The Reason Why

We Sell More

Building Materials of all Kinds

Lumber and Mill Work

Than Our Competitors

Is Because We Undersell Them

Our Prices are always less than the other fellow wants for the same goods. If you don't believe it, ask us for a price on something. We are after the business, and to get it we will give prices that can't be beat. Don't be misled on Quality and Grading. You know there's a difference, but you can't always detect it. The unscrupulous dealer knows this and takes advantage of your inexperience by giving you lower grade than you pay for. Our Quality is absolutely guaranteed. Our Grading is standard among the thousands Who Know. Send Us An Inquiry To-day.

We're out to undersell the other fellow and save you money—and we do it.

WASHINGTON LOSES.

In a game marked by heavy hitting and loose fielding on both sides, Gallaudet defeated Washington College Saturday 9 to 7. For the home team the feature of the game was easily the hitting of Kelly, who, in four times at the bat, made three hits and worked the pitcher for a base the other time. Capt. Porter also came in for glory at the bat. In the eighth inning, with three on, he cleaned up with a three-bagger, tieing the score, and his long hit was productive of runs in the other innings.

Garrett distinguished himself by taking a long fly which was considerably over in right field territory. The home team had a chance to win, but threw the game away in the eighth inning by errors. Jarman was replaced by Baden, who made his first appearance in the box this season. His work was gilt-edged. He should have won out with proper support. For Gallaudet the battery work was the feature. Morris' throwing to second was the best seen here this season, while Moore's spitball kept the Washington boys guessing.

Hughes pulled off a nice play in the seventh by taking an infield fly back of the pitcher with one hand and doubling up the runner at first. The game was marred somewhat by the useless kicking of Gallaudet at the decision of Umpire Pensmith in calling a runner out for not touching second. They would not resume play until the watch was drawn on them.

SERVING THE PUBLIC.

The sole measure of a store's success is its ability to serve the customers well. And this involves a great many elements—well trained, polite salespeople, prompt and accurate delivery service, and the cheerful adjustment of any causes of dissatisfaction on the part of the customer.

A notable example of a store that has achieved success through good service is the department store of Hochschild, Kohn & Co., popularly known as "Baltimore's Best Store." In a little less than 14 years this store has grown to be the favored shopping place of the majority of Baltimore women. Starting from a very modest beginning, it will have, when pending improvements are completed, one of the largest retail merchandising establishments south of Philadelphia.

One feature of the Hochschild, Kohn & Co. policy which has, perhaps, contributed most largely to their success, has been their liberal exchange system, by which purchasers were made to feel secure in the fact that all goods not satisfactory could be returned, and new goods or the purchase money would be given for them. The policy, carried out in spirit and in letter, has won both the confidence and the regard of the shopping public.

A well-organized mail order department enables the readers of this paper to make their purchases from Messrs. Hochschild, Kohn & Co. just as if they were shopping in person and the same exchange privilege is extended to out-of-town purchasers who order by mail.

KEPT MONEY IN HIS SHOE.

Thomas R. Brown, 38 years old, fortune teller of Queen Anne's, real estate dealer, dog fancier and patent medicine dispenser, who several years ago was well-known to the police of the Western district, Baltimore, was Tuesday arraigned before Justice Harrison, at the Western Police Station, on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. Justice Harrison fined him $5 and costs. Finding that his pleading to have the fine reduced did no good, Brown stopped, took off his shoe and, with the remark that "it certainly is hard to be cleaned out in this manner," pulled a $5 note from the toe of the shoe and handed it to the Justice.

Justice Harrison, who appeared for the first time at the Western, said that in the various places he had served he had seen money taken from all sorts of places, but Brown was the first man who used his shoe as a purse.

MRS. JESSIE WOOLLEYHAN.

Mrs. Nellie Porter Woolleyhan, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Husfelt and wife of Mr. Jesse Woolleyhan, of near Earleville, Md., passed away at her home on Tuesday night after a brief illness from tuberculosis, aged twenty-four years. Besides her husband she leaves two small children. Funeral services were held at her late home on Friday afternoon with interment at St. Paul's M. E. Cemetery, Rev. W. H. Kenney officiating. Deceased was a consistent member of St. Paul's M. E. Church and took an active part in church work, and she will be greatly missed in that community.

IN MEMORIAM.

Sacred to the memory of MRS. JOHN F. NEWNAM, who departed this life on April 30th, 1911.

The hours that we spent with thee dear heart,
Are a string of pearls to us,
Our hearts are grieved and our souls bereaved
That thou should'st leave us thus.
We see thee in our dreams each night,
Sweet memories fill each day,
Not 'till now could we fathom our love for thee,
Now we've found that thou could'st not stay.
The hardest part of it all, dear heart,
Was to place thee beneath the sod,
But we'll do our best to meet thee,
In that dear, sweet peace, with God.
