the excessive heat is experienced throughout the whole system, and accompanied with great thirst, pain in the head, back, kidneys, and in fact a complete prostration of all the faculties of the mind as well as body.

On the first attack of fever, or any disease, immediately take a large dose of Brandeth's Vegetable Universal Pills, and continue to keep up a powerful effect upon the bowels until the fever or pain has entirely ceased. Six or eight will in most cases be sufficient as a first dose, and one dose of this kind, it is not improbable, may prevent months of sickness, perhaps death.

Dr. Benjamin Brandeth's Vegetable Universal Pills are indeed a universally approved medicine, which, by its peculiar action, Cleanses the Blood of all Impurities, removes every PAIN and WEAKNESS, and finally RESTORES the CONSTITUTION to perfect HEALTH and VIGOR.

Price 25 cents per box, with directions in English, French, Spanish, Portuguese and German.

IN CHANCERY,

23rd November, 1840.

SAMUEL SEWELL, vs. Richard C. Keene, and others. } THE Bill of complaint in this cause, states that Morris Roach in his life time was indebted to Samuel Sewell in the sum of three hundred dollars, and to secure the payment of which, he mortgaged to the complainant a tract of land called "Preston Vale" that the entire debt remains unpaid, that the personal estate is not sufficient to pay the debts—that "Preston Vale" will not sell for a sum sufficient to pay the mortgage debt. That the heirs at law are Thomas Roach, Hannah wife of Richard Keene and the children of a deceased sister, Elizabeth Pinkfield to wit—Henrietta wife of Benjamin Jeffries, Elizabeth wife of ——— Coleman (the christian name not known) Mary Jane Pinkfield and Francis Ann Pinkfield, who live beyond the limits of this State—The bill prays a decree for the sale of the said real estate of Morris Roach to pay his debts.

It is thereupon adjudged and ordered that the complainant by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published at Cambridge once in each of three successive weeks before the 28th day of December next give notice to the said absent defendants of the object and substance of this bill; and warn them to appear in this court in person or by solicitor on or before the 23rd day of April next, to answer the premises and show cause if any they have why a decree should not pass as prayed.

WEEKLY MADISONIAN.
FOR THE NEXT SESSION OF CONGRESS.

THE approaching session of Congress will, doubtless, be one of great interest. It will close up some, at least, of the affairs of Mr. Van Buren's administration, and usher in the more auspecious dawn of a new and better order of things. The scenes in Congress will probably be exciting. On the one side we shall see the strnggles of an expiring faction, and on the other a triumphant party, armed with the confidence of the people, imposing judicious restraints upon the convulsive throes of their opponents, and shielding their country as far as possible from the dangers of malignant and reckless violence, and endeavoring to avert the embarrassments which defeated men, stung with disappointment, will seek to throw in the way of the new administration. On the third of March next, 12 o'clock, P. M., Mr. Van Buren's dull star will vanish, and immediately in its place shall we behold appearing the rising sun of HARRISON.

On the 4th of March, General Harrison, as President of the United States, will attend in the Chamber of the House of Representatives to take his oath of office, according to the direction of the Constitution. On his entrance, as on the entrance of Washington, and Jefferson, and Madison, the audience will not be able to stifle their disposition to applaud. Having taken his seat on the elevated chair of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Vice President, Mr. Van Buren, (if present,) and the Secretary of the Senate on his right, the Speaker and Clerk of the House of Representatives on his left, and the Chief Justice of the United States and Associate Judges at the Clerk's table, he will proceed to deliver his inaugural speech, after which he will receive the oath of office from Mr. Taney, the Chief Justice.* He will then retire, and such huzzas will go up from the multitude around the Capitol as have never been heard.

Such will be among the interesting incidents which will occupy the columns of the weekly Madisonian.—The paper will contain leading speeches, spirited sketches of the debates, and a summary of the results of the proceedings in Congress, gether with the general and political news of the day. It will contain the official returns of the vote in the Electoral Colleges for President, which will be opened in the presence of Congress, and the Inaugural Address of the President. This will include the time comprehended between the opening of Congress in December, and its adjournment on the 4th of March. Subscription price for this period FIFTY CENTS. Terms cash, in advance. Bank notes of every description received at their specie value. Postmasters will act as agents, and be allowed a commission—they are also authorized by the Department to forward subscriptions under frank. Letters must come to us free, or postage paid.

A REAL BLESSING TO MOTHERS.

Dr. W. Evans's Celebrated Soothing Syrup, for Children Cutting their Teeth.

This infallible remedy has preserved hundreds of children, when thought past recovery, from convulsions. As soon as the Syrup is rubbed on the gums, the children will recover. This preparation is so innocent, so efficacious, and so pleasant, that no child will refuse to let its gums be rubbed with it. When infants are the age of four months, though there is no appearance of teeth, one bottle of the Syrup should be used on the gums, to open the pores.—Parents should never be without the Syrup in the nursery where there are young children; for if a child wakes in the night with pain in the gums, the Syrup immediately gives ease by opening the pores and healing the gums, thereby preventing Convulsions, Fevers, &c.

ENVIABLE DISTINCTION.

In the midst of a general, and in many instances not unfounded prejudiced against many of the medical remedies of the day, DR W. EVANS' Pills have the enviable distinction of an universal approbation. They are perhaps the only medicine publicly advertised, that has the full and unreserved testimony of medical men in its favor; if not the only one which gives full satisfaction to its purchasers. DR. W. EVANS has the satisfaction of knowing that the Camomile or Tonic Pills are not only regularly recommended and prescribed by the most experienced physicians in their daily practice but also taken by those gentlemen themselves, whenever they feel the symptoms of these diseases in which they know them to be efficacious. He knows this to be generally to case in New York, Philadelphia, Albany, Boston, and other lage cities in which they have an extensive sale. That they should thus conquer professiona prejudice and interested opposition, and secure the agency of the most eminent and best informed physicians in the country to render them useful to all classes, can only be fairly ascribed to their undeniable and preeminent virtues.

Enviable, however, as this distinction is, it can easily be accounted for from the intrinsic and peculiar properties of the medicine itself. It does not pretend to too much, and it accomplishes all that it promises. Dr. W. Evans does not pretend, for instance, that either his Camomile or Aperient Pills will cure all diseases by merely purifying the blood, but he certainly does pretend, and has the authority of daily proofs for positively asserting that these medicines, taken as recommended, will cure a grea majority of the diseases of the Stomach, Lungs an the Liver by which impurity of the blood is occasioned. The blood is made from the contents of the stomach; has its red color and vitally given it by the action of the lungs, and as it performs its duty in circulating through the veins and arteries, has its yeld low billious or excrement, which may be termed its refuse or worn out sediment, collected and discharge by the liver. These viscrea, then, are the anatomical mechanism or apparatus by which the blood s manufactured and preserved;-and it is therefore obvious that the state of these should be the first consideration of the physician. Now are there various causes will effect and derange these organs with which the blood has nothing whatever to do.—Thus the stomach may be utterly debilitated in one moment, by affright, grief, disappointment, heat of the weather, or any other nervous action, and be wholly unable to digest its food. Is the blood to blame for this? A nervous action of long continuance will produce settled dyspepsis, with hesdache, bile, mental and physical debility, and a funeral retinue of other [illegible] Intemperance [illegible] stomach, and leaving [illegible] and an undue quantity [illegible] and purgative medicines by producing [illegible] will put this organ almost out of the [illegible] digesting wholesome solid food, and thus impoverish the blood and the whole system.—Is the blood to blame for this? Again with regard to the lungs, it is well known that a slight cold, occasioned by damp feet, or by a current of air, will inflame the broncha, all down through the branching air tube of the lungs, and create either excessive mucus, or that dreadfully insidious disease consumption with pusulus and suppuration of the lobes, which though timely remedies may prevent, no earthly skill can cure. Is the blood of the fair and blooming victim to blame for this? So the liver, when climate, sedentary habits, intemperance, or other prostrating causes have [illegible] it away or paralizes it with dispention, becomes unable to carry off the bile from the circulation, and instead of discharging it through the gall bladder, leaves it to come through the skin in jaundiced and shallow fluids, and to rush upon the stomach in irregular and excessive quantities. Is the unfortunate blood to blame for this? No; these vital organs are never affected by the blood, until after the blood has been affected by them; they are its makers and masters, and it is merely their work and their passive agent.

Knowing this to be a sound and demonstrated fact in science and experience, Dr. W. Evans' system of practice is in faithful accordance with it. He aims to keep the stomach, the lungs, and the liver in vigorous and regular action, as the three great fountains of health and life. For this purpose he prescribes his beautifully efficacious Aperient Pills (acknowledged by medical men who have analyzed and recommended them, to be equal to any in the world) in cases which require the cleansing of the stomach and bowels; and his celebrated Camomile or Tonic Pills, in cases of nervous irritability, stomach weakness, or general debility. A vast majority of human diseases having their origin in the general sympathy of the principle viscera with the nervous system, he thus seeks disease in the most subtle fibres of its roots, instead of vainly hoping to extirpate it by plucking off its leaves and more distant branches. His Aperient Pills, will do all that purgative medicine can do, that is, thoroughly cleanse the stomach and bowels: and his Camomile or Tonic Pills, combining as they also do, the most delightful Abodyne known in medicine, will do, or have done, and are continuall doing more to strengthen, restore and sustain the human constitution than any other medicine that has yet been discoverd. Of this he has inumerable proofs, and this no man can deny without falsehood.

These medicines, which can be purchased either together or separately, are confidently recommended for the following complaint; and directions for use accompany them:—Dyspepsis, in all its forms; Billious and Liver affections, in every stage and degree—female sickness, more particularly the causes incident to mothers, Finor Albus; Fever and Ague; Incipient Consumptions or Declines, whether of Liver or Lungs; Headache and Giddiness; Loss of appetite; Nerveus Tremors; Inebriation or Delirium Tremors, Spasmodic Affections of all kinds; Rheumatism, whether Chronic or Inflamatory; Nervous and Billious fevers, of every variety; Scrofula; Salt Rheum, and all bletebes, had impure complexions of the skin; Restlessness at night and daily irritability and melancholy; the Summer Complaint and Cholera Morbus, or Diarhœa in grown persons, Worms and Flatulency, with bad breath; Chlorosis, and Palpitations of the Heart or Head; Changes of Female Constitution; and for impaired and disorganized constitutions in either sex, which have not been permanently relieved by any other medicines. A single trial of Dr. W. EVANS' MEDICINES in any of these cases will produce suh effects as will indicate their incomparable superiority, and induce such a use of them as will ensure a speedy and unquestionable cure. The purchaser, however, should be careful to get them genuine at Dr. W. EVANS' OFFICE, No. 100 Chatham St. New York, or of any of his authorized Agents, as all others are base and ignorant impositions. For further particulars he respectfully requests the pubhc to peruse his other advertisements and medical papers, which may be depended upon for their strict and acknowledged truth.
