A HAPPY MAN.

Ah, life looks very bright to me
Since I have heard her say,
With sweet, becoming modesty,
She'll marry me some day—

If I will give up smoking;
If I will go to church;
If I will cut the club and leave
My best friends in the lurch;
If I will never stay out late,
But hasten home at 9;
If I will let her have her way—
She's promised to be mine.

If I will move to Brooklyn;
And never touch a card;
If I will buckle down to work,
And labor long and hard
To buy her stylish bonnets,
And gowns, and lots of gloves;
Then I may be that happy man,
The lucky man she loves.

If I'll be always pleasant,
And never, never scold;
And never make her nurse me,
And not grow cross and old;
And always stay good looking—
She can't stand ugly men—
If I come up to her ideal,
Why, we'll be married then!

That's why I'm so happy,
And why I often seem
Unconscious and abstracted—
I'm living in a dream;
She is so sweet and pretty,
And so unselfish, too!
I wonder how I won her love—
I can't beleive its true!

The Hindoo's Use of His Feet.

In the native quarters of the towns of India the strange spectacle may be seen of a butcher seizing a piece of meat in his hands and cutting it in two with a stroke of his knife held between the first and second toes of his foot. The shoemaker uses no last, but turns the unfinished shoe with his feet, while his hands are busy in shaping it. So the carpenter holds with his great toes the board he is cutting and the wood-turner handles his tools as well with his toes as with his fingers. The use of the feet to assist the hands in their labor is not, however, the mere result of practice, but is principally due to the fact that the Hindoo foot is quite different from ours in its anatomical conformation. The ankle of the Hindoo and the articulation of the back of the foot, permit considerable lateral motion. Then the toes possess a surprising mobility. The great toe can be moved freely in all directions and the first and second toes are separated by a wide space, sometimes as much as five-eighths of an inch across at the base of the toes and two inches at their extremities. The articulation of the hip is also peculiar, and this renders it easier to use the toes in handling the objects by enabling the Hindoo to sit in a squatting posture much more comfortably than we can do. A similar formation of the feet and toes is found among the Annamese, but it is not, as might be supposed, a common thing among barbarous and savage tribes. One naturally thinks of the resemblance to a monkey which a human being using both feet and hands must present, and yet M. Regnault is careful to point out the fact that the Hindoo foot is not at all like the foot of an ape or monkey. The great toe is not opposed to the other toes like a thumb, as occurs with the monkey, and accordingly the pedal dexterity of the Hindoos is not to be taken as an indication of simian descent.—Pearson's Weekly.

Its a Curious Woman

who can't have confidence in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Here is a tonic for tired-out womanhood, a remedy for all its peculiar ills and ailments—and if it doesn't help you, there's nothing to pay.

What more can you ask for, in a medicine?

The "Prescription" will build up, strenghten, and invigorate the entire female system. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions, improved indigestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and vigor. In "female complaints" of every kind and in all chronic weaknesses and derangements, it's the only guaranteed remedy. If it does't benefit or cure, in the case of every tired-out or suffering woman, she'll have her money back.

Nothing urged in its place by a dealer, though it may be better for him to sell, can be "just as good" for you to buy.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation, piles, biliousness, indigestion and headaches.

NORTHERN TRAVLER—"Why don't you put up time-tables in the station?"

Southern Station Agent—"What fo'?"

Northern Traveler—"To show what time the trains arrive."

Southern Station Agent (scornfully)—"Howse we goin' to make out a table showin' what time the trains get hyah till we see what time they does get hyah?" Puck.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale: Dr. Kings New Discovery, for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at M. A. Toulson's Drug Store.

PEGG—"Sometimes the absolute faith my boy has in my wisdom makes me almost ashamed of myself."

Potts—"You need not worry. It will average up all right. By the time he is 20 he will think you know nothing at all."—Tit Bits.

THE thinnest, and at the same time one of the toughest, leathers tanned is a frog's skin.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and postively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by M. A. Toulson, Chestertown, Md.
