NOTICE.

THE subscriber having many small accounts due him, some of them nearly out of date, and finding that it is not possible for him to close them without materially neglecting his professional business, has employed Mr. Hiram W. Woolford to call on all persons who have accounts due up to the 10th of August, 1832, and close them by receiving payment, notes or judgments. He hopes that his friends, many of whom he is well aware 'tis only necessary to ask in order to receive, will appreciate his motives. In all cases where there may be accounts in bar, or any part of the account not understood, the subscriber holds himself bound to adjust and explain upon being called on.

Having made the above arrangement and sold out his farming interest, he is determined to devote himself to the duties of his profession unfettered; and by prompt and unremitted attention (health permitting) to those who may employ or require his services, endeavor fully to merit that patronage and confidence heretofore so liberally bestowed; and, for which he is and will ever feel grateful. From the above date accounts commence anew, and the subscriber will in future present in person the accounts, regularly stated, to each individual, within twelve months from commencement, (if practicable,) for settlement—believing that many persons innocently think their accounts too high from having forgotten the services.

The public's obedient servant,
GEORGE W. PRATT.

SHERIFF AND COLLECTOR'S

Second & Last Notice.

NOT long since I gave notice in the Cambridge Chronicle, requesting all persons owing county charges or officers' fees to make payment to my deputies, and that I was pressed for money, and without making collections should be ruined. But few persons have paid any attention to that notice, and to them I return my thanks. All persons indebted to me for county charges or officers' fees, must discharge their accounts by the 20th of this month; or those neglecting until that day, will be taxed with interest from the day the county charges and officers' fees became due from me. I have given positive orders to my deputies to execute every person in arrears, from and after the said 20th; which orders must and shall be obeyed; and should not my present deputies strictly comply with them, I shall want to employ five active men to take their places.
