THE Town Commissioners in another column wisely call attention to the ordinance requiring all dogs to be muzzeled. Mad dogs have bitten children at Chesterville and Sassafras and it is hoped that owners here will obey these orders. One child's life is worth more than all the dogs in town.

THE request for an appropiration to build a sanitarium is one of the most deserving bills now in the Maryland Legislature. According to Senate Moore, of Worcester, there are ten thousand afflicted with consumption, and twenty-five hundred die annually in Maryland. There has been much advancement in the treatment of this disease in late years, and every doctor believes its ravages may be greatly diminished. If the Legislature would spend $100,000 in saving life rather than in spending it on a jubilee or exposition they would show better judgment and better prove their fitness to be represenatives of the people.

The Town Charter.

On the second page of the NEWS today will be found the Act which has been introduced in the House of Delegates by Mr. Crane making amendments to the charter of Chestertown. The effort was made two years ago to secure a number of these amendments, but the Legislature failed to enact the law.

The Act now desired is of vital importance to the town and cannot reasonably be objected to by any one having the interest of the town in view. It is simply the addition of certain provisions to the town charter which the authorities have found to be necessary in the administration of our municipal affairs. The changes made in the old charter are simply these—

1.—Authorizing the Commissioners to purchase and hold real estate for the benefit of the town to an amount not exceeding one thousand dollars and providing that such real estate shall be limited to gravel and sand lots.

2.—Giving Bailiffs the power of Constables within the limits of the town.

3.—Giving Police Magistrates jurisdiction in all violations of town ordinances.

4.—Providing for the collection of costs for removing snow from pavements where owners of property refuse to do so. Also the removal of structures which become a menace to adjoining property.

The Act is expected to go through the Legislature without delay, as there is no ground whatever for any objection to the measure. The bailiffs have been embarrassed for years for lack of authority to make arrests in certain cases, while the town Commissioners feel the need of facilities for procuring gravel at less cost than they are now compelled to pay. The sand lot opposite Chester Cemetery which has been used for about twenty years and is now exhausted, was one of the town's best investments. The plan to secure another lot is a most sensible one and is endorsed by our citizens universally.

To Incorporate Betterton.

A strong and representative delegation of Betterton citizens went to Annapolis this week to urge the adoption of the Betterton Incorporation bill. Among those in the party were Messrs. J. A. Bowman, Jack Owens, Wm. Owens, James Crew, Arthur Emerson, Howard Turner and others.

Reform in Spelling.

Anent the suggestion made time and again editorially by the NEWS that some of the useless and time consuming "frills" be cut out and more time be given to spelling we are glad to see that the subject is being agitated all over the country. Prof. Melvin, Kent's able examiner, is taking the lead in Kent, and the teachers are lending him every assistance. A national association to simplify and encourage spelling has been formed and Andrew Carnegie is furnishing the money to carry on the work.

The old time "spelling bee" may yet be rejuvenated and the friendly rivalry be encouraged among all the children in our public schools.

THE bill offered by Mr. D. P. Smith in the House to prohibit non-residents from fishing in the waters wholly within this county or adjacent thereto so far as county rights are concerned, except by hook and line, passed both Houses and was signed by the Governor. It is now a law and will be enforced against offenders. The fishermen from Kent county, who for several years have fished in waters belonging to this county have the present season acted more like pirates than honorable civilized citizens of the state, hence the passage of the law.—Record.

Don't be so hard, Brother Roberts, else we might get offended. The fishermen of Kent are an industrious class of men, and as a rule, are men of character. Be sure the pirates were not natives of your own sod before making such a grave charge.

THE regularity with which Conductor Welch and Engineer Reed bring their trains into Chestertown is to be commended. It is unusual for the train to be late.

A REWARD of $500 was offered for the capture of Winder, the negro murderer, who escaped from Towson jail and is still at large. Now it is announced that this reward will not be paid if the murderer is killed in capturing him. This is strange doings. Why don't the authorities change the offer so as to make the reward payable for the capture, dead or alive? This whole affair is a blunder from beginning to now. It looks like woeful ignorance or indifference.

An Able Speech.

Senator Isidor Rayner made an able speech in the United States Senate last Wednesday on the railway rate bill. Mr. Rayner said this subject is one of supreme importance "If I were asked," said he, "to define at the present moment and under existing conditions which one of the powers of Congress under the Constitution was of the greatest interest to the country, I would immediately select the power to regulate commerce among the several States."
