SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1911.

Gov. CROTHERS will be at Galena next Wednesday and speak at 2 P. M. It will be a big affair.

JUDGE HOPPER has been unable to attend court here this week because of sickness. Judge Adkins and the members of the bar have missed his learned counsel.

THE charge of Hon. James A. Pearce to the Grand Jury Monday in reference to violation of Corrupt Practices act in Kent was timely and forceful. It is simply a question as to whether or not public sentiment will require its rigid observance. Mr. Voter, are you doing what you can to enforce this law?

THE Grand Jury drawn at the present term of court has been a specially diligent one. Its foreman, Mr. Philip G. Wilmer, was well chosen and has directed the work of the body with thoroughness and without fear. In endeavoring to carry out the court's instructions as to the enforcement of the Corrupt Practices Act, at least one hundred witnesses from all parts of Kent were summoned and appeared. These reported some startling happenings at the recent primaries, but at this writing there were no indictments found because of the lack of positive and direct testimony. The hear-say testimony and other kinds given the Grand Jury, it is said, would make sensational reading!

THE G. O. P. of Kent and Somerset counties has decided not to nominate a local ticket this year. When pressed for a reason the Republican leaders can give no satisfactory one except they say that the Republican party has no show of electing a ticket because their voters for the most part cannot mark the ballot. Now think of a party clamoring for power, the voters of which are too ignorant to be able to mark their ballots correctly. Isn't this a fair sample of the make up of the entire Republican party in Maryland? The same thing is true in every county in the State where the negroes make up a large percentage of the Republican vote. This is surely a fine party to govern such an enlightened State of Maryland. A party should be ashamed to ask for political control of any state where the guage of intelligence is as low as it is in the Republican party in Maryland. But what can be expected of a party composed of 60,000 negroes and 40,000 whites? The name should be changed.

AN IMPORTANT FIGHT.

It is the purpose of the Democratic managers to vigorously press the campaign from now until the election. This is one of the most important fights that we have ever had in this State. The great reforms inaugurated by the Democratic party must be carried forward by Democratic administrations if they are to be brought to a successful termination. No good Democrat will falter in his duty to his party and to his State when he comes to realize what it would mean to turn the State of Maryland over to Republicans at this time. It would mean the placing of our schools under Republican control, with all the incompetency that they have displayed in the past in matters of education. It would mean the transferring of the great State roads movement to their control, with probably the same results as we experienced in 1895 and the four years following—the old mule and the cart and the lazy colored man, with some political pretentions, digging and waisting time on the public highways at the public expense. It would mean the loss of every magistrate and every State official, high and low. It would mean the turning of our finances of the State of Maryland to a party who has shown utter incompetency in the past in the management of such affairs. It would be a step towards the control of our county by them.

It would mean the placing in the highest office of the State a man who, by his present conduct and record in the past, has shown that he is in sympathy with the elevation of the negro to high political positions—a man who has worked hand in hand with Uncle Bill Jackson in all his political manœuvers in this State, and especially on the Eastern Shore. It would mean the tearing down of the party that the white man has built up in this State and county and the rise to power of the party whose chiefest asset is the control of the servile vote of over 60,000 negroes in this State. No party so controlled and so dominated can ever give to the people of this State the intelligent and honest administration of public affairs to which they are entitled.

Do not be misled and do not be misguided by the false issues that are attempted to be raised in this fight or in the mud-slinging placards, hand bills, or posters that are set up about our town and other places. They mean nothing but idle talk, unsupported by any good deed of the Republican party at a time when it had a chance to make good if there was anything good in it.

UTOPIA.

Cor unum et via una.

SOUND TO BUGLE, ETC.

Sound the Bugle! Comrades, Victors,—let your cohorts roll the drum;
Bid the Democratic voters each and ev'ry one to come
To unfurl at once our Standard to the ever ready breeze;
And to feel there is no wrangle that its moral do'nt appease.

Let all diff'rence "go to thunder;"—let our colors ever show
All dissensions dissipated:—Yes, forever let them go:—
Let them fade into the shadows of the dark eternal past;
Raise the Banner high and stately:—nail our colors to the mast.

Sound the Bugle! Sound it loudly:—let the clarion music swell
From the hill tops on the Chester to Old Kent's remotest dell.
Stand, attention, heirs of suffrage, for the campaign ready be,
To march forth in solid phalanx when you hear the reveille.

Toe the mark whate'er your scruples, bring your neighbor into line,
Tell him that to work is duty—that the Democrats must shine
As the "Bearers of the Pennant" in November's nearing fight:
That our foemen must be beaten with our numbers and our might.

Now come out with smiling visage, grasp your brother's outstretch'd hand;
Wash those paws befoul'd with faction;—just stop flinging mud and sand.
Be broadminded—lib'ral—cheerful; don't your fellow ere combat;
Just accept things as you find them—be a wholesoul'd Democrat.

Cheer the Comrade that has fallen—he was foremost in the van;
He deserves your care and solace, do for him what e'er you can.
Work at once for all that's in you—be a soldier through and through;
You can build no reputation on the things yeu're going to do.

Let your hat go sailing skyward; tho' the day was lost and won;
Let the Victor and the Vanquish'd note that days work now is done.
Voters of Kent County, hark ye!—Yes, the young, the halt, the old.—
Wear "My Mar'land's" colors proudly—take your plume of "Black and Gold"—

And go forth to meet your foeman—common evil to us all;
Overwhelming vict'ry waits us which will certainly appall
Rank and file of their ensemble. And the Democratic host
Will acclaim such loud Hosannas that will waken Jackson's ghost.

And those echoes verberating 'cross the blue ethereal zone
Will for all our disappointments most assuredly atone.
Wake up then, My Brothers, Comrades,—buckle on your armor bright,
Use your rowel—spur your warhorse to the thickest of the fight.

We all know "the house divided 'gainst itself" will surely fall;—
Heed the Scripture it will always show the right road to us all.
Note with care the admonition you will glean from David's songs;—
"Weeping will endure for midnight" but the morning heals our wrongs.

Come, let's join in social Banquet—sing the song that's ever new,
Have the viands hot and steaming—spread a royal barbecue:—
Drink we will of Friendship's nectar and its rich ambrosia quaff;—
Bid the scullions to assemble and prepare "the fatted calf."

Sing we will a jolly wassail, all our comp'ny will be gay;
All the canker that pervades us will at once be wash'd away;
All those bitter twangs that tried us, we no more will heed their call,
We no more will have our chalice fill'd with wormwood and with gall.

Come, let's haste to take our station as the first upon the ground,
When the band begins its music then we'll dance "all hands around."
When the fairies gather 'bout us and extend their peaceful wand,
We will see the mists arising from the sunlight that's beyond.

Yes, my friend, the time awaits you—'tis that ever present NOW—
To give credence to the judgment of the man who didn't bow
To the wiles of your subversion; he is just as brave and true
As yourself:—so be complacent,—"let the Devil have his due."

Just because things didn't please you—just because you lost your man;
Just because you feel forsaken in a desert like Soudan;—
Be a noble—grand and worthy;—there are others of your ilk
Who've been taught to heed the adage "Life's prolong'd with sour milk."

Now then friends, let's get together—reconcil'd and debonair,
With our ranks all re-united—of our bristles shorn and bare;
Let us march with step as steady as the men who met the foe
In the carnage of the battle with the gallant Ivanhoe.

We will meet our foemen bravely, we will win renown and fame,
We will find a wreath about us and adorning ev'ry name;
We will go to work in earnest, on our efforts be intent,
And I'm sure we'll find UTOPIA in the precincts of old Kent.

Yes, I'm sure we'll win the struggle for our aim is ever high;
If we fail to do our duty then our foes will fall to fly;—
They will fling their taunts upon us, and our hearts will beat disgust;
They will tread our pride to thralldom and Our Banner in the dust.

[F. H. R.—Galena, Md.—September 19, 1911.

OCTOBER COURT

Philip G. Wilmer, Foreman of Grand Jury—Thorough Investigation of Recent Primary and Alleged Violations of The Corrupt Practices Act.

The October term of the Circuit Court for Kent County was convened on Monday with Chief Judge James A. Pearce on the bench; associate Judge W. H. Adkins arrived on the 11 a. m. train.

Immediately after the opening of Court the Grand Jury was drawn as follows:

Philip G Wilmer, foreman;	Milbourne A Toulson
	Alfred T. DeShane
George L Bowers	Joseph M Norris
Benj I Taylor	James E Hurlock
Wm B Plummer	Theodore Dempsey
Charles S Porter	James B Stevens, Jr
Robert Moffett	James W Lambert
Chas H Jefferson	Eugene H Bonwill, Jr
Thos S Bordley	Ringgold Jones
James T Crew	Harry Rash
D Webster Hill	Harry R Graham
Thos J Dunn	Charles S Smith

The remainder of the fall panel comprise the Petit Jury, as follows:

Joseph S Clark	Harry T Richardson
James A Casey	Wm H Bonwill
Adam F Huey	Curtis E Crane
Neal Wilson	Richard W Comegys
Walter H Hadaway	L Rochester Vansant
William T Hicks	Harry Holt
John Brice	Thomas W Trew
Joel H Smith	R A Shallcross
P A M Brooks	Edgar P Beck
T Benj Durding	John S Newnam
Walter T Morris	Wm H Lambert
A Leon Brown	Henry Rosin
E B Pennington, Jr

David B. Ford and A. H. Covey were excused from jury service.

Judge Pearce, in quite a lengthy charge, called particular attention to the Corrupt Practices Act and showed the importance to every good citizen of its rigid enforcement. Acting upon Judge Pearce's recommendation there were about 150 witnesses summoned in various sections of Kent and a searching examination instituted.

In calling the appeal docket several cases were marked off as settled. Among them was that of Mr. Chas. H. Crew, who was released upon his own recognizance. The case of Capt. T. D. France vs. Pennsylvania Railroad, for damages, was compromised.

At 12 30 the Court took a recess for one hour, reconvening at 1.30 p. m. with Judge Adkins presiding. Chief Judge Pearce left for Annapolis on the afternoon train.

The Grand Jury brought in the following presentments: Emory Wye for burglary; Robert Briscoe for assault with intent to kill; Richard Seney, Jr., for burglarg; Joseph Hicks for burglary.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 17

Court called at 9.30 with Judge Adkins, presiding, and a few minutes later took a recess until 4 p. m.

Emory Whye was convicted of burglary at J. W. Ivens' store. R. G. Parks represented defense.

Perry M. Thompson was convicted upon his own confession of setting fire to the hall at Rock Hall. H. W. Vickers, Jr. represented Thompson.

Merritt Spry was tried for maintaining a gambling house near Chesterville and acquitted. Jury trial; H. W. Vickers, Jr. for Spry.

In the case against Merritt Spry for maintaining a disorderly house the Court found him guilty and finded him $25 and costs. Judge Adkins severely reprimanded the prisoner and warned him against another offense.

In the case of Herbert E. Perkins vs. The Bowery Mission and Young Men's Home, the Court gave a verdict for the plaintiff for $219.80 This was a suit for fees. In the other case the Court rendered a verdict against Mr. Perkins for $241.20, but allowing him a fee of $25 as called for by the contract with the Children's Fresh Aid Society. Lewin W. Wickes represented Mr. Perkins and J. D. Urie the corporations.

In the case of Richard Seney, Jr., for burglary, the court convicted.

The case of Black & Hunter, public accountants, against Harry R. Graham surviving partner of the firm of Smith & Graham, and Margaret E. Smith, executrix of George W. Smith, deceased, was called Thursday and occupied Court all of yesterday.

The Grand Jury brought in indictments against the following: P. W. Stoops, P. W, Stoops, Sr., Parker Maize, Norman Carter, Thos. Harman alias Thomas Sunkens, Stephen Butler, Levi Ringgold, most of them charged with violating the local option law.

The Grand Jury yesterday brought indictments against Edw. Robinson and Jesse G. Duyer, Chestertown, for alleged violators of Corrupt Practices Act. They will likely conclude their work today.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION

With but three weeks of the campaign left, it looks very much now as if the Democratic ticket would be elected by a safe majority, for a re-action seems to have set in among the voters of Baltimore, where there was the greater trouble owing to the discovery of frauds in the primaries.

Two principal charges have contributed to the change—one the fact that the Republicans were implicated in the frauds as well as the Democrats; and secondly, and of far greater importance, is the belief that the Democratic party will leave no stone unturned to search out and punish those guilty of instigating and perpetrating such frauds.

Believing this latter fact to be true, the Democrats are becoming united, and may be expected to poll their usual voting strength.
