, never herding in one place two years in succession. Whether they desert a yard for twelve months because of the damage they do it in feeding upon the branches and foliage of softwood trees and shrubs, or whether it is instinctive caution that directs their movements, no one can more than conjecture. It took Mr. Ralph's party a week to kill one moose in a country where they were common game.

Trees 650 Feet Tall.

Prof. Fred G. Plummer, the civil engineer of Tacoma, says: "I have been all over this country and have the best collection of the flora to be found anywhere. What do you thing of these trees 650 feet high? They are to be found that high in the unsurveyed townships near the foot of Mount Tacoma, and what is more I have seen them and made an instrumental measurement of a number with the same result. There are lots of trees near the base of Tacoma whose foliage is so far above the ground that it is impossible to tell to what family they belong except by the bark. Very few people know or dream of the immensity of our forest growth. I wish that some of our large trees could be sent to the World's Fair at Chicago. We could send a flag pole, for instance, 300 or 400 feet long."—Olympia Tribune.

THE use of calomel for derangements of the liver has ruined many a fine consitution. Those who, for similar troubles, have tried Ayer's Pills testify to their efficacy in thoroughly remedying the malady, without injury to the system.

Rivals.

A newspaper proprietor, who is now a wealthy man, tells an amusing story of one of his early ventures. He went to the west when but 23 years old with a capital of only two or three hundred dollars. He had done some reporting for a local paper at home and had a smattering of the printer's art. Hearing of a new town in the mountains, a town of which great things were expected, he decided to establish a newspaper there forthwith.

He borrowed some money to add to his meager capital, and started alone for the field with his little hand-press and type and paper in a wagon.

The journey was about fifty miles in length and mostly up hill. The muddy road made the traveling slow and difficult, so that it was almost dark when, on the second day, he came within sight of the new town still five miles distant.

Just then, as he pulled through a slough at a curve in the road, he overtook a fellow traveler whose old wagon, to which was hitched a bony horse, was hopelessly fast in the mud.

Our young newspaper man promptly unhitched his horse and went to the other man's assistance. For nearly an hour the two men pushed and the two horses pulled. Finally the horses gave a mighty tug at the right moment and the cart was pulled out of the mud.

Reaching out his hand with true western heartiness the driver of the extricated cart, also a young man of 23 or 24, said:

"Thank you, sir! I'm ever so much obliged to you. Time's mighty precious to me, and I don't know what I'd have done if you hadn't come along. I want to get to the next town just as quick as I can. I've got a newspaper outfit in my wagon, and I hear there's another fellow trying to get in ahead of me. Like as not you've been the means of helping me to get the start of him."

The surprised and chagrined "other fellow" says that for a moment he was wicked enough to wish his rival back in the mud, but speedily overcoming all such ungenerous and unmanly feelings he said with a laugh:

"Well, I happen to be that other fellow?"

"You—you are?"

"Yes, sir, I am."

"Well, I—I—say, s'posing we sit right down here and talk this thing over."

They encamped together for the night and after a full conference agreed to go into partnership, and as soon as it was light they hastened on to the town. There they established their paper, which was the beginning of great prosperity for both of them.—Youth's Companion.

Horns form the Human Body.

Horns growing from the human skin are very uncommon in their occurrence, but one of the foreign medical journals contains an account from a physician of a case of this kind treated by him, the subject being a laboring man of 65 years. The horn projected for an inch from the lower lip on the right side, and had a blunt extremity, was firmly adherent and the skin around at the base exhibited superficial ulceration.

The fact as elicited was that it had first appeared as a small warty growth some three years previously, had slowly increased, and after being cut off with a razor on two occasions seemed to grow again quicker each time. On the opposite side of the same lip was what appeared to be another warty growth in its early stages, and the patient was in the habit of holding his clay pipe this side and not on that from which the horn grew. There were no glands enlarged and the patient was in a good state of health. The treatment, which was entirely successful, consisted in the removal of the horn, together with the part of the lip to which it was attached, by means of a small V shaped incision under cocaine locally injected, and bringing the edges together with one or two sutures.—New York Tribune.

Renting Out a Play.

"Renting out a play," said a well known comedian, "is just now largely in vogue with native authors who have made a reputation and those speculators who purchase the American rights of foreign successes. In point of financial returns it is about the same as selling a drama on royalty, but the great advantage in renting out is that the author retains the ownership of his production, and can always control it, whereas in a sale on royalty the property right passes entirely out of his hands.

"Should the royalty not be paid of course the author has his legal remedy, but if his play be simply rented out all he has to do is to go and take possession of it in case of a failure to settle the rent, thus saving time, trouble, cost and anxiety, to say nothing of avoiding the law's delay."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Survival of Dangerous Germs.

It has been shown by M. Esmarch that disease microbes do not long survive in corpses, and that as a general rule the more rapidly decomposition takes place the more quickly will the organisms perish. Experiments were made with nine different kinds of microbes, contained in the bodies of animals under the various conditions of burial in the ground, keeping under water and exposure to air. The bacillus of fowl cholera was seldom found after three weeks, though that of septicæmia survived ninety days, while that of consumption did not lose its virulence until from 204 to 252 days had passed. All trace of the other organisms—including those of typhoid fever, Asiatic cholera, tetanus and anthrax—disappeared in from three days to a week.

A Pancake Contest.

Jake Menzer and John Lecky had a great buckwheat cake eating contest in Hoboken not long ago. It was nip and tuck till the twenty-seventh cake, when Lecky began to lose ground. He made a spurt and caught up on the twenty-eighth cake, but again fell behind. Menzer ate steadily to the end and won by half a pancake. He finished thirty large buckwheat cakes.—New York Journal.

Caught Two Sharks.

A party of gentlemen at Glen Cove went to Matinecock point Tuesday evening and drew a seine net, catching at the first haul a large shovel nose shark, measuring 7 feet 2 inches from tip to tip, and weighing about 250 pounds. His sharkship had to be killed before he could be landed. A second haul was made, when a smaller shark of the same species was captured. The large shark was taken to the village and placed on exhibition near Campbell's hotel, where it was viewed by hundreds of people during Wednesday. It was pronounced one of the largest sharks ever captured in these waters.—Brooklyn Times

No Revision.

Presbyterian Enthusiast—The papers are full of talk about revision. I am unalterably opposed to it.

Ordinary Citizen—So am I. The rules are good enough now. The only trouble is with the umpires. Give us honest umpires and the Giants will win every game.—New York Weekly.

The work of canalizing the Seine, which has been in progress for fifteen years, is still being actively pushed forward. According to the engineer, M. Bouquet de la Grye, the cost will not exceed 135,000,000 francs. The object of the work is to deepen the river so that vessels of 2,000 to 2,500 tons, which at present have to stop at Rouen, may go to Paris.
