ment, by affright, grief, disappointment, heat of the weather, or any other nervous action, and be wholly unable to digest its food. Is the blood to blame for this? A nervous action of long continuance will produce settled dyspepsia, with headache, bile, mental and physical debility, and a funeral retinue of other evils. Is the blood to blame for this? Intemperance, by inflaming the coats of the stomach, and leaving it in flaccid prostrate weakness; and an undue quantity and continuance of purgative medicines by producing the same effects, will put this organ almost out of use for digesting wholesome solid food, and thus impoverish the blood and the whole system.—Is the blood to blame for this? Again with regard to the lungs, it is well known that a slight cold, occasioned by damp feet, or by a current of air, will inflame the broncha, all down through the branching air tube of the lungs, and create either excessive mucus, or that dreadfully insidious disease consumption with pustulus and suppuration of the lobes, which though timely remedies may prevent, no earthly skill can cure. Is the blood of the fair and blooming victim to blame for this? So the liver, when climate, sedentary habits, intemperance, or other prostrating causes have weakened it away or paralizes it with dispention, becomes unable to carry off the bile from the circulation, and instead of discharging it through the gall bladder, leaves it to come through the skin in jaundiced and shallow fluids, and to rush upon the stomach in irregular and excessive quantities. Is the unfortunate blood to blame for this? No; these vital organs are never affected by the blood, until after the blood has been affected by them; they are its makers and masters, and it is merely their work and their passive agent.

Knowing this to be a sound and demonstrated fact in science and experience, Dr. W. Evans' system of practice is in faithful accordance with it. He aims to keep the stomach, the lungs, and the liver in vigorous and regular action, as the three great fountains of health and life. For this purpose he prescribes his beautifully efficacious Aperient Pills (acknowledged by medical men who have analyzed and recommended them, to be equal to any in the world) in cases which require the cleansing of the stomach and bowels; and his celebrated Camomile or Tonic Pills, in cases of nervous irritability, stomach weakness, or general debility. A vast majority of human diseases having their origin in the general sympathy of the principle viscra with the nervous system, he thus seeks disease in the most subtle fibres of its roots, instead of vainly hoping to extirpate it by plucking off its leaves and more distant branches. His Aperient Pills, will do all that purgative medicine can do, that is, thoroughly cleanse the stomach and bowels; and his Camomile or Tonic Pills, combining as they also do, the most delightful Abodyne known in medicine, will do, or have done, and are continually doing more to strengthen, restore, and sustain the human constitution than any other medicine that has yet been discoverd. Of this he has inumerable proofs, and this no man can deny without falsehood.

These medicines, which can be purchased either together or separately, are confidently recommended for the following complaint; and directions for use accompany them:—Dyspepsis, in all its forms; Bilious and Liver affections, in every stage and degree; female sickness, more particularly the causes incident to mothers, Finor Albus; Fever and Ague; Incipient Consumptions or Declines, whether of Liver or Lungs; Headache and Giddiness; Loss of appetite; Nerveus Tremors; Inebriation or Delirium Tremors, Spasmodic Affections of all kinds: Rheumatism, whether Chronic or Inflamatory; Nervous and Billious fevers, of every variety; Scrofula; Salt Rheum, and all bletebes, had impure complexions of the skin; Restlessness at night and daily irritability and melancholy; the Summer Complaint and Cholera Morbus, or Diarhœa in grown persons, Worms and Flatulency, with bad breath; Chlorosis, and Palpitations of the Heart or Head; Changes of Female Constitution; and for impaired and disorganized constitutions in either sex, which have not been permanently relieved by any other medicines. A single trial of Dr. W. EVANS' MEDICINES in any of these cases will produce suh effects as will indicate their incomparable superiority, and induce such a use of them as will ensure a speedy and unquestionable cure. The purchaser, however, should be careful to get them genuine at Dr. W. EVANS' OFFICE, No. 100 Chatham St. New York, or of any of his authorized Agents, as all others are base and ignorant impositions. For further particulars he respectfully requests the public to peruse his other advertisements and medical papers, which may be depended upon for their strict and acknowledged truth.

Mrs. J. E. Johnson, wife of Capt. Joseph Johnson, of Lynn, Mass. was severely afflicted for ten years with Tic Doloreux, violent pain in her head, and vomiting, with a burning heat in the stomach, and unable to leave her room. His chief symptoms were excruciating pain in all his joints, that especially in the hip, shoulder, knees and ankles; an aggravation of the pain towards night; and for she most part all times from the external heat, in obvious thickening of the fasbia and ligaments, with a complete loss of muscular power. For the benefit of those afflicted in a similar manner, Mr. Gibson conceiving it meet to say that the pains have entirely ceased, and that his joints have completely recovered their natural tone, and he feels able to resume his ordinary business.

☞A Letter from Mr. Sheldon P. Gilbert, to Dr. Wm. Evans, proprieter of the celebrated Camomile Pills:

Dear Sir—Had tge immortal Cowper known the medical qualities of the Camomile Plant, he as well as thousand since (besides myself.) would have experienced its wonderful effects on the nervous system. The pubtic utiiity of Cowper was blighted in the bud, thro' the natural effect of his nervous debility upon the mental powers, which made it necessary for him to seek relief beneath the rural shade, but the calm retreat gave his physical nature no repose. If some one had known the secret of concentrating the medical virtues of Camomile, the discoverer would have been immortalized with poetic zeal as the benefactor of suffering man.

The above lines were prompted from the effect I have experienced from Dr. Wm. Evans' Camomile Pills.

Yours, with esteem,

Sheldon P. Gilbert.

Mr. McKenzie is daily attending his business, and none of the above symptoms have recurred since he used the medicine. He is now a strong and healthy man. He restored to myriads of remedies, but they were all ineffectual. He is willing to give any information to the afflict d respecting the inestimable benefit rendered to him by the use of dr. wm. evans, medicine.

The above case was pronounced hopeless by three of the most eminent physicians, and the dissolution of the patient daily awaited by her friends, which may be authenticated by the physicians who were in attendance. She has given her cherful permission to publish the above facts, and will also gladly give any information respecting the benefit she has received, to any inquiring mind.

Evans' medicine, he with difficulty repaired to the office and procured a package, to which, he says, he is indebted for his restoration to life, health and friends. He is now enjoying all the blessings of health.

THE BARON VON HUTCHELER HERB PILLS.

These pills are composed of Herbs, which exert a specific action upon the heart, give an impulse or strength to the arterial system, the blood is quickened and equalized in its circulation thro' the vessels, whether of the skin, the parts situated internally, or the extremities; and as all the secretion, and a quickened action of the absorbent and exhalent, or discharging vessels. Any morbid action which may have taken place is corrected, and obstructions are removed, the blood is purified, and the body resumes a healthy state.

The Pills, after much anxious toil and research, having been brought by the proprietor of the present state of perfection, supersede the use of the innumerable other medicines; and are so well adapted to the frame, that the use of them, by maintaing the body in the due performance of its functions, and preserving the vital stream in a pure and healthy state, causes it to last many years longer than it otherwise would, and the mind to become so composed and tranquil, that old age when it arrives, will appear a blessing, and not (as too many have neglected their constitutions, or had them injured by medicines administered by ignorance) a source of misery and abhorrence.

They are so compounded that by ennistrenthgg and equalizing the action of the heart, liver, and other viscera, they expel the bad, acrid or morbid matter, which renders the blood impure; out of the circulation, thro' the excretory ducts into the passage of the bowels, so that by the brisk or slight evacuations, which may be regulated by the doses of the HERB PILLS, always remembering that while the evacuations from the bowels are kept up, the excretions from all other vessels of the boky will also be going on in the same proportion, by which means the blood invariably becomes purified.

Steady perseverence in the use of the Herb Pills will undoubtedly effect a cure even in the most acute and obstinate diseases; but in such cases the dose may be augmented, according to the the inveteracy of the disease; these Pills being so admirably adapted to the constitution that they may be taken at all times

In all cases of Hypochondriachism, Low Spirits Palpitations of the Heart, Nervous Irritability, Nervous Weakness, Flour Albus, Seminal Weakness, Indigestion, Loss of appetite, Flatulency, Heartburn, General Debility, Bodily Weakness, Chlorosis or Green Sickness, Flatulent or Hysteria, Faintings, Hysterics, Headache, Hiccup, Sea Sickness, Night-Mare, Gout Rheumatism, Asthma Tie Doulourence, Cramp, Spasmodic Affections, and those who are victims to that most excruciating disorder, Gout,, will find relief from their sufferings, by a course of the Herb Pills.

One of the most dangerous epochs to females is at the change of life; and it is then they require a medicine which will so invigorate their circulations, and thus strengthen their constitutions as may enable them to withstand the shock. The medicine is the Baron Von Hutcheler Herb Pills.

Those who have the care and education of females, whether the studious or the sedentary part of the community, should never be without a supply of the Herb Pills, which remove disorders in the head, invigorate the mind, strengthen the body, improve the memory, and inliven the imagination.

When the nervous system has been too largely drawn upon or overstrained, nothing is better to correct or invigorate the drooping constitution than these Pills

DIRECTIONS.

Baron Von Hutcheler Herb Pills are to be taken in the morning and night, when the Stomach is foul, or the Bowels costive sufficient to operate twice or three times. The dose may be from three to twelve, or more, night and morning.

The above information was given to the subscriber by Mr. Shaffer himself; there can, therefore, be no deception.

MRS LYDIA H. SIGOURNEY,

Whose name is so intimately connected with the Literature of our country, and who has justly been termed by the contemporary press, THE HEMANS OF AMERICA, will assist Mrs. HALE in the editorial department. It is with feelings of the greatest pleasure that the publisher of the Book makes this announcement. The editorial corps will now consist of Mrs. SARAH J. HALE, Mrs. LYDIA H. SIGOURNEY, and LOUIS A. The Lady's Book has always been noted for the purity of its contents—that marked distinction which characterizes it shall still be preserved; indeed, with such conductors, it will be impossible to go astray.

GODEY'S BOOK

Has been emphatically termed THE LADIES NATIONAL MAGAZINE, as it is a receptacle for the contributions of the most celebrated female writers of America, most of whom of any eminence contribute to its pages. For a list of the names of the Contributors, see October cover of the work.

Twenty Volumes have already been issued. It is usual to announce that a small edition only will be published. Contrary to this, the Proprietor of the Lady's Book announces that he will publish an immense edition, with which he hopes to supply all those who will favor him with orders, commencing with the January number.

It will be seen by this advertisement that every effort has been made by the proprietor of this work to make it superior to any other in America: and as

A NEW YEAR'S GIFT,

The Lady's Book is probably the most proper that could be desired for Ladies, edited by their own sex, and assisted, as the Editorial Department is, by the Pictorial Embellishments, it is positively the Boudoir Companion.

There are other publications that advertise Fashion Plates. The Publisher of the Lady's Book wishes it to be distinctly understood that the principal Fashions in his work are colored, and in every number, which is not the case with any other work published in this country.

Uncolored Plates of Fashions, also, monthly This is a novel feature in the work, and as it is no great expense to give plates of Fashions, without Coloring, the Publisher will give from three to six figures each month, in addition to the three Colored—this will make in all, generally, about

The Musical department is under the superintendence of J. G. Osborne, than whom no person is more capable of doing it justice.

The Literary Department is placed under the superintendence of Mrs. Sarah J. Hale and Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney: two ladies so well known to the world that to mention their names in connection with any publication is at once a guarantee of its morality, virtue, and utility. Of their capability to conduct the Lady's Book, it is presumed no person will doubt, and the proprietor mentions with pleasure that no English or American Magazine can publish in connection with its Literary Department two names so celebrated in the world of letters.

The Burning Ship at

The night was clear and mild,
And the breeze went softly by,
And the stars of heaven smil'd
As their lamps lit up the sky,
And there rode a gallant ship on th
But many a hapless wight
Slept the sleep of death that nigh
And before the morning light
Found a grave.

All were sunk in soft repose,
Save the watch upon the deck
Not a boding dream arose
Of the horrors of the wreck,
To the mother, or the child, or the
Till a shriek of woe profound,
Like a death knell, echo'd round,
With a wild and dismal sound,
Crying fire!

Now the flames are spreading fa
With resistlest rage they fly,
Up the shrouds and up the mast,
And are flickering to the sky;
Now the deck is all a blaze; now
There's no place to rest their fe
Fore and aft the torches meet,
And a winged lightning sheet
Are the sails.

No one heard the cries of wo
But the sea-bird that flew by,
There was hurrying to and fro,
But no hand to save was nig

Last farewells were uttered ther
With a wild and frenzied stare,
And a short and broken prayer
Sent to heaven.

Some leap over in the flood
To the death that waits them
Others quench the flames with

Some, a moment to escape from th
On the bowsprit take a stand;
But their death is near at hand
Soon they hug the burning bran
On the wave.

From his briny ocean bed,
When the morning sun awok
Lo, that gallant ship had fled?
And a sable cloud of smoke
Was the monumental pyre that re
But the sea-gulls round it fly,
With a quick and fearful cry;
And the brand that floated by
Blood had stained.

NIGHT.

BY JAMES MONTGOMERY, E

Night is the time for rest;
How sweet when labors clo
To gather round an aching br
The curtain of repose;
Stretch the tired limbs and lay
Upon our own delightful bed!

Night is the time for dreams;
The gay romance of life,
When truth that is and truth
