THE SUN is the highest type of a newspaper.
THE SUN'S SPECIAL CORRESPONDENTS throughout the United States, as well as in Europe, South Africa, China, and, in fact, all over the world, make it an up-to-date newspaper.

From now on the news of the world promises to be more interesting than ever before and rational and political questions will arise making probably the most eventful period in the country's history.

WE, FOR THE 51st SEASON, PRESENT
Our Fertilizers
TRADE MARK
to the Farmers and Planters of Kent and adjoining counties. With pride, we say that we are better equipped than ever, this year to give you your money's worth.

Many cannot understand why, after so many years doing business here, that T. R. Hubbard & Son's Fertilizers are more extensively used year after year. But the mystery is solved by a visit to our factory, which is always open for inspection to the public, and those who go down to our works marvel at the pains taken in manufacturing the goods.
First the bone is shoveled in the crusher with a scoop shovel and prepared for the Denmead mill, then it is dissolved, and after getting in good mechanical condition, if making a dissolved bone goods, so many pounds of bone is put in the mixer. The nitrate of soda, fish and high grade potash are added, the whole thoroughly mixed, passed through a phosphate mill and screened and thrown up in bulk, to remain until it is shipped, and then it is bagged in new treated acid-proof bags and sent out in splendid shape. We are often asked, "why don't you run the goods when first mixed, right in the bags, and not go to the expense of treating the bags, as do other manufacturers?"
We are often asked if this is not a needless extreme, but we reply,—it pays to make the best.
Whilst there is some loss by evaporation by bulking, an additional expense rebagging and an expense to treat the bags, when we remember that a farmer appreciates a good goods, and in first-class mechanical condition it pays to go to extremes as it is impossible to make a first-class fertilizer otherwise, and by treating our customers right in their purchases, making the time of payment of the bill to suit them, we have gotten a personal hold upon our trade.
Now, in order that we might continue to be an up-to-date concern, it was necessary to have our own acid chambers and an acid phosphate plant, so as to be entirely independent of the trust, and we have gone in with another concern and erected one of the most modernly equipped phosphate factories in the East, located at Canton. This will make our

and supply the Chestertown factory, and instead of closing up our old factory as many supposed, we will be in better shape than ever before, and will be worked harder than ever. We tell you all this, for when you know what we know about our business, you will not buy any ordinary fertilizer, but the Fertilizers that have made T. R. Hubbard & Son's Fertilizers famous.

T. R. HUBBARD & SON'S BONE FERTILIZERS,

If, therefore, you are going to or anything that requires fertilizer, it will pay you to see us before placing your order, as we can save you money.

THE DOCTOR'S "TIPPLE."

Dr. S. Reese Murray Gives an Account of a Laughable Experience.

Dr. S. Reese Murray, the scholarly divine so well-known in Kent, gives an account of an experience which is truly amusing. The story is as follows:

When Rev. Dr. S. Reese Murray was doing pastoral work in Montgomery, Ala. he was called on to marry a couple at the home of Mr. Pollock, the leading merchant in the city. Mr. pollock was a wealthy Hebrew who lived in great magnificence, his home being the former residence of the ex-Governer of Alabama. The bride, a Gentile, was an inmate of the house and the wedding guests were entertained lavishly. The supper was remarkable for all sorts of good things to eat and drink and for the handsome display of silver and glass.

In the early part of the meal a waiter approched Dr. Murray and was about to fill his glass.

"Not any for me," said Dr. Murray, quietly.

"Its champagne, sir," insisted the waiter.

"Not any," repeated Dr. Murray.

The waiter turned away, but came back instantly with another bottle.

"Have this, ? It's port."

"No, I don't care for any," from Dr. Murray.

Again the man went away, only to return with a third bottle.

This time he smiled confidently, as he was about to pour the wine he said: "Claret, sir."

"No," again from Dr. Murray.

A forth wine was brought and declined. Then the waiter came up close to Dr. Murray, leaned over his shoulder and whispered softly in his ear:

"Doctor, we have some whiskey and brandy in the cellar; which can I get you sir?"

To be Voted Upon.

Governor Smith will soon issue his proclamation submitting to the people three constitutional amendments. They are as follows:

1. Dividing the city of Baltimore into four Legislative districts of as nearly equal proportions as may be, and of contiguous territory, and giving the city one Senator from each of the districts, making four instead of three Senators as heretofore.

2. Increasing the representation of the city of Baltimore in the House of Delegates from 18 to 24 by allowing to each of the four Legislative districts so created representation equal to that enjoyed by the largest county, which is six Delegates.

The county basis of apportionment is not changed, the effect of the two amendments being simply to provide for Baltimore city one additional Legislative destrict, one more Senator and six more Delagates in the General Assembly of 1904.

3. Providing that State's attorneys of the counties shall perform such duties and receive such fees and commissions or salary not exceeding $3,000 as may now or may hereafter be prescribed by law. Fixing the salary of the State's attorney for Baltimore city at 4,500 a year, with power to appoint one deputy at $3,000 a year, and such other assistants at not exceeding 1,500 a year, as the Supreme Bench of Baltimore city may approve; all of such salaries to be paid out of the fees of the State's attorney's office, as has heretofore been the practice.

Black Man Takes His Departure from Congress.

The last colored member in Congress, for an indefinite period, is named white. He has just uttered his valedictory which might also be called the Congressional valedictory of his race for a generation at least. His concluding words were: "This is, perhaps, the negro's temporary farewell to the American Congress, but let me say, Phœnix-like, he will rise up and come again some day. These parting words are in behalf of an outraged, heart-broken, bruised and bleeding, but God-fearing people, faithful, industrious, loyal people—rising people full of potential force.

"Mr. Chairman, in the trial of Lord Bacon, when the Court disturbed the counsel for the defendant, Sir Walter Raleigh raised himself up to his full height and addressing the Court said: "Sir, I am pleading for the life of a human being.' The only apology which I have spoken is that I am pleading for the life, the liberty, the future happiness and manhood suffrage for one eighth of the entire population of the United States.

MISTRESS—Are you not rather small for a nurse?

NURSE—No, indeed, madam. The children don't fall so far when I drop them.

A Good Cough Medicine for Children

"I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says F. P. Doran, a well-known and popular baker, of Petersburg, Va. "We have given it to our children when troubled with bad coughs, also whooping cough, and it has always given perfect satisfaction. It was recommended to me by a druggist as the best cough medicine for children, as it contained no opium or other harmful drug." Sold by M. A. Touison, druggist.
