The Second National Bank

invites the attention of the public to the above statement. It is the result of the motto of the Second Nat'l. Bank to treat all its depositors alike. Not to give 3 per cent. to certain customers and offer 4 per cent. to depositers in other banks, but to each and every Savings Depositor 4 per cent.

We solicit your account. You will be served with Promptness, Accuracy, Liberality and Courtesy. The steady and marked growth of the Second Nat'l. Bank of Chestertown commands attention everywhere. Few country banks have $415,000 00 on deposits.

SITE OF NEW DEPOT DEFINITELY SETTLED

Pennsylvania Railroad officials, Gen. Supt. E. F. Brooks, Supt. Robert L. Holiday and Civil Engineer Latrobe, in company with a few friends, arrived in Chestertown last Tuesday in a special cafe car. The object of their visit was to settle definitely the sight of the much talked of new railroad depot. At a former conference it had been decided to place the building on what is known as the Pearce lot. Here, the railroad representatives considered, was a commanding elevation, on which the house could be placed and which would enable the officials to avoid the depression in the acquired land further north. But at the solicitation of the citizens of the town it was decided on Tuesday to change the site determined upon to the McWhorter lot, situated further up town, and nearer the centre of population. The depot then, will be placed at the foot of Cross street and will face the same. The tracks will run on the south west side of the depot.

The grounds surrounding will have to be raised to the extent of 4 or 5 feet. When work will begin is not definitely known, but from remarks let drop by Supt. Brooks, operations, at least on the fence enclosing the grounds, will begin at once. This will be constructed of Page woven wire. The railroad men remained only a few hours in town, and while here made the office of M. deK. Smith, Esq., local counsel, their headquarters.

SPORTING NOTES.

Princeton and Pennsylvania, two great universities who have been at odds for nine years in their athletic relations have made peace, and will resume their contests on track and field.

John Townsend, the former Washington College pitcher, who, it was said, had broken his contract with the Washington, D. C., club, and signed with New York, we are glad to note, has business foresight enough to remain with his club until his contract expires.

Another pool contest is in progress at the Brick House Club. The first round of a handicap tournament has been finished. The names of the contestants and their handicaps are as follows: Messrs. Whaland Beauchamp, Hollis, Dodd and Valliant, are the scratch men. Those with 10 ball handicaps in a fifty ball game, are Messrs. Thomas Massey, E J. Clarke, Wilbur Eliason, A. B. Burris, Arthur Bradley, Lewin W. Wickes and James Beck. Those with 15 balls are: Messrs. Chas. Massey, Chas. P. Gilpin, H. M. Brown, Curtis E. Crane, William Beck. Mr. P. A. M. Brooks has 20 balls. Those with 25 balls are: Dr. Harry Simpers and Phillip Wilmer. Those with 30 balls are: Dr. W. F. Hines, Thomas F. Perkins, Thomas D. France and George Brice. The first round resulted as follows, the first name given in each contest representing the winner:

Thomas Massey vs. Charles Massey	50 to 32
Dr. Hines vs. Dr. Gilpin.	50 to 49
Dr. Whaland vs. H. M. Brown	50 to 39
Reginald Beachamp vs. P. B. Hollis	50 to 35
T. W. Perkins vs. C. E. Crane	50 to 37
Dr. Dodd vs. E. J. Clarke	Forfeited

Since last wesk's issue of the TRANSCRIPT Manager Garey of the Washington college base ball team has arranged a game with Mt. St. Mary's college of Emmittsburg, Md. Requests for games have also come from the Walbrook Atheletic Club, and from the Atlantic B. B. C.

Diamond State Telephone.—The annual stockholders meeting of the Diamond State Telephone Company was held at the home office of the company, Pricilla Block, Dover, Del., on Thursday. The year was a satisfactory one notwithstanding the fact they only paid a 2 per cent. dividend, which is the first the company has ever paid. Mr. Wilbur W. Hubbard, of Chestertown, a stockholder and director of the Eastern Shore, was present, and after the adjournment of the business meeting a banquet was tendered them by their president, H. A. Richardson, at the Hotel Richardson, at which speeches were made, telling of the origin and growth of the company, how it started with but few phones and how it has grown. The company has spent up to the present, $443,000 00, they have nearly every village and hamlet on this peninsula connected up with a $30,000 cable across the bay, and at the meeting Thursday a resolution was passed to spend $150,000 more, or a total of $600,000, and will take the line down to Cape Charles, it now being within 40 miles of there, and will connect up those points and other people that have been overlooked thus far.

Small Pox in Chestertown.

A CASE DISCOVERED IN THE UPPER PART OF THE TOWN SUNDAY MORNING LAST.

The Commissioners Take Prompt Action to Stamp out the Dreaded Disease.

CITIZENS SHOULD GET VACCINATED AT ONCE.

Chestertown sort of held its breath when it was announced late Saturday evening last, or early the next morning that there had appeared within its limits a genuine case of small pox. The loathsome disease is always a dreaded visitor wherever it appears and it has a right to be. Besides a feeling of general unrest which takes possession of every man, woman and child in the community; a feeling which amounts almost to terror, the result of an uncertainty as to the spread of the contagion, the conditions which follow a breaking out of small pox are all hostile to the business of a community. People avoid the town; in some cases an exodus of those living in the place affected occurs and in general the even tenor of a district is broken up when small pox comes about.

This peninsula has been the unhappy possessor of the trouble for some time. In Worcester the plague struck Snow Hill and other towns, and while it was somewhat shocking to learn that it had reached Chestertown, it could not be a total surprise. It is rather difficult to obtain full particulars as to how it was introduced here since there are two different accounts. It is known, however, that the first and only case so far developed is that of a child of about 5 years of age, by the name of Heath. She was brought here by her grand-mother from Wilmington, Del., about two weeks ago from a house infected with the disease, was located in a small tenement house on College avenue, near High street, and in a week or so was herself a victim. Dr. Simpers was called in on Saturday last to see the case after the trouble had made its appearance for a week. He immediately pronounced it small pox, but to strengthen his diagnosis he called in Drs. Hines and Whaland for consultation. The three physicians went to see the case and were unanimous in their decision as to its being a case of small pox. Report was immediately made to the town commissioners, who sent a phone message to Dr. Fulton, State health officer, relating circumstances and requesting his presence at once in Chestertown. Unable to come himself he sent his assistant, Dr. Jones, who arrived on Monday, went to see the child, and confirmed the diagnoses of the local physicians. He instituted a strict quarantine of the case and of all those persons who had been immediately connected with it.

A meeting of the town commissioners was held on Monday and it was decided to build three houses; one for all actual cases, another for persons under suspicion, and a third for a watch-house. Prompt action enabled these houses to be ready for accupancy on Thursday.

The patient and her mother were carried out yesterday, about 2 o'clock P. M., in an ambulance, carefully constructed of a dayton wagon, securely curtained on all sides with oil cloth and canvass. The horse was owned by the youngest son of the late James White. The animal was covered from fore-top to tail with oil cloth to prevent the spread of the germs. This rude but effective small pox ambulance created quite an interest, but it can be readily conjectured it was viewed askance and at a safe distance.

All precautions looking to the checking of the disease have been taken, and our town commissioners deserve great credit for their prompt action when first informed of the conditions, and for their diligence every day since. An old town ordinance, published elsewhere in this issue of the TRANSCRIPT, advises everyone to be vaccinated, and hundreds are taking the advice.

The negro school was closed promptly—a most excellent precaution—because two scholars from the infested house were in attendance at the school, and it is to be hoped the town commissioners will close the churches for a limited time at least. The pest houses have been built near the railroad, a little beyond the reservoir.

Col. Wm. J. Vannort, president of the board of town commissioners, went to Baltimore to secure a physician to take charge of the cases, and while unsuccessful thus far, expects to secure one at an early date.

It is to be hoped that no further cases may develop, but if such should be our misfortune, they will probably appear some time next week, judging from the time different individuals came into contact with the child. The disease has broken out among a careless people, a morbid curiosity—sometimes carrying them right into the presence of the case. Unreliable to the core, no dependence can be placed in their statements, and doubtless, hundreds have been exposed, and there is no telling what the result may be. However, it is useless to be needlessly alarming, and until the contagion assumes larger proportions we will trust in the ability of our authorities to crush it out.

OBITUARY.
