approval of the Vestry, they have unanimously instructed me to say that it would not only meet their cordial approval, but that they would also warmly unite with your friends in recommending it.

In regard to a suggestion of yours through Mr. Lyman, that you would supply us with a Minister in your absence. the Vestry have also had this under consideration. If you should prefer this course, it would meet with the approbation of the Vestry but as they are satisfied that they can keep the Church open regularly, and will have no difficulty in securing the services of a Minister in your absence they will not ask this at your hands.

The Vestry have also had under consideration some disposition of the Parsonage during your absence, they are fearfull it may suffer injury from want of an occupant. There is an excellent tenant now offered us who will take charge of it, providing she can have the Dwelling. If it will meet your approbation, the Vestry will rent the house for the length of time. The Person offering is Mrs. Pottinger, whom you will remember as one of the oldest, and most exemplary members of the Church. Please [illegible] your wishes on this subject.

With the best wishes of the Vestry officially and of myself individually, that you may have a pleasant and agreeable voyage and a speedy and complete restoration to health. I remain Rev. & Dear Sir your
