A SUIT OF WHITE.

IN every cake of Ivory Soap there are 100 complete suits of rich, creamy lather. Before dressing, put on a suit of Ivory Soap. Cover the entire body from head to foot with lather. Take the suit off with tepid water and you will remove with it all the impurities of the body which have been carried to the surface through the pores. Use a pure soap for this.

YOUNG WOMAN SENT BY MAIL.

Very Latest Evidence of the Usefulness of Post Offices

Every one knows that the London Post Office, says the Express of that city, is a most obliging institution and will deliver safely from one end of the world to the other, if necessary, almost anything that is desired, from a love letter to a pot of jam.

A little while ago, however, it excelled itself in its amiability and usefulness A young woman, evidently a stranger to the ways of great cities and a foreigner to boot, became hopelessly lost in her endeavor to reach Hampstead. Being a resourceful young person, it occurred to her to seek the aid of the Post Office officials. Entering a branch near at hand she stated her wishes, and the gallant postmaster at once acquiesced and had her safely conducted for the fee of three-pence by special messenger to Hampstead, where a receipt was obtained for her in the orthodox manner.

This is a perfectly true incident, as can be ascertained by a glance through the Postmaster General's report for the year in question.

SOME OF THE PREMIUMS.

Supt. George E. Noland and Captain Eliason continue to give out the most flattering reports as to the prospects for the big Kent and Queen Anne County Fair. New attractions have been added in every department and increased facilities for handling greatly increased exhibits and big crowds. The list of races and premiums in the racing events have been already given, and as a list of the prizes in other departments have never been published except in the fair catalogue, a few of them can but be of interest now, on the eve of the great fair at Tolchester, which will open on August 28th and continue on the 29th, 30th and 31st.
