A GREATER NOTION SALE

WITH VIVID PRICE ATTRACTIONS

The reliability of the articles is the first characteristic of this Greater Notion Sale. The second is the very decisive economies to be secured on goods of thoroughly worthy character. The third is the variety and immensity of the stock—far beyond that in even the most extraordinarily successful notion sales we have held in the past.

There is not a cheapish thing in the whole collection. There is not an article that the most careful dressmaker need be afraid to use in her most particular work, and yet the prices are as low and lower than you would pay elsewhere for things that no prudent woman would use.

Cut out the following list, check the items you want, and mail it to us. We will give the order as careful attention as if you were here yourself.
