MILLINGTON MATTERS.

Asbury M. E. Sunday School held its Christmas entertainment on Monday evening, Dec. 26. A delightful program was rendered by the scholars. Although the weather was so disagreeable there was quite a large attendance. A treat was given the scholars. The church was trimmed with Christmas decorations.

Trinity M. E. Sunday School (South) held its Chrismas entertainment Thursday evening, Dec. 29th. A program of recitations and Christmas music was well rendered. A treat of confectionary and fruit was given to each scholar.

The Box Social, which was to be held on Tuesday evening, Dec. 27, at Miss Evelyn Cochran's for the benefit of the P. E. Chapel, was not very well attended owing to the inclement weather. The walking was extremely disagreeable, and the damp atmosphere from the dense fog which settled down in the afternoon made it almost unsafe for anyone to venture out after dark. We hope the weather will be more favorable next time.

The Epworth League social, of Asbury M. E. Church, which was held at the home of Mr. J. P. Ahern, Wednesday evening Dec 28 was well attended. Games and amusements of every character were particpated in, but the main feature of the evening's enjoyment was two recitations by Miss Annie Bailey. A vocal solo by Miss Pearl Ahern, a couple of vocal solos by Mrs. Davidson of Dover, Del., and a number of instrumental selections by Misses Pearl and Ruby Ahern. After refreshments were served, the guests took their departure, wishing their host and hostess a happy New Year.

Mrs. Davidson of Dover, Del., sang a trio and beautiful solos at the public service at Asbury M. E. Church last Sunday evening.

A pair of horses belonging to Mr. Chas. O. Cacy became frightened Thursday noon while at the car in the freight yard where Mr. Cacy was hauling oyster shells, they ran away and in turning the corner in front of C. M. Hurtt's large store they ran into the raling, and one of the horses, a fine young sorrell, fell striking itself against the rough ground and curb, injuring itself so fatally that it died in about ten minutes in great agony. Just about the time this horse was dying, John E. Woodall's horse came dashing into town from the country where it had been driven to do some hauling, but fortunately for Mr. Woodall the horse was caught before any damage was done.

Quite a number of persons who were compelled to move took advantage of the fine weather the last few days of the old year. Mrs. Martha McWhorter, who purchased Dr. E. G. Clark's property, moved there with Dr. N. M. Jeter and family of Sassafras, last week. Dr. Clark moves to Middletown, Del., the week previous. Mr. J. R. Stafford moved to his farm in Queen Anne's, and Mr. Jas. R. Jones and family, who purchased the Stafford property on Sassafras street have moved there. Mrs. Clough moved in the property recently vacated by Mr. Thos. Brittan. Mr. Brittan now occupies the Hazell property near the cemetery. Miss Clara Bryan and mother have moved into the new house just completed by Mr. B. W. Duling, near the station. Mr. L. A. Vansant has moved into the residence adjoining his store, and Dr. F. A. Walls now occupies Mrs. Susan Green's property on Sassafras street. There has been several changes throughout the county with farmers moving from Queen Anne's to Kent and vice versa.

Mrs. Chas. Sheppard, of Frankford, Del., is spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Edwin Gardner, at the parsonage.

Miss Beatrice F. Thompson has returned to her home near Newark, Del., after a two months visit with Mrs. Frank L. Smith.

Miss Nema Price spent a few days this week with friends in Philadelphia.

Miss Estella Townsend is visiting relatives in Washington, D. C.

Miss Ollie Price has returned to her home in Philadelphia.

Mrs. B. F. Vansant is visiting relatives in Philadelphia.

Mr. Wm. H. Price and son, Harry, of Philadelphia, spent part of this week with the former's mother, Mrs. M. A. Price.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilde, of Elsmere, Del., spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Wilde's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Vansant, near town.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Ross' mother, Mrs. Margaret Jones, of Wilmington, Del., spent Christmas with Mrs. Jones' daughter, Mrs. J. C. Vansant.

Miss Julia Ferguson spent the Christmas holidays with her mother, Mrs. C. P. Gowman.

Mr. Sudler Weist is visiting relatives in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Davidson and children, of Dover, Del., have been the guests of her sister, Mrs. Edwin Gardner, for the past two weeks.

Miss Anna L. Loeber spent Christmas with her parents in Wilmington, Del.

Miss Ollie Vansant spent several days last week with friends at Centreville.

Miss Florence Webb, of Chester, Pa., spent a couple of days this week the guest of Miss Nema Price.

Mr. Elmer Stafford and son, Master Albert, of Middletown, Del., spent this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stafford, near town.

Miss Lillian Hart, of Sudlersville, was the guest of her cousin, Miss Marie Vansant, on New Year's Day.

Mr. W. H. Weist spent this week with relatives in Philadelphia.

Miss Julia Johnson has returned to the Normal School at Frostburg, Md.

Mr. James Ferguson and friend, Mr. Faust, of Baltimore, spent a couple of days this week with the former's mother, Mrs. C. P. Gowman.

Miss Elva Reese returned to the Normal School in Baltimore this week after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reese.

Dr. Frank Gardner and mother, of Smyrna, Del., spent New Year's day with Mrs. Gardner's niece, Mrs. C. M. Hurtt.

Miss Bessie Hurlock has returned to school, at Frederick City, Md.

Misses Ruby and Clara Ahern have returned to Western Maryland College, at Westminister, Md.

Miss Evelyn Rolph has returned to Washington College.

Mr. Wm. S. Crane, of California, Md., suffered for years from rheumatism and lumbago. He was finally advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he did and it effected a complete cure. For sale by M. A. Toulson, druggist, Chestertown.

ROCK HALL ITEMS.

The New Year was ushered in by an ideal spring day. The general salutation was, what a beautiful day! Congregation at the M. E. Church was above the average. Rev. Warren Burr preached from the text: "Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation." He pictured the distress of David which prompted the petition also emphasizing the fact, that one possessed of that joy did not have to tell it, as it would be plainly seen in every day life. Sunday school was unusually interesting, several long needed changes were made. This is one of the largest Sunday Schools on the Peninsula. The citizens of the town believe in Sunday School, and attend that service to the neglect of others.

Wesley Chapel was well attended.

Miss Edna Durding entertained the senior class of the public school, on Monday evening. All acknowleged Miss Edna as being an ideal hostess.

The Young Beginners gave their first dance at K. of P. Hall, and were so delighted that they propose to repeat it in the near future.

Piney Neck church held its annual Christmas treat on Monday evening, candies, nuts and oranges, were distributed and little hearts made glad. One interesting feature was the appearance and hasty exit of Old Kris. Most of the pupils imagine their principal was that wonderful being.

Mr. Maurice Durding spent New Year's with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Durding.

Miss C. I. Smyth, of Fairlee, visited her uncle J. A. Greenwood, on Monday.

Again the peals of the bell called the children from their homes to assemble for school. Although it was raining 204 answered at roll-call. Many new faces were seen among the crowd. Each teacher was on hand and each spoke of a pleasant holiday. Misses Reese and Camp's rooms were full. There are 80 in the infant department.

The Adventist school taught by Miss Tarbell, has 30 pupils which keeps that lady very busy.

School at Gratitude is very small. Miss Stevens might negotiate a loan from Rock Hall.

Mr. John Lewis removed from Edesville to Fairlee, to engage in butchering. Mr. Bartus Wilkins moved from the old family house to the Isaac Gale property. Mr. Pearcin Jewell from the Gale property to Dr. Housten farm.

The K. of P. elected the following officers for ensuing term: C. C., Arthur Canann, V. C., Henry Urie, Prel. C. H. Ayres, M. of E., J. D. Ayres, M. of F. Frank Davis, K. of R. and S., F. A. Shreck, M. of A., Joe Williams, M. of W., Marion Downey, Trustees; Henry Urie, Marion Downey, J. T. Stevens, W. T. Durding and Joe Williams. Rep. to G. L., W. T. Durding.

Mr. A. Alexander had a reunion of his family on New Year's day.

The P. O. S. of A. gave a smoker on Friday evening. Addresses were made by W. T. Harrison and Warren Burr. Saunders succeeded in capturing the apple thereby receiving the badge of the order.

One of our Rock Hall physicans is thinking of removing to Fairlee to take the place of Dr. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Durding will hold a reception in honor of their son Maurice, on Friday 6 inst.

BETTERTON BRIEFS.

New Year dawned bright and fair in our town. Some of the oldest citizens say that it was the warmest day that they have ever seen for that time of the year.

The Susquehanna River ice has moved out and all the upper part of the bay is blocked across with it. The Ericsson Line sent boats out on Tuesday evening, but neither one stopped in. The steamer Anthony Grove went ashore on Pool's Island, owing to the heavy snow storm, but got off again without any damage, and passed by here Wednesday night.

The Epworth League held a "box social" at Hotel Ericsson on Monday evening. The lunches sold very well and a good sum was realized.

Col. Supplee is having Idlewhile Cottage improved by enlarging its dining room and lobby.

Mr. Tom Brice has moved into his new house on Idlewhile Ave.

A masquerade party was held at the home of Mr. Robert Moore by the young folks. A large company was assembled, and a good time enjoyed by all.

Mr. John Henry Crew has torn down his old ice house, and has dug and built a new one. By doing this he has increased his view very much.

Rev. A. C. Jones and wife are visiting their son, at Delaware City.

All of the students have returned to their schools and visitors have returned to their respective homes, consequently Betterton sinks once more to its usual winter routine.

Mr. Harry Knotts, the efficient clerk of Owens & Co., has resigned his position here. He will be missed by all for his bright and pleasant manner made him quite a favorite with all.

The young ladies are arranging for a play, which will possibly be on 22nd of Feb.

GALENA ITEMS.

Mr. Unit R. Horsey, our enterprising farmer, spent New Year's day at Townsend, Del.

Miss Bessie Whitaker and Mr. Arthur Hyland, both of Conference Academy, Dover, have returned to school.

Mr. Hanson Horsey, of Charlotte Hall College, returned to school on Thursday.

Mr. John Walls, our liveryman, lost a very valuable horse one day this week.

Mrs. M. E. Horsey spent several days during the past week with Mrs. J. W. Jarman, near Chesterville.

Mr. E. E. Woodall, Jr., of Chestertown, has been visiting his parents near Lambson.

There have been few removals this year. Mr. Sam'l Caldwell has moved into the Latimer property on Main street. Mr. Thomas Stradley, of Sassafras, moves into the house vacated by him.

Mr. Patrick Mullen, one of our oldest and most respected citizens, died on Monday, after a long illness. He was a devout member of the Catholic Church. His funeral took place Thursday at 10 o'clock at St. Dennis R. C. Church. Interment in the Catholic cemetery.

MUNIFICENT NEW YEAR'S GIFT.

It is said that Mr. Andrew Carnegie, whose yearly income is something like $14,000,000, is trying to die poor. Whether this be true or not, Mr. Carnegie is certainly using his vast wealth for the benefit of humanity, and wherever he finds an institution whose mission is the amelioration of the race, and which by misfortune, or for worthy reasons, is in need of financial aid, he, in a very unostentatious manner, bestows upon it a most generous contribution. Such an institution the Maryland Institute, Baltimore, is, and Mr. Carnegie, through Dr. Daniel C. Gilman, late President of the Carmegie Institute in Washington, has presented to the School of Art and Design, the munificent and timely gift of $263,000, doubling the assests of the Institute. The only condition of the gift is that the city of Baltimore provide the site for the building. It will be well remembered that this school was destroyed in the great Baltimore fire in February last, and since that time has been holding its sessions in Richmond and Hollins market halls. The people of the city and state became interested in its reconstruction and up to the time of Mr. Carnegie's splendid contribution, a fund amounting to $263,000 had been raised through an appropriation of the last legislature, the adjustment of the insurance and endowments. Mr. Carnegie duplicated the total assets, making the entire amount at the disposal of the board of managers $526,000. The city will provide the site, and the institute will be placed upon a higher and broader plane of usefulness. The Maryland Institute is one of the most prominent schools in the State. Its elevation to a higher and more advanced field of usefulness through the agency of Mr. Carnegie's gift will not only be a great advantage to the student who attends from all parts of the State but the city of Baltimore will be greatly benefitted by the munificence of one of the country's wealthies and most generous citizens.

STILL POND NEWS.

Miss Gertie Copper, of Chestertown, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Severson.

Mr. Wilbur Ford and family have been visiting friends at Dover.

Now the old year has gone never to return again. While passing away many pleasant events occurred and many filled with sadness. Taking the year as a whole it was most wonderful, one of solid success. It is an established fact that farming interests were never so prosperous.

BUSINESS ON THE PENINSULA.

According to figures furnished by Frank J. Williams, manager for R. G. Dunn & Co., the business record of the Delaware, Maryland and Virginia Peninsula for the year 1904, which practically ended at noon Saturday, shows an increase of five failures over 1903 and 14 over 1902; an increase in liabilities over 1903 of $241,787.69, and (267,428.54 over 1902. The assets for 1904 exceed those for 1903 by $70,556.20, and exceed those of 1902 by $107,458.51. As compared with the preceding years, Maryland had three less failures, with $809.09 less liabilities and $375.20 less assets. The district covered by the figures comprises 14 counties, New Castle, Kent and Sussex, of Delaware, nine counties on the Eastern Shore, and Northampton and Accomac, Virginia. This will furnish interesting reading for those who place so much confidence in the "Prosperity Theory."
