DOWN IN OLD VIRGINIA.

Mr. James D. Jerome, of Merry Point, Virginia, wites that he has gotten comfortably fixed in his new habitation. Mr. Jerome until recently resided in Kent County and for a number of years lived at Bogles, Eastern Neck Island, where he engaged extensively in the oyster business. He purchased a fine timber tract in Virginia last summer, and moved there last November. His farm is situated directly on the Rappahannock River, at Merry Point, having a fine view both up and down the river. Steamers of the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Railway Company ply up the river. The people of the surrounding country are extensively engaged in agriculture also the oyster industry, occupying the attention of a large number, the products both are shipped to Baltimore and Northern Cities. Mr. Jerome in addition to his agriculture pursuits expects to engage in the oyster industry on an extensive plan, as he is a veteran along this line, we predict for him a bright future in his new field of labor. He reports the oyster industry far in the lead of that in Maryland waters, the oyster large in size and highly flavored.

In the spring Mr. Jerome contemplates erecting a large and comfortable dwelling and when finished will have a beautiful home. We also venture another prediction as our friend is a bachelor, we expect soon to hear that one of the fair daughters of the Old Dominion has completely captured him and that he will not spend the remainder of his days in "single blessedness."

His many friends here will be glad to hear from him at any time, as he will no doubt be pleased to see his friends from Kent at his new home and enjoy the rare sport that both the waters and forests afford.

$10 A TON FOR TOMATOES

Growers Demand This Amount but Canners Contend That it Would be Fatal to Them.

Farmers of the Eastern and Western Shore tomato growing counties and in the Delaware tomato regions are out for higher contract prices for this year's crop. It is expected that a declaration of $9 or $10 a ton for tomatoes will be made as a result of a series of meetings held and to be held in the tomato growing sections.

At a meeting of farmers held in Crisfield last week 400 acres were represented and the growers finally settled upon $10 per ton as the price to be asked for the coming season. In several other counties the price has been fixed at $8. This lack of uniformity threatens to defeat the primary object of these meetings, and a general convention of delegates from all of the tomato growing sections is suggested, at which a fixed price may be decided upon.

The canned product of last season is in the hands of a canned goods trust, and the canned tomato has reached the record price. The tendency is still to soar, and a canned goods broker said that he expected to see canned tomatoes reach the $1.50 point in less than thirty days. These conditions are largely the outcome of the general shortage of the tomato facreage last year, followed by an almost total failure of the crop.

The small acreage planted by the tomato farmers for last season's pack was due largely to the failure of the packers and growers to get together on prices. The growers then insisted upon $8, $9 and $10 the ton, which demand the packers refused to accede to. In consequence, many farmers refused to plant, and others put in limited patches, the yields of which they sold, leaving a heavy shortage of the contract vegetable at the command of the packers. As a result the independent growers who had crops sold them at from $12 to $20 the ton, which the packers were forced to take to meet future demands.

In view of the fact that the market is already bare of the canned product, with a strong demand and an upward tendency in price, the growers declare that unless the packers meet their demands for better prices they will plant full acreages this coming spring and take chances in the open markets.

The packers contend that the prevailing conditions are unusual, and that it would be fatal for them to contract at the $10 price. They insist that if there were assurances that the present prices for canned tomatoes would continue, there would be trouble in meeting the demands of the growers. While unwilling to commit themselves, it is believed that they would be willing to compromise on $8 the ton. At this price, with fair yields, there is good profit to the grower.

Maryland is one of the greatest tomato growing states in the country, and the sparring foe advantage now taking place between the growers and the packers is being closely watched by all branches of the packing industry throughout the United States. The canned tomato is one of the great canned staples of the world, and is daily growing in popularity.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

M. A. TOULSON
DRUGGIST.

Here is an Appeal to Your Common Sense and Best Judgement.

Fierce attacks, born in malice, have lately been made, in true "yellow journal" style, against certain ready-made medicines beloved by the people, relied on, and handed down from father to son as household remedies that could not be done without. These attacks were made to sell more papers and to make notoriety for the publishers who design to rob the people of that confidence that have had for years in the medicines that have cured them and their parents. Dr. Bulls Cough Syrup is one remedy that has thus been slandered.

To make this slander plausible it is stated that ready-made medicines contain only harmful drugs; that they kill but never cure and that people are fooled by fake testimonials. This proves the malice. Why? Statistics show that out of 418 deaths from drugs in the United States in the last six months, only nine could be charged to proprietary medicines, and these cases no doubt occurred because overdoses were swallowed, or all that was in the bottle.

Again, they say that such medicines do not help the sick but that in every illness the doctor should be called. Now, it stands to reason that ready made medicines contain the same drugs that the doctors write down on their prescriptions. You can not cure coughs or colds with physical culture and sugar water; but when you take the ready made medicine you ought to use the same care, and follow the directions, as you would with the doctor's medicine that was put up at the drug store. What would happen, if by mistake you drank a whole bottle of the strychnine tonic that your doctor ordered in teaspoonful doses?

The old reliable Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is a doctor's prescription and a mighty good one. It effected wonderful cures when used in practice and put up at drug stores. Since then, in the hands of a house that compounds it on honor, it has cured tens of thousands of coughs and colds and it has been placed in the reach of all at only 25 cents a bottle, with not a cent to pay the doctor. In fact it is the envy of physicians for it has often cured where they have failed.

All this we say because we know the testimonials published are genuine. There is not a fake among them. No man, woman nor child has ever been fooled by one that has been published, for the original letter is always on file. Who then, is false to the public; he who would drive all to the doctor or he who puts before it a sterling remedy for the low price of 25 cents, like Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup?

IN MEMORIAM

FOWLER:—In loving remembrance of our loving father, John W., who departed from this life one year ago today, Jan. 23rd, 1905.

Jesus while our hearts are bleeding
O'er the spoils that death has won,
We would at this solemn meeting
Calmly say, thy will be done.

Though cast down, we're not forsaken;
Though afflicted not alone.
Thou didst give and thou has taken;
Blessed Lord, thy will be done.

Though today we're filled with mourning
Mercy still is on the throne:
With thy smiles of love returning,
We can say,—Thy will be done.

By thy hands the boon was given,
Thou has taken but thine own:
Lord of earth and God of heaven,
Evermore—Thy will be done.
