CHARLES L. MILLER.
Chairman Kent Co. Executive Com.
JOSEPH S. CLARK, Secretary.

HOWDE DO, BOSS! How's your ism? It's sizzin' some, ain't it?

HANDS OFF, MR. REPUBLICAN. This is a Democratic contest, and the Democrats will settle it without any interference. Be careful or the cat will be let out of the bag.

HON. CHARLES J. BONAPARTE, one of Baltimore's most prominent lawyers and public men, will become Secretary of the Navy by appointment by President Roosevelt to succeed Hon. Paul Morton, who retires July 1, to associate himself with the Ryan syndicate in New York. Mr. Bonaparte's selection by the President for such a responsible position has created quite a stir in Republican circles in the city and State.

NO REPUBLICAN should be allowed to vote in the coming Democratic primaries in Kent County. The primaries are for Democrats and those who have been identified with the Democratic party in years past, and if a Republican presents himself at the polls next Saturday to vote in the Democratic primaries, the judges will most assuredly turn him down. Let the judges see to it that no Republican if he should attempt such a thing, vote in Democratic primaries.

THE "Old Organization" has thrown down Mr. Thomas J. Fletcher as a candidate for County Commissioner and has announced Mr. William Wagner, of Edesville, as a substitute. Mr. Wagner was "brought out" at a meeting held last Friday afternoon at Tolchester in the Sixth District, and the meeting was presided over by Mr. Marion deK. Smith, of Chestertown. Mr. Fletcher feels the effect of his "throw-down" very keenly and his friends are very indignant.

A FALSEHOOD NAILED.

A Barroll member of the Convention from the Fifth district upon reaching home was heard to remark, "Well, I left the Hynson-Wickes wing because I thought they were trying to boss, but I think now that I have jumped from the frying pan into the fire."—Kent News.

We, the members of the County Executive Committee from the Fifth District, deny the above statement which appeared in last week's issue of the Kent News. We believe the action of the County Committee to be right and proper and entirely in accordance with the action of majority rule, and we neither made the statement, nor do we believe that anyone else made it, save possibly one of the editors of the Kent News, which seems to be endeavoring to create strife and discord in the party rather than to be working for harmony.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

☞ The columns of the TRANSCRIPT are open to the proper discussion of all topics of public interest or importance. Whether the editors agree with the sentiment expressed or not, the people should and may be heard through the TRANSCRIPT's columns—the paper will be the People's Forum from which they may be heard on all subjects—purely personal matter excepted. The Editors are not responsible in any manner for articles that appear in this column.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The Kent News' attempt to criticise Democratic party politics in 1905 is amusing. Where was it in 1895 and in 1899? During the summer of 1895 the writer was almost continuously a member of the household of one of the leading Republicans, and had opportunity of acquiring information as to the probable make-up of the Republican ticket. After considerable urging and with the promise that the acceptance of the nomination for State Senator would be followed by his being made his party's nominee for U. S. Senator, Mr. Chas. T. Westcott was induced to head his party's ticket. It was naturally desired to secure a combination of the greatest vote-getting elements from all possible sources. Candidates were selected for the various offices with little difficulty except a candidate for State's attorney. Mr. Westcott being the only Republican attorney in the county, to secure a candidate for that office it was necessary to borrow one from the opposition. After a thorough canvas it was found that the only legal gentlemen willing to abandon their party affiliations for personal preferment were John D. Urie, Esq., and Henry W. Catlin, Esq. The respective merits as vote-getters of these two gentlemen were much discussed before the selection was made. For Mr. Catlin it was urged that he was bright, attractive and persuasive, with apparently no enemies, and could induce those wavering in their political allegiance to support the ticket on which he was a candidate. For Mr. Urie it was urged that he was ambitious and energetic and had had large experience in practical politics, but the argument that clinched Mr. Urie's selection was the claim that he could secure the support of Mr. Wm. B. Usilton. Because of Mr. Urie's ability to deal with the Usiltons in a way favorable to the Republican ticket and just as favorable to the Usiltons printing business, Mr. Urie was selected. He is said to have secured Mr. Wm. B. Usilton's and Mr. Fred G. Usilton's vote for the entire Republican ticket together with a great deal of information and advice as to the proper conduct of the campaign.

On the night of the election of 1895 the writer went to the Enterprise office to hear the election results and found Mr. Westcott, Mr. Russell and Mr. Urie engaged in computing the various majorities. It was finally figured that Mr. Westcott was elected Senator by a majority of three votes and he was at once congratulated by Mr. Russell and in reply Mr. Westcott said: "Gentlemen, here is my entire majority. Without the votes of we three I should have been defeated." Mr. Urie then said: "That's not what won for you. A man and his four sons held off from voting until late in the afternoon and I was compelled to get Bill Usilton to help me vote them, and without those five votes you would have lost."

Immediately after the election of 1899 in a conversation with Mr. Vickers, Mr. Vickers plainly stated that the Usiltons had not given him the support that a Democratic candidate was entitled to receive at the hands of any and every fellow Democrat, and especially of those who fattened at the Democratic crib as had the Usiltons.

In the campaign of 1903 it was rumored that the Democratic ticket was not securing that support from the Kent News, and a Democratic office holder, that it was entitled to receive and Mr. Gorman was appealed to and he is said to have advised the above gentlemen to act the part of Democrats or change their political affiliations.

The present primary fight is not at all a fight between Mr. Hynson and Mr. Barroll; but it is a fight between Mr. Wm. B. Usilton and Marion deK. Smith on the one hand, and the true Democrats of Kent county on the other, and Mr. Hynson is merely being used by those gentlemen to land fish for the very men who defeated Mr. Hynson's ticket in 1899.

It is the consensus of opinion among Democrats and Republicans that whenever it has been to his personal profit Mr. Usilton has been a loyal Democrat and when it has suited his purposes to defeat Democratic candidates he has been loyal to his pocketbook.

VOTER.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The time for the holding of the Democratic primaries is about a week off. I have been watching the turn of affairs for some time, and I have been convinced from recent developments that this primary contest is a contest between Messrs. Smith and Usilton on the one side and the people of the county on the other. I was in Chestertown last Tuesday, and I was more canvinced of this fact than ever before. The law office of Mr. Marion deK. Smith was headquarters for the "Old Organization" candidates and leaders, and all day there was a going and coming to and from Mr. Smith's office. My attention was called to it while standing on the court house green, and I said, "I thought this was a fight between Hynson and Barroll." "No," said my friend, "this is just as much a fight between Usilton and Smith and the people as it was two years ago." I was also told that secret meetings are being held in Mr. Smith's office every night or so, and that he and Mr. Usilton are doing most of the planning and scheeming, and the others are carrying out their plans. Now, Messrs. editors, I want to say that I am a Democrat. I have always voted the straight Democratic ticket, and I have followed the lead of the old machine in years past when I have voted the Demouratic ticket, and they have turned the county over to the Republicans just whenever it suited their purposes best. I have learned from experience that the Democratic party is in a dangerous position under the leadership of Messrs. Usilton and Smith, and if the Democratic ticket could be elected two years ago by a majority of 200, with the people interested in the success of the party as they were then and are now, when years before the greater part of the ticket had been defeated in every election, I say that it is time to wrench the party from the control of people who have no more interest in it than to further their own financial interests. Kent county is naturally a Democratic county. The people of the county are opposed to Republican rule and Republican extravagance in the expenditures of the tax-payers' money, and if the people of the county are given a voice in the naming of a ticket, and are allowed to manage their own party affairs, they can elect a Democratic ticket at every election just as they did two years ago, and just as they did, so far as Kent county is concerned, last fall. It is not the fault of the people of the county that Democratic tickets have been defeated in the past. It is the fault of those leaders of the party who have seen fit to use their influence to defeat the party every time they did not get a ticket to their liking.

The people of the county have simply gotten tired of the leadership of Messrs. Usilton and Smith, and it seems to me that they are more determined than ever to conduct their own affairs. Nobody would object to Messrs. Usilton and Smith leading the party forces if they would be willing to give and take. Every party must have a leader; but they don't want leaders who want everything themselves and are not willing to give anybody else anything. They may say all they please about the People's faction, or the "Barroll faction" or whatever they chose to call it, I am satisfied that this People's faction of the party is working for the interest of the Democratic party and for the interest of the tax-payers of the county. This is the kind of leadership the people want. They want a government for and by the people, and that looks after the financial interests of all the people. They have brought out candidates that any Democrat can support. Who is ashamed of Geo. B. McWhorter, W. T. Nicholson, Chas. D. Wood, Dr. Hessey or Biddle Hossinger? They are as good men and loyal Democrats as any man could ask for, and they are entitled to recognition. There is no need to bring out candidates against these men. The people in the districts named them and not any one or two men in Chestertown. The People's faction won the primaries two years ago, and got control of the county. They had the right to name the ticket, and why should there have been a fight? For no other reason than the desire on the part of the old leaders to attempt to regain their power. Messrs. Editors, I have always been an organization Democrat; have followed the party in its ups and downs, but I believe the people are right this time, and I am going to support their nominees this time. The people are determined to rule in Kent county, and they are determined to work for the best interests of the Democratic party. I hope every Democrat in the county will do as I intend to do, vote with the people.

VOTER.

Chestertown, Md., May 29, 1905.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I ask, for the first time in my life, a place in your columns to give expression to some of my ideas of the political situation. My connection with politics has never before assumed a more conspicuous attitude than a perfunctory visit to the polls, and the casting of my vote for those candidates the Democratic party has always nominated in convention assembled. I have never allied myself with any faction, nor do I wish to be considered as taking a stand with the Barroll men, simply because this article appears in the official organ of the People's wing of the Democratic party in Kent. It never occurred to me to ask the Kent News to publlsh it. That paper is too silent on questions that affect the public weal, and too blatant on those that pertain to the all-absorbing policy of putting "money in thy pocket." I know the gentlemen of the TRANSCRIPT to be conservative, fair-minded men, alive to all the interests of our commonwealth, be they political or otherwise, therefore, I go to them with my views.

I am led to say what I have to say by a blazing head-line in last week's Kent News, reading BOSSISM! Now, no one, not even the dearest foe of the Kent News, will for a moment deny them the right to place this word at the head of their columns. So long have they been connected with machine-ism, mugwump-ism, fusion-ism, republican-ism, and every other ism known to the political world that none are better educated in that principle which, according to the News, involves them all—Bossism. It is a little interesting, however, to note their application of the term. It has for them a sort of "now-you-see-it" and "now-you-don't-see-it" meaning. Visible at the head of their columns it means "we are not the bosses;" invisible, it means we are right in the band wagon. Expressed, it means the county is in the hands of a roaring lion and about to be devoured. Unexpressed, it means a safe, sane and sound Democracy is at the helm. Uttered, it is the despairing cry of the warior chief; unuttered, it is the exulting paeon of victory. Pronounced, it is the far cry for help; unpronounced, it is indicative of a safe and sure campaign. Visible, it is a term of reproach; invisible, it is a halo of purity surrounding the heads of pious Billy and all his coharts. At the head of their columns it is a puerile, asinine, unpolitic attempt to bamboozle an intelligent people into the belief that the Kent News is the champion of the people, the protector of their rights, and the standard-bearer of Democratic principles.

Gentlemen of the so-called Organization, you had better keep those children quiet, or they will arouse such a crowd of disgusted Democrats, as will teach you organizers what true Democracy means, and what intelligent leadership, and not bossism, implies.

Now, Bossism implies power. Power sets pleasantly upon the shoulders of all us mortals here below. None would refuse influential positions, nor do many people deem it a reproach to enjoy the confidence of their fellowmen. It is a tribute to our worth as citizens and honest men. The Kent News seeks, however, to upbraid a faction which has gained supremacy in Kent's politics. Does it deny it would have liked to control that meeting of the executive committee? If Bossism is such an approbrious term, so full of vileness and political guile, would the Old Organization have cared to pose as bosses? Is that faction of the Democratic party in Kent composed of little children, ready to be bossed? If they are, why should they kick, since they have found their bosses. If they are not, and would like to assume the position of bosses, why should their official organ seek to bring discredit upon the term Bossism? If the Barroll faction had not bossed that meeting, who would have? The answer is plain—then the Kent News would have blazoned forth the political rot that all was calm and serene, or else would have gloried in a victorious consummation of weeks of political wire-pulling.

Away with all such hypocritical bleatings of hungry wolves in sheep's clothing. In itself it is disgusting and insulting to the intellects of a discerning community; in effect it can do nothing but make capital for the Barroll faction. For myself I shall vote as I have never done before—against all such combinations that allow such hoodlums to herald forth such weak and loathsome sentiments.

Yours, INDEPENDENT.

DEAR SIRS:—It is very apparent to every citizen in Chestertown that the "Old Organization" which is nothing more nor less than Mr. William B. Usilton, is depending upon carrying the Primaries by the aid of the "Republican organization" and Republican votes. It is a thing which is plain to anyone who even glances at it. Daily and nightly conferences between William B. Usilton, Fred G. Usilton and John David Urie in the office of the latter, who is the leader of the Republican Party, and in the Kent News office and at the back door of the Kent News office are enough to open the eyes of every Democrat in the county. If a person walks in the office of the Kent News at night and sees Fred G. Usilton and John David Urie with their heads stuck together, and observes the astonished look on the face of each, as if they were caught in the act, he cannot but instantly conclude that they are plotting at this particular time for the delivery of Republican votes to aid the Democratic Machine. The fact that such deals have been successfully carried out and satisfactorily concluded, for the delivery of Democratic voter to the Republicans, in past elections, is a fact that is well known by Mr. Hynson, Mr. Vickers, Mr. Slay and others who have felt the full force of its effect. Let us this time denounce and boldly carry out the declaration that no Republican can vote at our Primary. That if he attempts to do so let him understand there will be trouble. Let the word be passed all over Kent county that this is to be a Democratic Primary and only Democrats shall vote. Let this be particulary so in Chestertown where the deal is too apparent and open, not to be well known, and where it is not even attempted to be disguised by the leader of the old organization, William B. Usilton. Our call shows that only those who "have been recognized as Democrats" have the right to vote in this Primary. This does not mean men who are now trying to pose as Democrats and who have heretofore voted with the Republican party. It means that those who have been recognized as Republicans shall not vote in our Primary. It means, as the call issued by the Democratic State Central Committee in Baltimore City last week designated, that only all good Democrats who have been recognized as such have the right to so vote. Every Republican who offers his vote ought to be challenged and that promptly. The Judges should not accept the votes of Republicans who try to vote improperly in a Democratic Primary.

DEMOCRAT.

QUEEN ANNE'S DEMOCRATS.

The 35 delegates elected in the Democratic primaries last Saturday in Queen Anne's county assembled in convention in Centreville on Tuesday and nominated the following ticket:

House of delegates—John Rochester, Frank H. Phillips, and Eugene L. Dudley.
Clerk of the Circuit Court—John E. George.
County Commissioners—John P. Roe and George L. Harrison.
Road Commissioner—James F. Boyles.
Sheriff—P. T. Potts.
Surveyor—Gueney Knotts.
Delegates to the State Convention—John C. Hackett, Salisberry Seney, W. Scott Roberts and Wm. J. Price, Jr.

The resolutions indorsed the constitutional amendment and recommended its "support and adoption not only to Democrats, but also to all intelligent citizens of the county, irrespective of party affiliations, believing its adoption will result largely to the future welfare of all citizens of Maryland, irrespective of race or color."
