CAMBRIDGE:

SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1834.

☞The Orphans' Court of this county will sit on Monday next.

Our Baltimore papers are up to yesterday; and contain Washington dates as late as the 30th, though they furnish nothing of importance. The Senate have not yet come to a vote on the motion to reject the President's protest.

Virginia Election.—According to the National Intelligencer of Thursday morning last, the returns so far as received, give to the administration, 34 members, and to the opposition, 64.

The Girard Bank has at length concluded not to continue a repository of the public funds. The Philadelphia U. S. Gazette, of the 24th, states that the institution has made an arrangement with the Secretary of the Treasury terminating its connection with his department of the Government after the 1st of July next.

Liberia.—It will be seen by reference to an advertising column, that the Maryland State Colonization Society, have just received very satisfactory advices from Cape Palmas, in Africa; and that they intend to despatch another expedition with emigrants this month, to "Maryland," their colony there.

Governor of Florida.—The President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, has appointed John H Eaton, Governor of the Territory of Florida, in the place of W. P. Duval, whose commission has expired.

Temperance Convention.—It is proposed by the Maryland Temperance Society, to hold a Convention, in the city of Baltimore, on the 15th instant. All the Temperance Societies in the State and the District of Columbia, are invited to send two or more delegates.

The Season.—During most of the last ten days, the weather has been much more cool than usual at this period. Vegetation, it is feared, has been considerably damaged by the frost which fell here on Friday night, the 25th ult. They had, at Baltimore, also, a sharp frost on the same night, and snow and frost on the following; and at Philadelphia and New York, there was a slight fall of snow on the morning of the 25th The New York Gazette, of the 28th, says, "the ice at Sing Sing was thicker than a dollar, on Saturday morning, and the Highlands were yesterday white with snow."

A Lodge of the Order of Independent Odd Fellows, called "Caroline Lodge," was installed at Denton, on Thursday last.

A letter from Lancaster, Pennsylvania, published in the National Intelligencer, gives notice that another movement, or coup d'etat, is meditated by the Administration. If the Protest should be rejected by the Senate, the President is immediately thereafter to issue a Proclamation—upon the receipt of which, in Pennsylvania, "some of the leading Jacksonmen are to ride through and make addresses in every township, exciting the people to come out to the assistance of the Hero of New Orleans."

The editors of the Intelligencer state that the writer of this letter is a citizen of a character so respectable, moral and political, that he would not have committed such a rumor to paper without being, himself, convinced that it was well founded.

Rhode Island.—This State, after a severe contest, in which anti-Masonry made an alliance with Jacksonism, has elected a Jackson Governor, Francis, by a majority of from 115 to 125.

The Providence Journal says, the Jackson majority last year was 650.

The House of Representatives will, it is stated in the same paper, be divided.

"The Farmers' Bank of Chattahoochee," at Columbus (Geo.) has stopped payment.

It is stated in the Norfolk papers that the accounts of the prospect of crops are very gloomy, in consequence of the late unexampled heavy rains. Those who have planted corn in their low grounds, have had it entirely drowned, and where they have not planted, the ground continues so soaked as to prevent its being prepared for this operation. A gentleman who had recently passed through several of the neighboring counties of North Carolina, states that there also the prospects for the corn crops are quite disheartening.—Balt. Gaz., 25th.

A Railroad is now making from London to Birmingham, a distance of 109 miles. The cost is estimated at $13,000,000.

A counterfeiter has been arrested in South Carolina, and brought to Charleston for trial, charged with counterfeiting bills on the United States Bank. The Courier says, "we were favored with a sight of two of the counterfeits, one a $10 bill of the Branch Bank at Nashville, (Tenn.) the other a $10 bill of the mother Bank at Philadelphia, both of which were well executed, and calculated to impose upon any who were not good judges.

At a public sale of the balance of the property of Mr. Bouligny, in New Orleans, on the 11th ult., we observe it stated that 48 slaves were sold for the sum of forty-two thousand four hundred and ten dollars.

The occasion was embraced, at the Election in Jefferson county, in Virginia, on Monday week, to take the sense of the People on the question of the restoration of the Public deposites to the Bank of the United States. The number of votes taken was 299; of whom 275 voted in favor of the restoration, and 24 against it.—Nat. Intel.

Naval Examination.—The Board of Examination of Midshipmen whose warrants bear date prior to 1829, will convene at Baltimore on Monday next. Commodore Jacob Jones will be the President of the Board.

Income and Expenditure of Great Britain.—According to an account of the net income of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland in the year ending 5th January, 1834, it appears that the amount of income is £46,271,326 8s. 7¾d, while the expenditure for the same period is £44,758,542 17s. 1½d, leaving a surplus or saving to the country of £1,513,082 11s. 6¼d.

A daring outrage was recently committed near Cleveland, Ohio. An individual from Maryland, who was travelling west to purchase land, was tied up to a tree by two scoundrels, who, having blindfolded and gagged him, robbed him of all the money he had in his possession, amounting to about 1,775 dollars. One hundred dollars are offered for their apprehension.

A trial took place in New York on the 22d, the progress of which was regarded with much interest by the merchants of that city. Charles Haynes, a merchant of Boston, was indicted and convicted, at New York, for obtaining goods upon false pretences, from New York importers. The complainants alledged that Haynes made false representations, to induce them to give him credit, viz. that he never had a note protested for non payment, that he was worth nine or ten thousand dollars clear of debts; that he was perfectly easy in his money concerns; had no indorser, and never endorsed. On trial it was shown, that he made purchases in New York, in November, to the amount of $30,000, and stopped payment in December. On being arrested he admitted that he knew himself to be insolvent when he made the purchases, but said he did not consider himself bound to tell it. His brother was endorser on his paper to the amount of $25,000. The only defence was that the goods were delivered before these false representations were made, and that consequently the credit was not given on account of the representations It was contended in answer, that though the goods had been put on board of a steam boat, the delivery was not perfect until the purchaser had given his note and received his invoice. The jury, after an absence of half an hour, rendered a verdict of guilty. Sentance has not yet been pronounced.—Balt. Amer.

JOHN M'LEAN.

Some time since certain Van Buren members of Congress wrote to their confederates in Ohio, that Judge M'Lean would not be a candidate for the Presidency in opposition to the decision of a National Convention. It will be seen by the following letter that the Judge has entered his "protest" against the assertion of the letter writer.

To the Editor of the Hamilton (O.) Intelligencer.

WASHINGTON, 26th MARCH, 1834.

Dear Sir—I have just received your letter of the 17th inst., in which you inform me that at a late public meeting in Hamilton, a number of letters were read to the meeting, stating in effect, that I had expressed a determination not to be a candidate in opposition to Mr. Van Buren, and that their impression was great; and you request me to say whether I intend to become a candidate for the Presidency, regardless of the decision of a national convention.

No individual has had the shadow of authority for making the above statement.

Whether I shall become a candidate or not, will depend entirely on the voluntary action of the people. The choice of their public servants, in my opinion, belongs to the people, and not to those who, from selfish views, may assume the responsibility of acting for them.

I am opposed to a national caucus or convention now, as I was in 1823, when an attempt was made, through its influence, to elect a President of the United States.

A national convention is contrary to the established usages of the democratic party. It has a direct tendency to place the whole political power of the country into the hands of a few individuals, and to deprive the people of a full and fair expression of their will. It will substitute for the official organs, under the constitution and laws, a cabal, which will control, through a corrupt influence, the whole action and policy of the government.

Under such a system the people will be kept in a state of excitement, the moral force of our institutions will be eventually destroyed, and the ruin of our government must soon follow.

To keep the election of President out of the House of Representatives, I have always been in favor of so altering the constitution as to send the election a second time to the people, if there should be a failure to elect on the first attempt. Under no circumstances will I consent to be the instrument of defeating an election of President by the people.

Believing, as I do, that our government can only be sustained in its purity and vigor by keeping the elective franchise near the people, and out of the hands of political managers, my course, in regard to the future, will in no degree be influenced by the contemplated national convention.

In accordance with the usages of the democratic party, State conventions, under certain circumstances, are not only proper but necessary. But the only legitimate object of such a convention, is to ascertain public sentiment, and not to manufacture it. Its members should be chosen by the people, and to the convention should be borne and expressed the known wishes of the people.

With respect, your obedient servant,

JOHN M'LEAN.

Among the literary "Intelligence" of the "Select Journal" for April, there is an account of the new theory of the Universe, lately put forth in Germany. The notion is new, and certainly original. If not intended to be a burlesque, it is the product of a most magnificent imagination. The author, J. C. C. Hampel, supposes that before the creation of heat, the original substance of all matter was an infinite mass of solid christal or ice. The production of heat made this mass porus, and cavities were formed, millions, perhaps billions of miles in diameter in one of which our system is placed.—The fixed stars are not suns, but merely points or projections from the interior surface of the cavity in which we are, particularly adapted to the reflections of the light of the sun. The milky way is a crack or fissure in the hollow ball which surrounds us, made visible by being filled with innumerable masses of the original ice. The editor of the "Journal," with some quaintness, conjectures the existence of a crack or fissure in some place where the author of this theory has not looked for it, videlicet, as we infer, in his own head.—Balt. Amer.

The assessment valuation of the whole amount of property in the city of Washington, real and personal, at the close of last year, was within a fraction of eight millions of dollars. The taxes levied upon it were at the rate of 1 1-10 per cent. of the valuation.

The New-York Legislature has lately passed seven bills, incorporating new banks, and one increasing the capital of an existing bank, making altogether an addition of $3,300,000 to the Banking capital of the State.

An Eel six feet long and weighing sixty-two pounds, was recently caught near Boston.

A wagon has been construced in Boston, the wheels of which are entirely of iron.

A Man Porcupine.—A middle aged man, of very athletic and robust form of body, presented himself at Westminster hospital, a few days ago, in order to show himself to the surgeons and students of the establishment. He is completely covered with a green horney substance, in the form of quills, not dissimilar to those which are produced on the Porcupine. The parts which have escaped the deformity are his face, the palms of his hands, and the soles of his feet; every other part of his person is abundantly supplied with this green horney substance: he sheds his horns and quills annually, and a fresh crop succeeds. He has been thus afflicted since his earliest infancy, and all the male members of his family, down from great grandfather, have been similarly well furnished; his general health is excellent, and his secretions very regular. A model has been taken of him in one of the Borough hospitals.—London Medical and Surgical Journal.

Modesty.—A backwardness in coming forward.

Baltimore, 26th April, 1834.

The advices just received from the Colonial Agents of "Maryland in Liberia," are so entirely satisfactory to the Board of Managers of the Maryland State Colonization Society, that they have determined to despatch another expedition to their Colony, in all the month of May, instant.

Those interested in the success of the scheme of Colonization, as advocated by the Maryland Society, will be gratified to learn that the Territory acquired by the recent purchase, embraces Cape Palmas, which has always been deemed to be the most healthy point on the whole African coast. The Board of Managers have limited the number of Emigrants to go by the present expedition in all the month of May ensuing, to twenty, two-thirds male adults. Applications will be received at this office until the 25th of May. In all cases recommendations as to character will be scrupulously required.
