8 Cents

Eight cents a pound is what a young woman paid for twelve pounds of flesh.

She was thin and weak and paid one dollar for a bottle of Scott's Emulsion, and by taking regular doses had gained twelve pounds in weight before the bottle was finished.

Eight cents a pound is cheap for such valuable material. Some pay more, some less, some get nothing for their money. You get your money's worth when you buy Scott's Emulsion.

We will send you a little free.

The Beautiful Coloring in Yellowstone Park is Due to Vegetable Matter.

Nature is a most equisite colorist. Nowhere is her work more lovely than along the crested rims and overflow channels of warm spring pools. Tourists are seldom aware that these harmonious and brilliant tints owe their origin mainly to plant life. They are usually told by so-called guides that the colors are due to mineral matter which tends to enhance their horror of underground waters. Algæ flourish equally well in the waters of all geyser basins and on the terraces of Mammoth Hot Springs. Water boils on the plateau at 198° Fahr., and rudimentary organisms appear at about 185° Fahr., although no definite line can be drawn beyond which all life ceases. Wherever these boiling waters cool to the latter temperature, algous growths appear, and by the lowering of the temperature on exposure to air still more highly organized forms gradually come in. It is said that at about 140° the conditions are favorable for the rapid growth of several species. The development of plant life at such excessive temperatures and on a scale of such magnitude seems a marvelous thing. Nowhere else can this be seen so well as in the Yellowstone Park.—From "The Yellowstone National Park," by Arnold Hague, in the May Scribner's.

Educated Indians.

The often printed statement that educated Indians soon after leaving school relapse to the "blanket" state is refuted by the report of the Hampton institute. That school has graduated 938 Indian boys and girls, 673 of whom are now living. The report shows the work of these alumni to be excellent in 141 cases; good in 33; fair in 149; poor in 42; bad in 8.

me into the last stupor of death by freezing. One of the oars went over board during the squall, and while I had my anchor overboard to steady the boat and keep her head-on I could do nothing by sculling with the remaining oar because of the hugh waves, which were over ten feet in height and threatened momentarily to swamp the boat.

"When night fell I was in the open bay and my sufferings were indescribe. Every wave which broke over me added another sheet of ice and my clothes were soon as stiff as boards from the frozen water in them. I was still conscious at daybreak. I then raised my fishing rod with a towel tied to it as a signal of distress. I passed one schooner under full sail and tried to hail the crew. I am certain that the men saw me, but they gave me no aid and were soon lost to view on the horizon of the bay.

ABANDONED ALL HOPE.

"As the hours of the morning wore away I became very weak and never expected to escape with my life. At last I perceived that the waves were driving the rowboat ashore, but had no idea as to what land I was approaching In my weakened condition I failed to recognize the Tolchester beach. I felt the boat ground on the sands and it was then lifted up and turned over. As I struck the stones I grabbed hold of some large rocks, whose sharp edges tore my hands painfully. The next wave lifted me, and as I struck the stones once more I must have fainted with the weakness and pain.

"I deeply appreciate the kindness of Captain Taylor and his son, and of Superintendent Noland."

The above account of his sufferings was told at intervals to the friends who went to Tolchester to bring the unfortunate man back to his home, 1901 West Baltimore street. The party with Mr. Lipps aboard the Irene when she reached the Chester River wharf yesterday at noon included Dr. D. R. Hoffman, Mr. B. F. Williams, Mr. C. H. Blank, Mr. R. Wattenscheidt; Dr. Smith, of Chestertown, and Patrolman Dorsey, of the police boat Lannan, who was detailed by Captain League to assist in searching for the castaway.

At the wharf were Mrs. Edward Lipps, Mrs. Frederick Lipps and about twenty friends of the injured man.—Baltimore Morning Herald April 21.
