Strike Quickly.

"On the instant when a lion shows his temper" said a famous lion tamer "cut him quickly over the face. Don't wait until he springs at you." This is equally good advice for treating the lion of disease. Many an attack of dangerous illness would be headed off if at the first premonitory symptoms the victim would strike quickly.

Those severe coughs, bronchial affections and wasting diseases which merge into consumption would never get their savage teeth into the constitution if their early signs were headed off by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It provides such an abundance of rich nourishing blood that tuberculosis germs have no chance to get any lodgment in the lungs. It clears the skin and purges all the impurities from every organ. It invigorates the liver to expel all bilious poisons from the circulation. It creates healthy tissue, vitalized nerve fiber and gives solid strength.

"I have thought for a long time," writes Mrs. Rose Petty, of Lockville, Chatham Co., N. C., "that I would not do you justice if I did not write and tell you how I was cured of that dreadful disease called consumption, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I had measles and pneumonia both at the same time, and came near dying, and as soon as I was able to go out I was taken with grip, and then followed consumption. My physician did all he could for my relief but I received none. I tried everything that I could hear of that was good for a cough but grew worse, and would have died soon had I not commenced using the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I felt improved before the first bottle was finished. I took six bottles, and after that I felt better and stronger than in ten years before. That was six years ago, and to-day do not feel any symptoms of a return of the disease. I remain cured, and I think I am the cause of a friend being cured by using the same medicine. He was afflicted as I was, and after every thing failed to cure him he took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and was cured."

THE CRYSTAL HOUR.

Amethyst, crimson and beryl,
A splendor of infinite sea,
In fathomless floods of beauty and peril
From the deeps of eternity.

With stately reverberant motion
And the breakers' whish and din,
The ceaseless anthem of turbulent ocean,
The surf comes rolling in.

While dim in the distance hover
The sea birds, a white winged fleet,
And exhausted waves, their ecstasy over,
Make ripple marks at our feet.

Soothed is the flush and the fever
Of earthly passion and power,
And the rested heart shall treasure forever
The touch of this crystal hour.

BREAD OF THE NATIONS.

How the Staff of Life Is Made Among Various Peoples.

It is a curious and interesting study to compare the various materials which serve the different nations of the world as the basis of their bread. In this country, where good bread, made from spring and fall wheat flour, is within reach of all, rarely a thought is given to the fact that, after all, the inhabitants of only a small portion of the earth's surface enjoy such food. In the remoter part of Sweden the poor make and bake their rye bread twice a year and store the loaves away, so that eventually they are as hard as bricks.

Farther north still bread is made from barley and oats. In Lapland oats, with the inner bark of the pine, are used. The two together, well ground and mixed, are made into large, flat cakes, cooked in a pan over a fire. In dreary Kamchatka pine or birch bark by itself, well macerated, pounded and baked, frequently constitutes the whole of the native bread food. The Icelander scrapes the "Iceland moss" off the rocks and grinds it into flour, which serves both for bread and for puddings.

In some parts of Siberia, China and other eastern countries a fairly palatable bread is made from buckwheat. In parts of Italy chestnuts are cooked, ground into meal and used for making bread. Durra, a variety of the millet, is much used in the countries of India, Egypt, Arabia and Asia Minor for making bread. Rice bread is the staple food of the Chinese, Japanese and a large portion of the inhabitants of India.

In Persia the bread is made from rice, flour and milk; it is called "lawash." The Persian oven is built in the ground, about the size of a barrel. The sides are smooth mason work. The fire is built at the bottom and kept burning until the walls or sides of the oven are thoroughly heated. Enough dough to form a sheet about one foot wide and about two feet long is thrown on the bench and rolled until about as thin as sole leather, then it is taken up and tossed and rolled from one arm to the other and flung on the board and slapped on the side of the oven. It takes only a few moments to bake and when baked it is spread out to cool. This bread is cheap (1 cent a sheet); it is sweet and nourishing.

A specimen of the "hunger bread" from Armenia is made of clover seed, flax or linseed meal, mixed with edible grass. In the Moluccа islands, the starchy pith of the sago palm furnishes a white, floury meal. This is made up into flat, oblong leaves, which are baked in curious little ovens, each being divided into oblong cells to receive the loaves.

Bread is also made of roots in some parts of Africa and South America. It is made from manioc tubers. These roots are a deadly poison if eaten in the raw state, but make a good food if properly prepared. To prepare it for bread the roots are soaked for several days in water, thus washing out the poison. The fibers are picked out, dried and ground into flour. This is mixed with milk, if obtainable; if not, water is used. The dough is formed into little round loaves and baked in hot ashes or dried in the sun.—Sanitary Record.

SIZE AND FEEDING.

A Popular Theory That Has Destroyed the Value of Much Work.

Professor Haecker says: It has been time and again demonstrated at the Minnesota experiment station that there are large cows with comparatively small feeding capacity, and, on the other hand, some of the small cows had even greater feeding and digesting capacity than some of the larger ones. There is no one rule of feeding that has led astray so considerable a number of our American experimenters and destroyed the practical value of their work as the one declaring that animals should be fed according to their size.

Some cows with short legs and light quarters will barely raise the beam at 900 pounds, and yet, having a very capacious middle, will eat and digest more than others with long, heavy quarters, with a comparatively light body and weighing 1,200 pounds. It has been clearly shown in our experiments in cost of production that small or medium cows have greater digesting capacity in proportion to their size than large cows. Indeed this seems to hold good with all our domestic animals, not only so far as feeding capacity is concerned, but in strength and endurance as well. In breeding to increase size we always fail to increase stregth and endurance or speed in the same proportion.

That the cost of maintenance is fairly measured by the size of an animal is true only in a general way. We must always take temperament into account. An animal having a highly developed nervous system would under certain conditions require more food for maintenance than would another animal of the same size under similar conditions, but having a highly developed vital temperament. In the future temperament and form in the animal will be found to play a more important part than has been generally supposed. Indeed I am satisfied they will be found to be greater factors in deciding the usefulness or adaptability of animals for specific purposes than the generally accepted breed characteristics.

Circumstances Alter Cases.

Circumstances are still much in the habit of altering cases. It is said that a Yorkshire socialist was explaining to a friend the principles of his belief, and that he made the statement at the outset that all possessions should be shared equally.

"If you had two horses," said the friend, "would you give me one?"

"Of course," said the socialist.

"And if you had two cows, would you do the same?"

"Of course I should."

"Well, suppose now," said the friend slowly, "that you had two pigs, would you give me one of them?"

"Eh, tha's gettin ower near home," said the other slyly. "Tha knows I've got two pigs."—Youth's Companion.

The Kiss Going Out of Fashion.

It is a well known fact that Englishmen have long ago given up the practice of salnting each other with a kiss, a custom still universal in Russia. It has even come to be considered bad form to kiss each other among the fair sex. In fact, an exchange states that kissing between women has almost gone out of fashion and will be quite obsolete in a few years. The up to date girl no longer kisses her fellow girl.

Standard Bone FERTILIZERS.

TRADE MARK

We will soon Celebrate our FORTY-SIXTH Season in the Fertilizer business, and it affords us pleasure to again present our name to our patrons and the people of this county, after so many years of successful ministry to their wants. We trust that we will be worthy of being classed with those whose success has been fully merited by STRICT INTEGRITY and by the manufacture of a product by the BEST METHODS FROM THE BEST MATERIALS, and in harmony with the best development of our times. We desire to thank you for former patronage with the assurance that the facilities employed in the past have been increased, in anticipation of future growth.

OUR FACTORY

has been enlarged and the different departments are under the direction of skilled men, and the whole under the supervision of Mr George L. Quelet, our superintendent, who served his trade and apprenticeship in New York city, but has been with us continuously for 17 years. We have the latest improved machinery for grinding and dissolving bones, for mixing and manufacturing fertilizers of all kinds. We are located immediately on Chester River, with wharf and hoisting engine on same for loading and unloading vessels and steamers.

THEN, AS TO THE MANNER

in which our goods are manufactured should also be considered. In the first place, our goods are dry mixed Phosphates, that is, the Bone and South Carolina are dissolved ahead. They get up a heat, go through a sweat and dry out, then these as a base are elevated again to the mixer, the Potash and Ammonia added and bulked again, and they become in the best possible mechanical condition. You can always rely on their drilling qualities.

THEN, AGAIN,

We put our Phosphates up 12 bags to the ton. You get 4 or more lbs. to the ton, besides two more bags. The goods are more easily handled the packages are better in every way. And another important feature is that your bags are also treated with an acid-proof solution that coats every part of the fibre and preserves them wonderfully. Then, in using the goods by keeping the bags in the shade when using the Phosphate, and subsequently washing them out, you have good bags for future use.

OUR POSITION

this fall is certainly an enviable one, because we are among the very few who had purchased their supply of materials before they had advanced. We made this claim in a circular two months ago, and now about all the phosphate men claim they have done likewise, but we can prove by competent authority that only one other concern besides ourselves bought this year's stock last November and December.

BUT THE BEST PROOF

is to give us a chance to figure on your bill and see what we can do. We have just closed with a party on a 700-ton order, and other parties bidding on same—another of 150 and another of 125 tons, another 87 tons, another 63, another 55, another 52, another 46, and so on, in fact, we sold 1100 tons this fall the first eight days we were out. We sold last year 900 tons more than ever before, and bought 1000 tons more this time than we have ever sold.

WE INVITE CORRESPONDENCE, stating amount, kind and quality of goods you desire to use, and we will be glad to quote you prices, or, if necessary, come to see you and have a personal interview.

Very truly yours,

T. R. HUBBARD & SON.

P. S.—Please be sure and get an estimate, then come to us, and we will save you money. Aug. 11, 1898.

W. S. WALKER. H. M. BROWN.

BECK, WALKER & BROWN,

Fertilizer Manufacturers,

Offer to the farmers of Kent county their well known brands of WHEAT FERTILIZERS. During the past six years nearly one-fourth of the total wheat raised in Kent county was grown with the following brands of Fertilizers. A number of the largest crops and best yields have been from these goods These facts should be a sufficient recommendation of their reliability.

TRUSTWORTHY—

An absolutely Pure Bone Phosphate. Any one wishing to use an absolutely Pure Bone Goods cannot do better than use this brand. We have sold large quantities of it, and it has given universal satisfaction.

PROPAGATOR—

A Pure Bone and Mineral Phosphate. We have found this brand very popular with those wishing to use a High Grade complete Fertilizer, but unwilling to pay the price of pure bone goods. We can confidently recommend this brand.

TRY ME—

A COMPLETE FERTILIZER.

We introduced this brand five years ago to meet the low price of wheat. It is a mixture of the very best Phosphates and high grade Sulphate of Potash, tests very high in both soluble and insoluble phosphoric acid and potash. It contains sufficient ammonia to give the crop a good start, and is absolutely free from anything that can sour or injure the land. During the past five years more wheat has been grown with these goods in Kent county than with any brand of goods ever used here. Everyone who has used these goods acknowledged that they drill better and more satisfactorily than anything they have ever tried.

We are also prepared to put up SPECIAL MIXTURES with highest grade of goods at lowest possible prices.

☞ All of our goods are prepared under the personal supervision of MR. P. B. HOLLIS, who is well known in this community as an experienced Agricultural Chemist. Our goods will be in first-class drilling condition, and only the best materials obtainable will be used in their composition. We offer them to the public as being strictly as represented.

We sell at the lowest possible price, and solicit the patronage of our friends and the public generally. We are now ready to book orders for goods. Our place of business is in the Kent News Building, where we will be pleased to see any who may call.
