In Bringing Outside People Into

KENT AND QUEEN ANNE'S

for every 99 cents spent in advertising and showing properties to outside buyers, I have scarcely made for myself 100 cents. But I have made dollars for the land owners. And this enhances the value of our land. Give it a market aside from the local market. When you consider that contains from 5,000 to 10,000 buyers at home and away from home, you can see why it pays to place Real Estate in my hands to sell.

My approved and successful methods of selling property is at your disposal. No where else on the Peninsula is property presented to such a larger number of buyers.

(I have an office in the Perry Building, Centreville, where you are invited to call, if you want to sell or buy.)

ROCK HALL NOTES.

Just back from the exhilarating ozone from the old ocean at Atlantic City, Mrs. Alexander and son, Max, are pictures of perfect health and are hard at work in their summer clearance sales.

A pleasurable gathering took place on the "Hermitage" farm, Mr. John Brice tenant, to witness a spirited horse race on Saturday afternoon. Leary and DeFord's horses carried off the honors.

Republican primary here on Saturday seemed exceedingly quiet and slimly participated in by voters. This was due perhaps to the activity of the leaders the week preceeding the election.

Goldie Wilkins, son of Mrs. H. Wilkins, has entered Uucle Sam's Navy for a four year's service. A good move, no doubt, and many of the family friends wish him good luck.

Mr. Arthur Legg and friend paid a flying visit to relatives here on Wednesday.

For the convenience of the membership the Odd Fellows Lodge meetings has been changed from Tuesday to Wednesday evening each week.

Our merchants and other business men are feeling the effect of the war on purse net fishing. Many thousands of dollars are circulated here from this source of employment. Interference with it and other non-remunerative callings this summer is making finance somewhat duller than usual, and to make matters even worse prices for what we have to buy are climbing higher, while the long, dry condition of the weather is threatning a shortage in crops in this section.

Mr. J. M. Collison has been under the care of the doctor the past week or more, but is now on the amend.

Rev. Mr. McCaslin, formerly pastor of Wesleyan M. P. Church, but now of Sharptown, Md., with Mrs. McC., are guests here of former parishioners.

The Rock Hall Baseball Team are still monarchs of all they survey on their own or other ground. Hurrah for the home team.

Hurrah again! Kent is going to have a trolley and ferry line at last, (?) so that we will have easy and quick egress and ingress, to and from Baltimore and other points.

The street-lamp contractors had an inspector here on Tuesday who overhauled the lamps and gave further instructions as to how to properly use them. Messrs. N. R. Satterfield and Henry Urie are now temporary lamp attendants until regular lighters are selected to fill the vacancy.

Mrs. H. Taylor Hupfield, 2803 St. Paul St., and Miss Myrtle E. Waltemeyer, 1842 N. Fayette St., Baltimore, are visiting Miss Edna R. Downey, at Rock Hall.

The Misses Ryan announce the engagement of their sister, Ellen Isabelle to Mr. Arthur Putzel Levy, nephew of Ex-State Senator Louis Putzel, of Baltimore. The marriage will take place in the early fall at the Madison Avenue Temple, Baltimore.

MILLINGTON ITEMS.

Quite a large number of Millington folks attended Marydel Camp this week.

Millington defeated the strong Golt Baseball Team in a well-played game last Saturday by the score of 4 to 3.

Miss Agnes Clark and brother, Gilbert, of Middletown, are visiting friends at Central Hotel.

Mrs. A. J. Lockerman and daughter, Marion, are spending a few days with relatives in Wilmington.

Misses Mary and Lura Ahern have returned from a two week's visit at Rehoboth Beach, Del.

We all extend our heartiest sympathy for Mr. Harry Hendrick's recovery from typhoid fever.

Miss Jennie Hartzel, of Challefonte, Pa., is visiting Miss Bessie Hurlock.

Mr. C. M. Hurtt is visiting relatives in Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cacy, of New York, are visiting relatives in our town.

Mr. B. F. Vansant spent Sunday in Wilmington with his daughter, Mrs. Ford Phillips.

Mr. Oscar Allen has been spending a few days in Washington, D. C., on account of his aunt being ill.

Mr. James Poor, while cutting a piece of wood last Saturday, cut one of his blood vessels in his left arm and was immediately taken to a Philadelphia hospital by Dr. Jeter.

Baseball Today.—Chestertown will play the strong Rock Hall Baseball Team this afternoon on Dr. Ford's lot, Washington avenue, at 3.30 o'clock. This promises to be a good game as the local team is composed of good players and Rock Hall has lost but one game this season. Go up and see the game and help the local team to succeed. Admission, 15 cents.

STILL POND ITEMS.

For a short time recently G. W. Covington entertained as his guest his grand-daughter, Miss Helen Covington Barnard, and her young friend, Miss Jessie Shepard, of Middletown, Del. Some evenings ago these, with Misses Mary Turner and Catharine Starkie, were entertained at an excellent tea at the pretty cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Covington, Betterton, after which these lively and blithesome misses were given a gasoline launch outing on the wide and charming expanse of the headwaters of the historic and classic Chesapeake Bay, where within the range of an extended vision may be seen the confluence of the Sassafras, Elk and Susquehanna rivers, flowing into the headwaters of the bay at Turkey Point and Green Point, where the rivers separate. Looking southward from the midwaters the eye grasps with much interest a view of the rapidly growing and flourishing summer resort, Betterton, from the splendid bathing beach and fine steamboat piers, the harbor crowded with trim and fine gasoline launches, yachts and a great variety of small craft; then back from the shore line to the hill tops large and finely equipped hotels, cottages and pavilions are picturesquely blended. The beautiful gorges and wooded hillsides near the Ericsson Cottage and the Idlewhile Park lend a measure of enchantment.

Master George Crowding of Philadelphia has been visiting his grand-parents Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Crowding.

Potato Bugs.—Truckers in and near Chestertown report potato bugs more plentiful than for years. Some growers are scattering straw among the vines and setting fire to it thus burning the bugs by the hundred.

She was well-known in Kent, having made frequent visits here and being a most attractive young lady. Her husband survives her.

Married.— Miss Lillian Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Kelley, of Baltimore, Md., and Mr. Ernest D. Briscoe, also of Baltimore, formerly of Galena, Md., were married at high noon, on Wednesday, Aug. 11th. Rev. Geo. W. Hadaway, of Starr M. P. Church, officiating. Miss Helen May Kelley, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. Thomas Silcox, of Betterton, acted as best man. The bride was attired in white silk mull over taffeta, made "en Princess." Immediately after the ceremony the newly wedded couple left for Philadelphia and Atlantic City, and on their return will begin house-keeping at 3000 East Baltimore St., Baltimore.

A quiet but pretty marriage was solemnized in Baltimore, Md., Tuesday, Aug., 10th, at 1.30 p. m. when Miss Etta Pearl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Briscoe of Galena, Md., became the bride of Mr. Walter Finch White of Norfolk, Va., the ceremony being performed by Rev. G. W. Haddaway, pastor of Starr M. E. Church. The only attendants were Miss Lillian Kelley and Mr. Ernest Briscoe, of Baltimore. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of white lace over silk, and carried a white Bible, a gift of the groom. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. White left for Washington and other points of interest, and on their return will visit the bride's parents in Galena, before they depart for their future home in Norfolk.

Jumped From Train.—Scott Johnson, who, on the evening of May 31, murdered James McAllister, near Rowlandville, Cecil county, Md., immediately afterwards making his escape, proceeding to the Pacific coast, finally surrendering to the authorities at Santa Rosa, Cal., on Thursday eluded Sheriff Hager, of Cecil county, who was bringing him back to Maryland, and escaped by jumping from a rapidly moving Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train south of York, Pa. Hastily organized posses are endeavoring to capture him and practically all the police and detectives of York city and county are assisting in the search.
