The Crucifiction.—We understand the Greek Picture on which Mr. Sebron has been engaged for nearly three years, has at last arrived at New York, in the packet ship Louis Philippe, and it is expected will be open at the Diorama, Sansom street, early in the ensuing week. It is said to exceed in effect every Exhibition before seen in America

The honorable Louisa Tabot was sentenced to four months imprisonment on the 21st of February, for swindling—three of the four at hard labor. In giving setence the judge said she was a very accomplished but also a very artful woman.

A Liverpool paper says, "We understand the Bank of the United States is making very large remittances to England in various shapes; in addition to Bills of Exchange for one hundred or one hundred and fifty thousand pounds, and large amounts in securities by the late packets, the house of Biddle and Co. of Liverpool, has just effected insurance on cottons valued at 380,000 pounds, coming to their address.

American securities in London were firm with a tendency upward, but business in them has not been important. Indiana, however, which only a short time since was heavy at 83 is now scarce at 88.

NATIONAL CONVENTION.—A meeting of the Whig Members of both branches of the Louisiana Legislature, was held on the 12th inst. in New Orleans, at which the following resolutions were passed. It will be seen that the great Statesman of the West engrosses the affections of the Whigs of Louisiana.

Resolved, That ten delagates be appointed to represent the Whigs of Louisiana in the General Whig Convention, to be holden in the city of Philadelphia on the 4th of July next, to select and nominate a candidate for President of the United States at the ensuing election.

Resolved further, That the Whigs of Louisiana entertaining an exalted opinion of the integrity, ability and patriotism of HENRY CLAY, of Kentucky, do respectfully recommend his nomination as the Whig candidate for the Presidency of the United States.

Resolved further, That notwithstanding the predelictions as above expressed, they do hereby instruct their delegates to unite in the support of the individual who may receive a majority of the votes in said convention.

THE ALPHABET OF REQUISITES FOR A WIFE.—(BY AN ELDERLY BACHELOR.)—A wife should be amiable, affectionate, artless, affable, accomplished; beautiful, benign, benevolent; chaste, charming, candid, cheerful, complaisant, charitable, civil, constant; dutiful, dignified; elegant, easy, engaging, entertaining; faithful, fond, faultless, free; good, graceful, generous, governable, good humored, handsome, harmless, healthy, heavenly-minded; intelligent, interresting, industrious, ingenious; just; kind, lively, liberal, lovely, modest, merciful, mannerly; neat notable; obedient, obliging; pretty, pleasing, peacible, pure; righteous, sociable, submissive, sensible; temperate, true; virtuous; well-formed, and young. When I meet with a woman possessed of all these requisites, I will marry!

The following text is from the Portland Advertiser—the comment from the Mobile Chronicle:

"A wave breaking to pieces is the only object in nature beautiful in its dissolution.

"A dying swan, whose "last note is still its sweetest;" an expiring dolphin, tinting the ocean wave with its brilliant lines—a setting sun, radiant with glory—and a young girl, melting into eternity with the consumption, are all beautiful objects. The last intensely beautiful—almost divinely so."

Absence of Mind.—A tall man in Virginia, having held a conversation with another person of inferior dimensions, made a low bow to his cane which stood in one corner, and seizing his friend by the scalp walked off with him.

Another.—A drunkard being visited by a temperance agent just as he was about to take down his morning's bitters, kicked the decanter out of doors, and swallowed the agent.

DUEL.—The New Orleans merchant of the 15th inst. says,—"A duel was fought yesterday afternoon between a French gentleman and a merchant of this city, with rifles, at thirty paces.—The merchant, we learn fell at the first fire."

Beautiful Comparison.—The Boston Pearl, says:—'Until the heart of woman is capable of settling firmly and exclusively on one object her love is like a shower which makes rainbows but fills no cisterns!

A woman in Lancaster, being told that candles had been raised two cents in the pound, on account of the war, said, "Dang it, are they got to fighting by candle light?"

Valuable Woodland.

PURSUANT to competent authority, I will sell at the store house door of William D. Barrow, esq., in the town of Church Creek, on Saturday the 7th day of APRIL next,

all that valuable

WOOD LOT

called "Head Range," "Cornwall," and "Tynai," which lie in the north east, and west of the Blackwater road, leading from the head of Church Creek, to Black Water Bridge, containing in all 69 ACRES.

This land is most heavily timbered, & so convenient to navigable water, as to make a strong appeal to all those who deal in Ship Timber, in Lumber and Wood in all its varieties; and when this land shall have been cleared from all the valuable timber and wood with which it abounds, it will then command a large price as building lots or arable land. The site is eligible for building, and so elevated as to be accessible at any season of the year.

Previously to the day of sale, this lot will be sub-divided into lots of about 5 acres; and each lot will lead immediately to the main road running through Church Creek, and will be distant only about one hundred yards from navigable water. The plots will be left with Wm. D. Barrow, esq., who will exhibit them to any one disposed to examine them anterior to the day of sale. The location of the several sub-divisions of this lot can be easily seen from the store of Mr. Barrow by inspection.

The title which the purchaser or purchasers shall receive for this land shall be indisputable; and to remove all doubts on this subject, I will return the purchase money, should this title be objectionable and objected to at any time before the obtention of a deed by the purchaser or purchasers.

The terms of sale will be one-eight part cash on the day of sale, the balance to be paid in six, twelve, and eighteen months from the day of sale, the purchase money secured by bond and security approved by the trustee, with interest till paid.
