CHRONICLE.

TEXAS—IMPORTANT.

The recent accounts of the determination of the Mexican government to disregard the agreement made by Santa Anna, and to renew the war upon Texas, are already in the course of practical confirmation. The New Orleans papers of the 2d instant mention that intelligence had just been received from Natchitoches, "that 7,000 Mexican troops, composed in part of those who were permitted to retire from Texas after the revengeful battle of San Jacinto, and the remainder fresh recruits from Matamoras, had taken up their line of march upon Texas about the 20th ultimo, and reached the Guadaloupe. Brigadier Gen. Rusk, commander in chief of the Texan army, having discovered their approach and fearful numbers, had retreated, in order to select a favorable position, in which to receive his blood thirsty enemies in a manner compatible with their 'honor' and dignity."—Balt. Amer.

There seems to be little doubt, says the Baltimore American, that the Texan war is about to be engaged in by the Mexicans with strong national feeling. The capture of Santa Anna was a national deliverance at the same time that it was a national disgrace. The Mexicans will be more united and zealous in the contest without him than with him, while they feel his overthrow as a stigma on the nation. He was the tyrannical head of a faction, and detested by the majority of those over whom he ruled, and thus they rejoice at his downfall, though they rouse themselves to revenge it.

The Mexicans are mustering an army of eight or ten thousand men. The Texans have now not more than a third of this force, but will probably be able in the course of the summer to swell their army to four thousand. If they can raise this number, they will beat back the Mexican army. The battle at St. Jacinto, where six hundred men at a single onset overwhelmed twelve hundred, slaying them by hundreds with the loss of scarcely a score, is a sample of the relative powers of the contending parties. That battle, so totally unlike any thing of which the Mexicans had experienced, has struck a terror into them, while their savage butcheries will add fuel to the ardor of the Texans, urging them upon their foes with the same inforiated spirit and resistless energy, which made them such easy victors at St. Jacinto.

From the Southern Patriot.

MILLEDGEVILLE, July 7.

THE CREEK WAR ENDED.

The Creeks have abandoned the struggle. Gens. Scotland and Sandford, with the Georgia troops U. S. regulars, and a body of friendly Indians, have traversed the Creek country without encountering the smallest show of resistance. The Indians every where submitted. About 1800 of the Indians commenced their journey for Arkansas, a few days ago. The Georgia volunteers and drafted men were to be disbanded in the present week.

Major General Scott left Georgia for the north on the 9th instant. He has arrived in Baltimore, on his way to Washington. His recall did not reach him until his plan of operations against the Creeks had been most successfully developed.—Balt. Amer.

Mr. Madison left, with the exception of legacies to the amount of thirteen thousand dollars, including one of $1500 to the University, and another of $4000 to the Colonization Society, the whole of his estate to Mrs. Madison, who is constituted sole executrix.

Statue of Fulton.—A committee of the merchants of New Orleans has been appointed to cause a statue of the late Robert Fulton to be erected in the great hall of the Merchants' Exchange of that city.

Breaking up of the Harems in the East.—A German paper states that the Schah of Persia, in order to give a proof of the advancement of civilization, had suddenly thrown open the gates of his harem, and given ther liberty to all the female slaves that it contained. All the great men of the empire followed the example, and the inhabitants of Teheron could scarcely believe their eyes when they saw the gates of the palace opened for the first time for the unhappy victims. This news causes an extraordinary sensation here and all over the east. It was believed in Persia that the Sultan would follow the example.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Mr. Callahan—An enquirer asks the Hon. Orphans' Court of Dorchester county, through the medium of your paper—

1st. How many deceased estates stand unsettled, where letters have been granted two years?

2d. How many where letters have been granted three years?

3d. How many where letters have been granted four years?

4th and lastly. Why not adopt some measures to compel Administrators to close their trust, in the time prescribed by law, and save the orphans the interest on what is due them for some one, two, three or four years?

FROM FRANCE.

By the Normandie, packet ship from Havre, the editors of the New York American have Paris papers to the 11th ult.

The French Princes were at Vienna at the latest accounts, and were received and treated with the utmost apparent cordiality.

In a discussion which took place in the Chamber of Deputies, June 9th, the President of the Council said it was the intention of the French government to persevere in its efforts to retain the French possessions in Africa. He remarked that if France should abandon Algiers, "the coast of Africa would immediately be occupied by some other great maritime power—by England, the United States, or Russia—or else would become the prey of pirates, who would seriously injure the French trade in the Mediterranean.

M. Barbet, a large manufacturer near Rouen, has just spun some twist from cotton grown at Algiers, and the specimens he has produced are not inferior to any produced from American cotton.

FROM ENGLAND.

London and Liverpool papers to the 11th June have been received at New York, by the ships Ontario and Shakspeare.

The Ontario has on board one hundred and twenty-five thousand pounds sterling, in gold, besides a valuable cargo. The Shakspeare has on board, it is said, the largest and most valuable cargo ever brought from Liverpool.

There was a rumor that the plague had broken out at London, which Mr. P. Thomson, in the House of Commons, declared to be entirely without foundation. It had arisen from an indiscreet expression dropt by a medical gentleman. The head of a large warehouse establishment had died of a brain fever, and this had beed magnified into the death of seven persons from contagion imported in a package of foreign goods.

The Lords' amendments to the Irish Corporation Reform Bill were rejected in the House of Commons, June 10th, by a majority of 86. The votes were 324 to 238. The announcement of the majority, being an increase of 14 upon the majority which carried the original bill, was received with loud cheers.

There were rumors of approaching changes in the French Ministry. It was said that Marshal Maison was about to retire, and would be succeeded by Gen. Guilleminot, or Marshal Moritor. Also, that M. Duchatel, late Minister of Commerce, would succeed M. D'Argout in the Ministry of Finance.

Melancholy accounts are received of the famine prevailing in the northwest counties of Ireland. In the Highlands, also, great distress is said to exist. A person from the Isle of Skye has reported that the state of the county was such that there was reason to fear that before August, more than one hundred people would die in the parish of Slate alone.

In the House of Commons on the 3d of June, Lord Stanley's amendment to the Irish Tithe bill had 261 votes to 100 and was rejected.

Mr. Dunscombe introduced a motion into the House of Commons, calling upon his Majesty to interpose his good offices with the Government of France to procure the release of Polignac and other ministers of Charles X. confined in the castle of Ham. Much sympathy was expressed by different speakers, and the motion was then withdrawn as inopportune.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, on the same day, moved a resolution declaratory of the expediency of removing the disabilities to which the Jews were exposed. It was agreed to.

Steamboats across the Atlantic.—By the Liverpool Chronicle, we learn that there are already three companies being formed for the establishment of lines of steamboats from Great Britain to New York and the Canadas, viz. from Liverpool, Bristol and London.

The Paris papers, which have access as they say to Cabinet secrets, assert that the Government of France is displeased with that of Turkey for its conduct in relation to Tripoli, and has threatened, should the Porte again so act towards the ally of France, to send a squadron to repeat the scene of Navarino. A letter from Toulon says, "we are assured that the great armaments preparing here are not for the Levant but for Spain. What gives credit to these reports is the order to Admiral Hugon, not to quit these coasts. The squadron is to cruise between Toulon and the Gulf of Matora, and troops will always be ready to be embarked on board our ships and carried wherever they may be wanted.

GREECE.—The absence of King Otho has emboldened the insurgents to re-enter the country from the frontiers to which they had been driven. The two English Generals, Gordon and George, in command of Otho's troops, have not been able to effect any thing against them. The insurgents are expected to rise en masse in Achaia, Messina, Argos, and Attica.

SPAIN.—Madrid papers of the 3d of June announce that a junta had been formed at Malaga; but that the attempts at insurrection have proved vain, and that the junta dissolved itself on the 26th.

On the 22d of May, serious disturbances arose at Carthagena, which lasted three days. The authorities, rendered inactive by terror, left the field open to about 100 assassins, who, armed with poiniards, and wearing similar cloaks and red caps, tore from their houses such persons as were noted for being Carlists, and massacred them in the public place. Among these victims, whose numbers some state at ten and others at twenty, were government clerks, priests and notable persons of the town.

Eugen Aram.—A provincial paper contains a notice of the death of Edw'd. Day, at Knaresborough, aged 101, one of the constables who arrested the celebrated Eugene Aram, 80 years ago.—London paper.

Death of Bishop White.—We have this morning the painful duty of announcing to our readers, the death of the Rt. Rev. WILLIAM WHITE, D. D., Bishop of the Episcopal Diocess of Pennsylvania, and Senior Bishop of that Church in the U. States, and at his death, believed to be the oldest Protestant Bishop in the world—Bishop White was born (we believe,) in Maryland on the 4th of April, 1748, so that he is more than 88 years of age.

WOOL CARDING.

THE subscriber returns his acknowledgments for the liberal patronage received last year, and informs the public that he intends to continue the

at the Mill formerly owned by William Dines, near Ennalls's Camp Ground.

The Carding Machines attached to the Mill are in excellent repair and fine condition for carding. He hopes, by strict and personal attention to his business, to merit a share of public patronage, and doubts not that all who favor him with their custom will be fully satisfied with his work. The rates are, for once through, six cents per pound—twice through, eight cents. Persons are requested to pick and grease their wool well before sending it to the Mill; and those sending wool of various colors, which they wish mixed, will be particular to have such colours pulled together.

William F. Robinson

RETURNS his acknowledgments to his friends and the public, for the very liberal custom they have bestowed upon him; and respectfully informs them that he continues to carry on the business, at Mr. Wright's Mill, (formerly Dines's,) in its various branches, where all orders in his line will be promptly executed in a manner unsurpassed, on this Shore, for durability, neatness and elegance. He particularly solicits the patronage of the Ladies, for, having chiefly devoted his attention to that branch of his business which comprises "Ladies' Work," he is confident they will be singularly pleased with the style in which he will fulfil their commands. Having worked in New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, in some of the first establishments there, he possesses a full knowledge of his business; and being in regular correspondence with several leading houses in Baltimore, he keeps himself supplied with the newest and best articles, as well as advised of the latest fashions. He, therefore, pledges himself that his work shall not be excelled in point of style or any quality which renders it desirable, by that of any other establishment on the Eastern Shore; and the Ladies, especially, far and near, would do well to give him a trial. He has constantly employed several first rate workmen, and keeps always on hand a stock of superior materials, such as French Morocco and Lasting, with various descriptions of Leather, &c., &c.

He is also prepared to execute, according to order, Gentlemen's, Boys', Children's and Servants' Work, coarse or fine.

Orders from a distance, (sent through persons having business at the Mill, or otherwise,) will be attended to with despatch and fidelity.

His terms are moderate and accommodating.

To the Public.

THE subscriber has been informed that there is a report in circulation stating that he has disposed of his possessions on the Choptank, and ceased to keep the Cambridge Ferry. This report was undoubtedly gotten up by some malicious individual with a view of injuring the subscriber, and, if suffered to remain uncontroverted, the aim of its originator would certainly be attained. The subscriber, therefore, takes this method of informing his friends and the public, that there is not the slightest foundation in truth for the above mentioned report; but that, on the contrary, he still keeps the Cambridge Ferry, and expects so to do the remainder of his days. His Boats are substantial, safe and in good order, and are under the management of as prompt, active, trusty and experienced hands as those belonging to any boat that has hitherto been, or may hereafter be, stationed on the above named ferry; while he keeps, as usual, good Horses and Carriages for the accommodation of travellers. He has signals on both sides of the river, which his boat will always answer with the utmost despatch, so that no one shall be kept waiting longer than shall be absolutely necessary.

The subscriber returns his thanks to his friends and the public for the very liberal patronage which he has heretofore received from them; and, as his long experience in the business, and his determination to use his best efforts to please, induce him to hope that he will give general satisfaction, he respectfully solicits a continuance of their favor.
