of the Nullifying Ordinance—and, secondly for the purpose of catching such stray sheep as Mr. Fisher and Judge Wick, who will of course be delighted with an opportunity of maintaining their apparent neutrality, even while rendering the most efficient support to the dispensers of the Spoils. In either event, however, we regard Mr. Bell's election as pretty certain. It will be sure, if Maryland and Mississippi shall return to the next Congress as many Whig members as they did to the last. In that event, we can afford to spare all such gentlemen as those above referred to, who are in that happy state of betweenity, which renders them as doubtful of their political, as a famous toper once was of his personal identity, when, rising from a ditch, besmeared with mud, he asked, 'Am I Giles, or am I not?'

THE MOBILE POSTMASTER.—The Washington Globe admits the truth of the story in relation to the defalcation of the Postmaster at Mobile, but attempts to extenuate it by stating that the office has since been taken out of his hands.

The Postmaster General certainly did no more than what was right when he directed the removal of a defaulting Postmaster. But the true question for the American people is the inquiry how it happens that there are so many defalca ions among all classes of officers? Is it not because the government has heretofore treated defaulters with forbearance and lenity, and encouraged them in their thieving by continuing them in office? Is it not because there is no elevation or dignity in the attributes of Mr. VAN BUREN calculatedto overawe those of the public officers whose propensities and opportunities lead them to covet the money entrusted to their care and whose honesty is not proof against temptation? Who ever heard of such defalcations in the time of Washington or when JOHN QUINCY ADAMS held the reins of power? In the time of the latter, so rare was an instance of official delinquency that an officer who had obtained less than three thousand dollars of the public money, under circumstances which proved his intention to return it, was hunted with a malignant and unfaltering persecution for eight years, immured within the walls of a dungeon, and only and barely released when the Court, upon full examination, declared his whole imprisonment to have been illegal. Suppose that the same measure of justice had been meted out to all defaulters under th late and present administration? Why the jails and penitentiaries would sca cely have sufficed to contain them. It is a fact too well established to be denied, that the defalcations under the two administrations of Gen. JACKSON and Mr. VAN BUREN have exceeded in the number of defaulters and in the amount of money stolen, all that had occurred before from the foundation of the Government.—Baltimore Chronicle.

IMPROVEMENTS.
IN DENTAL SURGERY.

IT has for many years been a great desideratum among European and American Dentists, to manufacture TEETH from incorruptible materials, which should imitate the natural living teeth.

Many have devoted years to unsuccessful experiments, and others have succeeded in manufacturing Teeth of materials similar to the porcelain ware, but generally they have an opaque white appearance, by which they are easily distinguished from the human Teeth.

After long and tedious experiments, the subscriber has succeeded in manufacturing Teeth of materials entirely incorruptible and perfectly in imitation of human Teeth. They have a semi transparency, and are made of various sizes and shades.

In cases where absorption of the alveolar process, or other causes may render it necessary, he will cast of the same materials attached to the Teeth, artificial gums, which shall imitate the Gum and supply the loss of substance.

It is entirely impossible for these Teeth to change their color, or cause fœtid breath.

He will insert them from one to entire sets, in such manner that they will make articulation of the voice perfect, and materially assist in mastication, and so that they cannot be distinguished from the most beautiful natural living Teeth by the most scrutinizing observer.

He also performs all the various operations in Dental Surgery, according to the late cisentific improvements in the art.

The following testimonials from gentlemen whose respectability needs no encomium, are respectfully submitted to the public.

From N. R. Smith, Professor of Surgery in the University of Maryland.

Baltimore, Oct. 28, 1836.

I have examined specimens of incorruptible Composition Teeth, manufactured by Dr. F. H. Knapp, an ingenious Dentist of this city.

In their form, color, etc., they admirably imitate the natural Teeth. Being completely incorruptible by the agents which affect the Teeth, and also apparently very strong, they must be peculiarly fitted for the purpose for which they are designed.

NATHAN R. SMITH.

From Professor Ducatel.

Having examined some Artificial Teeth prepared by Dr. F. H. Knapp, and learned from him what are the principal ingredients that enter into their composition, and the nature of the materials by which they are colored, I am inclined to think that they will prove, as he represents them to be, incorruptible—Dr. Knapp having moreover acquired the art of varying the colours of the enamel which covers his Artificial Teeth, is thereby enabled to impart to them a more natural appearance than such Teeth are usually found to possess; a circumstance that will doubtless render them more acceptable to the public.

J. T. DUCATEL, M. D.

Prof. of Chemistry in the University of Md.

From S. K. Jennings, Professor of Materia Medica, Therapeutics, &c. in the Washington Medical College of Maryland.

Having been favored with an inspection of a considerable number of Incorruptible Artificial Teeth, which were manufactured by Dr. F. H Knapp, I cheerfully concur in the opinion expressed in respect to them by Professors N. R. Smith and J. T. Ducatel.

SAML. K. JENNINGS.

He has also received the most flattering testimonials in favor of his improved Teeth from Prof. Thomas P. Jones, author of Conversations on Chemistry; Prof. F May, Prof. H. Lindslay, Prof. J. C. Hall, and Prof. Thomas Sewell, Washington D. C. and very many other gentlemen of the first standing in this country.

He offers these Teeth for sale to Dentists on the most favorable terms. Teeth, Gold Foil, &c. &c. sent per mail when ordered.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

THE following letter addressed to Dr. H. H. Higbee, by Mr. Wm. Constab'e, (a pious member of the Methodist Church,) 315 Callowhill street, will show that Dr. Higbee's Remedy, though it is not and never has been offered as specific, is deservedly ranked among the most extraordinary discoveries of madern times. The testimonials daily received of the astonishing efficacy of this medical compound, are conclusive proofs that Dr. Higbee's system of treatment of Chronic diseases, (discovered as it was, when thh inventor was himself, to all appearance, laboring under the most fatal variety of pulmonary consumption,) is founded on correct principles.

Philadelphia, Jan. 15th 1838.

Dr Higbee: Dear sir—I think it a duty incumbent upon me which I owe to you and the world, to make this statement of facts, which I am ready and able to prove. My daughter Eliza 17 years of age, was laboring under a distressing cough, and bleeding of the lungs. We had the advice of physicians, and she was pronounced in the highest stage of consumption and incurable. She had a coutinual pain in her right side, cough from a half to one hour at a time, and discharge more than a pint of corruption per 24 hours, and discharges of large quantities of blood, which the Doctor pronounced to be from the lungs, loss of appetite, could not sleep long by continual coughing, shortness of breath, and discharging from the lungs, My daughter was confined three weeks to her bed, we had to stay by her night and day, expecting eveminute to be her last. I providentially saw your advertisement in the papers, and the respectable signers to it. I felt a strong inclination to purchase a bottler and in three days after she commenced taking you; medicine; she was able to dress herself and walk down stairs, and her cough left her. It is now about ten months since she began to take your medicine.—She took about five bottles of it; and she is in as good a state of health as she has been for a number of years I have recommended your medicine to several of my acquaintancee; they have all found immediate relief. I refer you to John Greenleaf, between Jarman and Milestown, Mrs. Hart, in Callowhill st. at the Post Office; Mr. John Staneclift, keeper of the prison at Cherry Hill. These are persons I recommended your medicine to, and you can can refer any person to them for the particular benefit received from taking your medicine. I live in Callowhill st. 315, near Ninth, where you may refer them to me, and they can have every particular, and see my daughter, or apply to any of the other persons named.

WM. CONSTABLE.

We the undersigned do assert the above statement to be true, for we were eye witnesses to the whole facts.

William Sinkler and Mary Sinkler, Race street, near Tenth.

H. D. Welsh, and Jane M. Welsh, Garden st, between 8th and 9th.

Martha Ostler, and Mary Ostler, No. 361 Callowhill st.

Philadelphia, April 14th, 1838.

Messrs. Editors—I wish through your paper to remove a wrong impression from the minds of many who think the letter I wrote to Dr. H. H. Higbee, is nothing but a ficticious letter with borrowed names attached to it; for many who have called on me were under the same impression—but when they saw my daughter, they found it was no deception but an astonishing fact, and more so when they saw some of of the other persons referred to in my letter; but in particular, John Greenleaf, a man sixty-two years of age, who was perfectly cured by taking Dr. Higbee's medicine, when he was reduced almost to a skeleton by a violent cough, and discharging of blood from the lungs, in a similar way as my daughter. When I saw the effect the medicine had on my daughter, I strongly recommended it to him, and with difficulty I prevailed on him to try it, for he said he was given up as uncurable by his Physician, and that he had tried almost every kind of medicine before and found no relief from any. I did not know Dr. Higbee, nor had I ever seen him at that time. I have no interest in selling the medicine—I am no agent direct or indirect. I purchased Dr. Higbee's medicine (previous to his removal to this city) of his agents. Messrs. Stokes and Brown, in Market st. If any persons doubt my statement, they will please call on me, and I will give them satisfaction, for I have no other motive in view but that the afflicted may find speedy relief. You may depend on these statements to be true, for a I expect to stand before the judgement seat of Christ, to give an account for the deeds of my life, I have made these statements, knowing them to be true. I have not been solicited by Dr. Higbee, or any other person, to make these statements, and I repeat them in order to remove the doubts from every mind.

WM. CONSTABLE.

No. 315 Callowhill st. between 8th & 9th.

☞The author of the above letter is well known as an honest and upright man and a sincere Christian, having for many years been a citizen of Philadelphia and an exemplary member of the Methodist Church. It is but an act of justice to Dr. Higbee, to say, that the above statement was unasked for, and that Mr. Constable wrote it because he believed that by so doing he might be the means of saving many valuable lives which under the usual practice would inevitably be lost. Dr. Higbee's medicine, which continues (though not offered as a panacea) to perform the most astonishing cures in Chronic diseases of the lungs, throat, liver, kidneys, &c &c. may be obtained at the residence of the Proprietor, 37 North Fifth st. Philadelphia; at the residence of the Rev. Daniel Higbee Moorestown N. J.; also, of Stokes and Brown, 295 Market st, and at Joseph Scott's Bookstore, Wilmington, Del. A REAL BLESSING TO MOTHERS.

Dr. W. Evans's Celebrated Soothing Syrup, for Children Cutting their Teeth.

This infallible remedy has preserved hundreds of children, when thought past recovery, from convulsions. As soon as the Syrup is rubbed on the gums, the children will recover. This preparation is so innocent so efficacious, and so pleasant, that no child will refuse to let its gums be rubbed with it. When infants are the age of four months, though there is no appearance of teeth, one bottle of the Syrup should be used on the gums, to open the pores.—Parents should never be without the Syrup in the nursery where there are young children; for if a child wakes in the night with pain in the gums, the Syrup immediately gives ease by opening the pores and healing the gums, thereby preventing Convulsions, Fevers, &c.

ENVIABLE DISTINCTION.

In the midst of a general, and in many instances not unfounded prejudiced against many of the medical remedies of the day, DR W. EVANS' Pills have the enviable distinction of an universal approbation. They are perhaps the only medicine publicly advertised, that has the full and unreserved testimony of medical men in its favor; if not the only one which gives full satisfaction to its purchasers. DR. W. EVANS has the satisfaction of knowing that the Camomile or Tonic Pills are not only regularly recommended and prescribed by the most experienced physicians in their daily practice but also taken by those gentlemen themselves, whenever they feel the symptoms of these diseases in which they know them to be efficacious. He knows this to be generally the case in New York, Philadelphia, Albany, Boston, and other lage cities in which they h[illegible] extensive sale. That they should thus conquer professional prejudice and interested opposition, and secure the agency of the most eminent and best informed physicians in the country to render them useful to all classes, can only be fairly ascribed to their undeniable and preeminent virtues.

Enviable, however, as this distinction is, it can easily be accounted for from the intrinsic and peculiar properties of the medicine itself. It does not pretend to too much, and it accomplishes all that it promises Dr. W. Evans does not pretend, for instance, that either his Camomile or Aperient Pills will cure all diseases by merely purifying the blood, but he certainly does pretend, and has the authority of daily proofs for positively asserting that these medicines, taken as recommended, will cure a great majority of the diseases of the Stomach, Lungs and the Liver by which impurity of the blood is occasioned. The blood is made from the contents of the stomach; has its red color and vitally given it by the action of the lungs, and as it performs its duty in circulating through the veins and arteries, has its yelp low billious or excrement, which may be termed it refuse or worn out sediment, collected and discharge by the liver. These viscrea, then, are the anatomical mechanism or apparatus by which the blood is manufactured and preserved; and it is therefore obvious that the state of these should be the first consideration of the physician. Now there are various
