LOCAL MATTERS.

He Got the Hog.—Much interest was manifested in the killing of the big hog belonging to Mr. Percy V. Hendrickson, at Mr. C. W. Copper's butcher shop on Saturday. The hog was the object of a guessing contest, the man guessing the nearest to the weight of the big porker when dressed was to get the hog. Mr. Hendrickson realized $37 from the plan, guesses at $1 a piece. When the big fellow was dressed and weighed he tipped the scales at 556 pounds. Mr. Wilbur Morris, one of our prominent farmers, was the lucky guesser, his number being 557½ lbs. The guesses ranged from 515 to 620 lbs.

Mr. George C. Adkinson Gets a Fall.—Mr. George C. Adkinson, one of our oldest and most esteemed citizens fell from the loft of his stable to the floor on Tuesday afternoon about four o'clock and sustained a dislocation of the shoulder. Mr. Adkinson was rendered unconscious by the fall, and is unable to account for the accident. Dr. H. G. Simpers was called and rendered surgical aid, and Mr. Adkinson is improving slowly at this writing. Mr. Adkinson is in his 81st year, and is one of our most active and hearty citizens. He has a wide circle of friends here who hope for his speedy recovery.

The Tolchester Company.—A meeting of the stockholders of the Tolchester Company was held on Saturday last at the office of the company, Pier 16 Light street. The business of the company for the past year was discussed and while the receipts for 1904 failed to equal those of the preceding year, owing to circumstances that affected the excursion business, yet the business for the year was declared to be very satisfactory. Several important improvements at Tolchester Beach were discussed, and it was determined to add several important amusement features to the resort for the coming year. During the coming spring the company's fleet of steamers will be inspected and put in thorough repair, preparatory to a prosperous excursion season.

Will be a big Blast.—A blast which is expected to tear away nearly the entire side of the Susquehanna river hills from Turkey Hill to Safe Harbor, about seven miles along the Columbia & Port Deposit railroad, is now being prepared by H. S. Kerbaugh & Co., contractors for the Pennsylvania low-grade freight line which will extend along this portion of the Susquehanna river. Holes six inches in diameter and from thirty to forty feet deep are being drilled, and it is expected that this portion of the work will require about three months for completion. The blast will be discharged by electricity. The holes are being drilled in such a way that most of the debris will be thrown in the river. Several tons of dynamite will be required for this, the largest blast ever planned in that section.

VISITORS AND GOVERNORS SELECT SITE.

For the New Administration Building Which Will Shortly be Erected on the College Campus.

The Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College have finally determined upon a location for the handsome Administration building which is to be erected as soon as the weather permits. The building will occupy a site on the campus to the south of the west building, near the baseball diamond. This location was considered the most expedient because of a building scheme that may be inaugurated in the future, and it was thought that the new building would be a center from which other imposing buildings might arise as the needs of the college required. The new building will be a handsome and imposing four story brick structure with handsome ornamentation, built in classical style, and will cost about $25,000. It will be divided into class rooms, laboratories, and a large auditorium where chapel exercises will be held, and where, it is understood, the College will hold its commencement exercises in the future. The architect is at work on the plans and when they are decided upon by the Board the contract for the erection of the building will be given. The building will be ready for use by the beginning of the next scholastic year in September, and it will no doubt be not only a splendid ornament to the historic campus, but will supply a need at the college that has long been felt, especially at commencement time. There will be added to the college commencement after the completion of the new building the dignity of College environment, something all the college commencements have always lacked. We congratulate the Board of Visitors and Governors, and the worthy President, Dr. Cain, that there will soon be added another and decidedly appropriate feature to our alma mater.

LITTLE LOCALS.

*†*Guy Bros. Minstrels are booked for one of their fine entertainments in Stam's Hall to-night. Hear them.

*†*Mr. Fred G. Usilton was inducted into the mysteries of the Masonic order last week.

*†*The public school at Galena, Prof. George Medders, principal, has been closed until Feb. 1, on account of the diptheria.

*†*Mr. Raymond Bonwill has rented the property of Mrs. John W. Copper, near town, and will move there next month.

*†*Fairlee is having its turn at "social functions." The young people in that neighborhood have a jolly good time in winter as well as in summer.

*†*We are indebted to Comptroller Gordon T. Atkinson for a copy of his annual report. A summary of the statistics will be found elsewhere in this issue.

*†*Contractor Frank E. Duyer is putting the finishing touches on the bay-window in the rear of Mr. William R. Maul and sister's, Miss Phœbe, High street dwelling.

*†*Mr. George W. Copper, of Worton, is building a large and convenient stable on the farm of Mr. Thos. G. Wroth, tenanted by Mr. Joseph Trew, to replace the one recently destroyed by fire.

*†*One of our county commissioners holds the palm for successful shooting. Some years ago he killed nine muskrats at one shot. Ask him how he did it.

*†*Baker, Watts & Co., bankers of Belair, have handed over to the city of Havre de Grace their check for $21,200 in payment for the $20,000 issue of Havre de Grace sewer bonds.

*†*Mr. E. Thomas Massey, of Massey, has been elected a director in the Chestertown Bank of Maryland. The election of Mr. Massey completes the full board of directors.

*†*Mr. H. P. Skipper has purchased of Mr. William T. Wright 75 acres of land adjoining his farm in Queen Anne's just across the bridge, for $2500. It is understood Mr. Skipper will erect a handsome dwelling near Chester bridge.

*†*Prosecution of the Constable murder case, it is said, when all bills are paid will have cost Cecil county between $4000 and $5000. It would have made little difference if it had cost twice that amount if the guilty party could have been found.

*†*Mr. Barrett C. Smith has purchased of Mr. Frank Baxter, Alcantell, the handsome stallion formerly owned by State Veterinarian G. Allen Jarman, and more recently by Mr. Walter T. Marris.

*†*Moody & Lusby have another curiosity. This time it is a muskrat without any hind feet. It was killed in Muddy Creek by Albert Cronshaw. Go in and look at him, but don't forget that their mid-winter sale is on.

*†*Messrs. Turner & Son, the enterprising lumber, coal and grain dealers, of Betterton, will please accept our thanks for one of their handsome calendars. The scene is a beautiful moonlight on Long Island Sound, from a painting by W. Webber.

*†*A prominent agriculturalist of Kent county has paid $700 in freight to the Tolchester and Chester River Companies during the past year—$400 to the Tolchester and $300 to the Chester River Company. This will give the people some idea of how much beef is consumed in Kent county in the course of a year.

*†*Master Leonard Rawleigh, son of Sir Walter Rawleigh, and a companion went after muskrats on Tuesday down the river to Mr. Raymond Bowers' shore. The companion returned on Tuesday night, but Leonard remained all night and his relatives had become anxious about him. He turned up all right yesterday afternoon, and said he stayed in his shanty and had plenty to eat and a good warm fire.

An Interisting Discussion.

An interesting discussion arose in the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners on Tuesday relative to the money now on deposit in one of the banks to the order of the county commissioners. The money has simply been on deposit and has not been drawing interest, being subject to check. Mr. Loud, president of the board, offered a resolution, as will be seen by the minutes of the board published elsewhere, that the money be placed in a savings account to the credit of the county commissioners.

Mr. Davis offered a counter resolution that the money be transferred to the Treasurer of the connty and that he be ordered to place it in a savings account in some one of the banks. Mr. Davis contended that the county commissioners were not bonded officers, and therefore have no right to have any monies deposited to their credit; that the Treasurer of the county is a bonded officer and that all county monies should be deposited and accounted for by him. Messrs. Loud, Dudley and Ayres differed with Mr. Davis and by vote Mr. Loud's resolution prevailed and Mr. Davis' resolution was defeated.

WINTER'S FIRST BLIZZARD.

Stops Train, Blocks Highways, Freezes River, Closes Navigation—Severely Handicaps Business.

January 25th, 1905, will take its place in history as being the occasion of another fierce blizzard. The storm set in about five o'clock Tuesday afternoon, when huge flakes of snow began to fall. By night it was snowing hard, but there were no indications of what followed on the morrow, when as the day grew old the wind hauled around to the northwest and prepared to scamper over the land at a 35-mile-an-hour rate, picking up great clouds of snow and depositing them in the highways and railroad cuts to the discouragement of all kinds of travel. By night on Wednesday the wind was blowing a gale, and the snow, which had been falling the entire day, was drifting terribly. The Kent train made the morning trip to Massey with little trouble, but on the return she was held fast in huge banks of snow at Lambson, and beating her way from there to Chestertown, she pulled into the station here with the assistance of two engines, four hours late. Engines with snow plows attempted to keep the track clear in the late afternoon, but Conductor Welch received orders not to leave Chestertown on Thursday morning until "further notice." Two engines and the baggage car started out on Thursday afternoon, but it required the greater part of the afternoon to get as far as Worton. The afternoon train on the Queen Anne's road from Centreville got stuck at Massey on Wednesday night, and at last reports was still snowbound there.

The highways in many places are impassable, and all day Thursday and Friday farmers on horseback were breaking their way from the country to town, and many of them rode their horses up and down Main street to break tracks for the sleighs.

Rural route carriers were compelled to suspend operations, those who went out having encountered immense drifts. At six o'clock Wednesday evening the thermometer registered 10 degrees above zero, and Chester river soon became ice-locked, and water pipes and hydrants were seriously in danger.

The Emma A. Ford failed for the first time this winter to make her trip to Chestertown on Thursday. By morning the thermometer registered 2 degrees above and snow was piled up in all directions. Wednesday night was one of the fiercest nights seen in these parts for many years, and yet we have not learned of any loss of life or injury to stock. The snow on the level reached a depth of 12 inches, and furnished excellent sleighing in Chestertown.

Messrs. Walter T. Morris and J. T. Anthony served their milk routes on Thursday morning in their large cart-body sleds and few sleighs were seen on the streets in the afternoon.

Altogether it was one of the worst storms in years, and from reports it was general throughout the eastern part of the country. Travel has not been resumed to any extent on the highways, and the train is unable to make its trips. The streets of the town were cleared very nicely with a snow scoop and horses by Mr. Cannon, who deserves much credit for his generosity.

INCIDENTS OF THE STORM.

No mail, either out going or incoming since Wednesday noon. Rural routes blocked.

At no time has the thermometer registered lower than 2 degrees above zero. In the blizzard of '99, the thermometer registered 9 degrees below zero several days.

People living in the county have been breaking tracks in the roads on horseback.

There is a butter famine in Chestertown due to the blockade of the roads.

It is said that one man drove his sleigh down a part of Chester river on the ice on the Queen Anne's side yesterday morning.

Undertaker John N. Dodd and those who attended the funeral of the late John W. Fowler on Wednesday experienced considerable difficulty in reaching the cemetery through the heavy snow and wind.

It is expected that the train will be able to reach Massey this morning and the mails are expected.

Several upsets are reported but no accidents.

The snow is banked 10 feet high in some of the roads, and it will be some days before they are opened.

DON'T NEGLECT A COLD.

Neglected Colds Lead to Consumption.

PE-RU-NA CURES COLDS AND COUGHS.

How Pretty Miss Powell Was Restored to Health by Pe-ru-na.

Miss Lillian Powell, Aurora, Ind., writes:

"Last spring I caught a severe cold from getting my feet wet and being out in the rain, and in a day I had a most miserable cold, but I neglected it, thinking it would soon leave me. But it hung to me for two weeks, when I felt something must be done, as my condition was serious.

"I had heard so much about Peruna and in its praise that I bought a bottle and began taking it regularly. I was gratified to find that in a week the cold and cough was broken up, and three weeks' treatment completely restored my usual good health."—Lillian Powell.

How Consumption Develops.

Nine cases of consumption out of ten occur in this way:

A person catches cold. The cold is not properly cured, and another cold is caught.

This cold is dilly-dallied with, either by no treatment whatever or some treatment that is ineffectual, and the cold continues.

Then another cold is caught and a cough develops. Cough syrups are resorted to, but they give only temporary relief.

By and by the patient gets tired of taking medicines and cough syrups and gives up in despair.

The cold continues to develop and the cough grows worse.

Then the doctor is called in, only to discover that the patient is in the first stages of consumption.

It was just in this way that Miss Powell, of Aurora, Ind., became sick. She caught a cold, and not considering it serious, neglected it, thinking as many others do, that it would "wear off."

However, it clung to her tenaciously, and in two weeks she found her health in a serious condition.

Fortunately, Peruna had been brought to her notice, and she took a course of this remedy before it was too late.

In a week the cough and cold were broken, and a three weeks' treatment completely restored her to health.

This is what Peruna is doing all the while. Not a day, and probably not an hour passes in which some one does not have a similar experience with Peruna.

Cure the Slight Colds and Avoid Consumption.

The first step toward consumption is a cold. The next step is a failure to cure it promptly. The third step is the development of catarrh, which gradually becomes chronic. The fourth step, the catarrh begins to spread from the head to the throat, then to the bronchial tubes, and finally into the lungs. It is then consumption in the first stage.

At any time during the progress of catarrh, from the first onset of the cold to its final settlement in the lungs, Peruna can be relied upon to stop the disease. If you have taken a cold, buy Peruna without delay. One bottle in the beginning will do more good than a half dozen bottles after the catarrh has fastened itself on the lungs.

Thousands of Testimonials.

We have on file thousands of testimonials from people who have been cured of catarrh of the lungs by Peruna. We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements we are receiving every month. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.
