are doubtful as to the policy of his doing so. The amount of it seems to be that if he stands in the way of no other aspirant, or combination, he will be invited and pressed to remain, and will remain. In all probability, Mr. Cass will take the State Department, if Mr. Calhoun does not.

Gov. Marcy, of New York, will be invited to take the Treasury Department. I had supposed and hoped this would fall to Mr. Cambreleng, but it seems to have been otherwise arranged.

Mr. Mason will either remain where he is or go to England.

Mr. Saunders, of North Carolina, will have the General Post Office; and will, I have reason to believe, adopt and urge a more liberal policy in regard to it.

Senator Walker will either have a place in the Cabinet, or go upon the bench of the Supreme Court.

As to minor appointments, nobody thinks or cares much about them. It is not believed that Mr. Polk will adopt the proscriptive policy, to its full extent.—We are to see what effect the the one term principle, to which he is pledged, will have upon his policy, in this respect. I suppose, however, that the Tyler appointments of the collectors in New York and elsewhere will be undone, and that speedily.

By the way, Mr. Cass will be elected to the United States Senate, from Michigan, if he should not be called into the Cabinet.

Communications.

MR. EDITOR:—Rumors being afloat that I had made charges against the Rev. Jno. Bayne which I failed to substantiate, and that he had been acquitted by the committee appointed to investigate his case, I feel compelled by a sense of justice to myself, untinctured by any desire to injure Mr. Bayne, to publish the following proceedings of said committee.

JOHN WEBB.

PEACH BLOSSOM, Oct. 9th, 1844.

The Committee appointed by the Rev. Henry White, P. E. of the Easton District on the case of the Rev. John Bayne, with regard to a charge brought against him by Mr. John Webb, submit the following report:

That in the judgment of the committee, the Rev. John Bayne has violated the discipline of the M. E. Church in going to law with said John Webb,—that the case was not of such a nature as to require and justify a process at law, yet from the convulsions of the business community at that time, the actual failures of some, the groundless rumors afloat with regard to others, the excited state of Bro. Bayne's mind at that time from the above circumstances, the expressed disposition of Brother Bayne to make satisfaction to Brother Webb, and from what Bro. Bayne has already suffered in mind on the subject,

Resolved, That the committee, in view of all these mitigating circumstances, do agree to acquit the Rev. John Bayne from all other consequences, provided he be willing to and do pay the cost of said suit up to the time of obtaining judgment against Bro. Webb.

MR. EDITOR—Oblige me by publishing the enclosed letter from Mr. Dorsey.

Respectfully yours,
JOSEPH FLINT.

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 17th, 1844.

To Dr. JOSEPH FLINT,

Sir: It has been currently reported and believed by many, that I have charged you with forging a letter from your brother, Dr. Wm. P. Flint; and that the object of said letter was to prevent any other Physician from moving to Church Creek, as the letter stated that it was your brother's intention to return from the West, and settle again at Church Creek. I have no hesitation in saying that I have no recollection of ever having made such a charge—and will further say, that, even had I ever made such a charge, facts, lately developed, warrant my saying, without reservation, that I was mistaken—and that I have no impression upon my mind that such a letter was forged by you.

☞NATIONAL LORD'S DAY CONVENTION.—This body will assemble in Baltimore, on WEDNESDAY, the 27th instant, at the Baptist Church, at the corner of Sharp and Lombard streets, two squares south of Baltimore-st. and one square north of Pratt. Delegates are expected from every Christian denomination in the United States, and from all persons not members of the church, who desire to promote the better observance of the Lord's Day. They will please report themselves at the Lecture Room of the 5th Presbyterian Church, (Rev. Mr. Hamner's,) Hanover, between Pratt and Lombard-sts. It is hoped that all will procure and bring with them statistical information respecting the observance or discretion of the Sabbath in their respective localities, in answer to the interrogations heretofore circulated.

Arrangements have been made for a reduction on fare upon the Railroad and Steamboat Lines in the vicinity of Baltimore, as follows: The Baltimore and Ohio R. R. Co., the Susquehanna R. R. Co., and Norfolk & Rappahannock steamboat lines, and the steamboats Maryland and Osiris, running to the Eastern Shore of Maryland, and to Chesapeake city on the Canal line to Philadelphia, will convey Delegates, who shall have paid the full fare to Baltimore, back again, free of charge. The Phila. Wilm. and Balto. R. R. Co. will issue tickets for the round trip at $1. It is believed that a reduction can be obtained upon other roads, on application to the proper authorities.

Cheapness, Elegance and Excellance Combined!

Before subscribing to a Periodical for 1845, read the following Prospectus of the Third Volume of ARTHUR'S LADIES' MAGAZINE.

PRICE ONLY $2.00 PER ANNUM,

48 Pages Reading Matter, besides two elegant Steel Plates, in each number!

The Publishers, in sending forth their Prospectus for the third volume of their Magazine, which is exclusively and permanently under the editorial control of T. S. ARTHUR, believe that they can offer to the public most substantial claims to patronage. The first and second volumes have been acknowledged on all hands to be equal, and, in many respects, superior, in character, strength, interest and attractiveness, to any of the magazines issued. The aim of the Editor is a high one. He repudiates the long prevalent system of basing his work upon the reputation of contributors, whose articles, no matter what they have done, are, in too many instances, below mediocrity.

Nothing gains admission into the pages of this Magazine, which is not excellent in itself. The source from which an article comes is secondary—its merits always primary. Such a rule, strictly carried out, must give character to any work. It has given "ARTHUR'S MAGAZINE" a character already acknowledged in all respectable quarters wi ere it has been received.

Among the inexhaustable sources that open up to the hands of a literary caterer, GERMAN and FRENCH LITERATURE offer a wide field for selection. Into this region, with an admirable corps of translators, we are steadily penetrating, astonished at every step by the riches we meet. Especially is this the case in Literature. Already we have given some splendid articles from the German, brim full of pure truths, and forcible illustrations of the power of goodness. "Silent Love," "The Governor and his Successors," "The Unknown Patient," "The Russian Prince," "The Privy Counsellor," &c. &c. all who have read will remember with delight.

From the French we have also given many first rate articles. "The Perplexed Lovers," from Madame de Genlis, also, the "Lesson of Misfortune," and "The Error of a Good Father," from Marmontel, with fine tales from DUMAS, LACROIX, NODIER, BALZAC, and other authors of celebrity.

In selecting from the French, our translators are guided by a strict regard to purity and excellence. None know better than they do, how much that is objectionable abounds in the light literature of this people. But, flowing along by the side of this impure current, is another, as lucid and clear as crystal. From this they dip up the bright waters and present them to our lips.

At this fountain, we shall continue to let our readers drink. But, in doing so, we shall not neglect the EXCELLENCIES OF OUR OWN NATIVE LITERATURE. This would be the worst of folly. Yet in doing this, we shall make no parade of names. The pubic are getting to understand pretty clearly how much this is worth, and to discover that excellence is not always to be found in the fugitive productions of writers who have done well in books. Our country is teeming with young genius, too often overshadowed and hidden by the successful, who possess not half their intrinsic worth, and whose writings exert not half so healthy an influence. They are crowded from the path in which they are fitted to walk, and their merits kept out of sight by a few who have gained the public ear and eye, and who are kept before the public, not so much on account of the superior excellence of what they are giving forth, as on account of what they have done.

To merit, wherever we find it, we will give the right hand of fellowship. We would not accept a poor article from the most celebrated writer in the country; but a good one, let it come from where it will, shall find a welcome. In all sources, at home and abroad, we shall seek the good, the true and the beautiful.

For some time, and with too much justness in the allegation, our Magazines have been charged with being too light and trashy. This fault we have from the first steadily avoided. "ARTHUR'S MAGAZINE" will continue to sustain a high character for excellence in all its departments. Something more than mere love tales will be given. Its stories, while full of deep and absorbing interest, or, sparkling with wit and happy feelings, will have in them a soul—A LIVING SOUL of goodness and truth. Reviews, essays and sketches, with poetry that shall be truly called such, will be blended with them in just proportion. Thus much in regard to the literary department of our Magazine. Another matter claims our attention—that of

PICTORIAL EMBELLISHMENTS.

Custom and taste have rendered them indispensible in a literary work like ours. We shall not stand to argue the matter with Custom and Taste, but proceed to open up our intentions on this head. First, then, we have determined to present the subscribers to "ARTHUR'S MAGAZINE," during the year, with a novelty, of a highly attractive character, no less than a series of engraved on steel in a highly finished style This Shakspeare Gallery of Beauty will present embodied to the eye, some of the noble bard's most beautiful creations of the mind, as well as one or two celebrated characters in history, around whom his magic pen has thrown a new charm. What lover of the Poet's immortal creations, will not be eager to secure this splendid series of Engravings? Not one, surely. Every possessor of a copy of Shakspeare, and whose library does not contain his works? will have, at a mere nominal cost, six exquisite illustrations, not to be obtained in any other way. This is certainly a great desideratum. But, besides these beauties from Snakspeare, we are making arrangements to procure a series of female figures, far surpassing, in loveliness of form and face, and exquisite finish, any thing that has yet appeared in any American magazine.

CELEBRATED VIEWS, in this and other countries, will also be a leading feature in our work. For the January number we shall give a highly wrought view of the BRIDGE OF DOON, over which Tam O'-Shanter fled in such hot haste from the kirk and the witches. This splendid steel plate will accompany the first of our Shakspeare beauties, and will make that number of our work a highly attractive one. No less so will be that for February. Nor shall there be any falling off in the style of embellishment, or in the character of the literary contents of the work. From the first, we have aimed at a gradual improvement. We do not issue one or two good numbers, and then, after our list of subscribers is filled up, fall off. But we endeavor to make every number better than the one that preceded it. Excellence, as we have before said, is our aim. But, besides our Shakspeare Gallery, our Gallery of Female Beauty, our Celebrated Views, we shall introduce, from time to time, other attractions, in the way of embellishments. In addition to the aforegoing, there is yet another feature, no less than from the pen of the Editor! which will be commenced in the January number, and continued until completed. This will be within the year, so that all who subscribe for the Magazine during 1845, will receive this new work. Those who have read "Bell Martin," "Fanny Dale," "Insubordination," "Six Nights with the Washingtonians," "Sweethearts and Wives," &c. &c. from the pen of Mr. Arthur, need not be told that this feature will be a leading one.

In addition to this, Mr. Arthur will also continue to furnish for its pages, his shorter stories, those pointed moral essays, told with so much skill, beauty, and power. The attractions of the Editor's own pen, will, in fact, form a feature of peculiar interest to our work, which no other magazine can possess. While to one or two other periodicals he furnishes a story occasionally, each number of his own magazine will contain many pages of his inimitable writings, and the whole work bear the impress of his pure taste, and sound judgment.

The style in which "Arthur's Magazine" is to be issued, will be as beautiful as clear new type, fine white paper, and a richly Illuminated Cover, (pronounced the chastest design that has yet appeared) can make it.

Take it altogether, the publishers feel confident that, in regard to the quality of literary matter, style of embellishments, appearance, and mechanical execution, Arthur's Magazine will be unsurpassed by any other similar publication. This is not mere idle boast, and vain pretension. No one who has taken the work through the first and second volumes will so deem it.

SIZE OF THE WORK.—"Arthur's Magazine" will contain 48 pages of reading matter, the same quantity that is given by the three dollar Magazines, and give two Steel Engravings in each number, while the price is only $2.00 per annum, payable in advance.

CHANCERY SALE.

BY virtue of a Decree of the High Court of Chancery, I will sell on Saturday the 7th of December

next, at the store of William T. Vickers in Vienna, the following property to wit: A farm belonging to Francis Webb, containing 568 acres, lying on the Nanticoke river, between the farms of Jas. A. Waddle, and Saml. S. Craft. The farm is in a very excellent condition, and pleasantly situated on the river. The out houses are in excellent order, and very good and substantial.—The improvements are a respectable frame dwelling house—a commodious brick stable, fine large frame barn—a provender house capable of holding 1000 bushels of wheat in the straw. These houses are all in good condition and abundantly sufficient for the use of the farm. Belonging to the farm is a beautiful lot of growing timber, more than sufficient for the use of the farm. The farm is in admirable condition, being well ditched, and having fences in complete order.

The terms of sale, as prescribed by the chancellor are one half of the purchase money cash, and the balance to be paid in 12 months from the day of sale, to be secured by note with endorsers to be approved by the trustee. After payment of the entire purchase money, a good and indisputable title will be given, and free from incumbrance, except only that the possibility that a dower right may hereafter, that is in the contingency of the death of Francis Webb during the life time of his wife, exist after it.

George Earnest & Wesley Cowles, vs. James Dixon & others. } IN CHANCERY, 10th October, 1844.

The object of the bill filed in this cause is to obtain a decree for the sale of the Real Estate of Noah Dixon due for the payment of his debts.

The Bill states that the said Noah Dixon was in his life time indebted to the complainants and divers other persons in large sums of money, and having real and personal estate of great value, departed this life in the year 1844 intestate, leaving Charles T. Dixon, E. Caroline Dixon, Nissi Dixon, Sally Dixon, Henry Dixon, Margaret Dixon, James Dixon and Benjamin H. Dixon his children and heirs at law and upon whom the said real estate has devolved, and that the said James Dixon and Benjamin H. Dixon reside out of the jurisdiction of this Court, that administration of all and singular the personal estate of the said Noah Dixon has been lately granted by the Orphans' Court of Dorchester county unto Amos Bowdle of said county, and that in virtue thereof he has possessed himself of said personal estate, but that the said personal estate is insufficient to pay the just and lawful debts of the said Noah Dixon, due and owing by him at the time of his death. The Bill also states that the said James Dixon and Benjamin H. Dixon reside out of the State of Maryland.

It is therefore ordered that the complainants by causing a copy of this order to be published in some newspaper once in each of three successive weeks before the 16th day of November next give notice to the said non-resident defendants of the substance and object of this bill that they may be warned to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 10th day of March next, to shew cause if any they have why a decree should not pass as prayed.
