MRS. KING PAYS IT HIGH TRIBUTE

Declares Tanlac Completely Overcame Indigestion, Palpitation, Dizziness and General Weakness.

Tanlac has made a healthy, happy woman ofme, and I think it is the grandest medicine ever made," declared Mrs. Sallie King, a highly esteemed resident of 1815 N. Durham St., Baltimore, recently.

"For many years, I suffered from a terrible case of stomach trouble, and finally got so weak and run down that I often had to stop my housework and lie down. Everything I ate disagreed with me. Gas pains, bloating and palpitation kept me in misery and I had a pain under my heart that was agony. Constipation was always troubling me and I had blinding headaches and such dizzy spells that I could hardly stay on my feet. My limbs were so stiff and painful that to even climb the stairs meant suffering and I simply felt like a cripple. I was extremely nervous too, and my sleep at night was always broken and restless.

"I wish I could tell every sufferer in the world of the wonderful help Tanlac has been to me. All those dreadful pains and aches have gone away, the Vegetable Pills have overcome my constipation, and I am eating, sleeping and feeling fine. I never expect to be without Tanlac any more."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35-million bottles solld. —Adv.

WASHINGTON QUINT HAILED AS CHAMPIONS

Captured 19 Games During Season—Only Beaten Twice—Tackled Navy in Poor Form, and P. M. C. Defeat Was Unexpected.

It isn't every year that Maryland produces an amateur sports team or individual of a caliber that would cause it to rank with the best of its type in the country. Particularly is it true that the occasions are rare when one of the State colleges is able to turn out a major sports combination of the finished variety that woulld warrant its meeting, with fair chances for success, the best that the rest of the country has to offer.

Washington College, in its 1923 championship basketball team, it seems, has attained those dizzy heights. The record of this year's State titleholders is most impressive, one of which the school and its supporters—indeed, the entire State—may well feel proud. Out of a total of 21 games played—11 of them on foreign floors—Tom Kibler's Eastern Shoremen have won 19.

The two blots on the almost spotless escutcheon of Washington College wede made by Navy, in the first game of the season, at Annapolis, and Pennsylvania Military College, at Chester, on February 20. The Middies achieved their triumph over the Maroon and Black by a margin of less than 10 points. The Chester Cadets were more surprised than the Maryland fans when they got a single point decision over the Old Line Staters, who at the time of the game had rolled up a string of 15 successive victories.

It is questionable if Navy could now repeat its early season victory over Washington. Certainly P. M. C. could not in ten attempts. In the Navy game the Eastern Shoremen were in poor condition, even for a season's initial effort. Navy was in far better shape to stand the sizzling pace and proved it by coming from behind in both halves and forging to the front after the visitors had in each period taken a lead in the early stages.

When the Pennsylvanians scored their triumph the Washington players had no excuse other than overconfidence. The latter probably tells the tale, for Washington had easily defeated St. John's, which previous to that had taken a fall out of P. M. C. on the latter's floor. In addition to these factors it was a foul called less than a minute before the end of the game that gave the Chester cagers the winning point.

What is, however, the most remarkable feature of the campaign of Kibler's pupils can be found in the achievements on the Southern trip, begun in Quantico, Va., on January 8 and completed in Baltimore five days later. Six games were played by the touring five in six days and six victories was the result. The Marines, Washington and Lee, 1922 South Atlantic chompions; V. M. I., V. P. I., Catholic University and Loyola were the victims in order. And not one of them could be considered a "set-up."

The victory over Dickinson was another high spot in the record. The Carlisle floormen had conquered Penn on the latter's court. Penn annually is represented by one of the leading quints of the East. But Dickinson was limited to 12 points when it invaded Chestertown.

Two defeats each was the result of Mount St. Mary's, Loyola and St. John's attempt to halt the Flying Penagon. Blue Ridge, the other State College team to face Washington, also met with disaster.

With the possible exception of the West Point Wonder Team, Washington probably would enter a contest with any college team in the country with fully as good as an even chance of emerging victorious.

COUNCIL TO MEET AT STILL POND

At an executive meeting of the Kent County Council for Home Demonstration Work held on Monday of this week, an invitation to hold the next all-day meeting at Still Pond on March 26th, was extended by the ladies of Still Pond and was accepted by the Council. Previous to this time, the Council meetings have been held at Chestertown, and it was decided a good plan to hold the next meeting in another section of the county.

The executive committee after discussing, at length, the needs of the farm women, decided that inasmuch as many farm women will be compelled to manage farm homes without the aid of outside help, that the Council should do all that is possible to spread farm and home practices that will lighten her work.

It was decided that the all-day Council meeting be held in the Still Pond Grange Hall on Monday, March 26th. The meeting will begin promptly at 10 a. m. An evening session will be held.

The Council, in co-operation with Miss Susan V. Hill, the County Home Demonstration Agent, are planning a grogram for this meeting and have secured Miss Bertha Knight. Mrs. Marian C. Bell and W. R. Ballard, Extension Specialists, as speakers. This will be one of the best meetings ever held in the county. Remember the date, March 26th.

The Public's Interest In Telephone Earnings

The public is directly interested in the quality of service furnished by this Company and what it pays for such service.

It follows then that the public is concerned in the Company's earnings, because if the earnings are inadequate, the service cannot be maintained at a high standard. On the other hand, if earnings are excessive, the public is entitled to lower rates.

The aim of this Company has always been to charge rates that will yield a fair but not excessive return on the investment. This is necessary to attract the new capital required to keep step with the growth and progress of the community.

When we were forced finally to seek relief through increased rates, we did not ask the Public Service Commission to approve rates high enough to yield a fair return. We hoped that the future would bring reductions in costs and that increased efficiency would be obtained. This, together with moderate increases in rates, we hoped would result within a reasonable time in providing sufficient revenues to yield a fair return.

The Commission, in authorizing our rate increases, stated that the new rates would yield a return of about 5.3% on the value of our property.

During the two years that have passed since these rates were established, we have directed every energy toward furnishing the best possible service and toward the effecting of economies so that our investors might be afforded the return to which they are entitled.

During 1922 our earnings were at the rate of 5.05% on our investment in Maryland.

The return is still inadequate, being less than the legal interest rate. But we have made progress and this gives us confidence that with our present rates we can, by constantly increasing efficiency and persistent economy, earn a return sufficient to attract the new capital necessary to permit us to expand our system.
