THE CHRONICLE.

CAMBRIDGE—MD.

SATURDAY MORNING November 30, 1844.

TENNESSEE ELECTION.—The Nashville Whig of Tuesday, gives returns from the whole State, making Mr. Clay's majority 171. The returns from four of the counties are not official, but are said to be correct. The Nashville Union, democratic paper, admits that the State has gone for Clay.

LOUISIANA.—The N. Orleans Courier contains returns from the whole State, which show a majority of 907 for Polk.

AN ELECTOR FOR GOV. CASS.—The Detroit Advertiser of Monday last says it hears that one of the electors in Michigan "has already signified his intention of voting for Gov. Cass."

APPOINTMENT OF CHIEF JUSTICE.—We learn from the Patriot that Samuel M. Semmes, Esq. of Allegany county, has been commissioned by Governor Thomas, as Chief Judge of the upper Judicial Circuit, in place of the late Judge John Buchanan.

WM. TYLER, whose trial for the murder of Wm. W. Graham was removed from this county to Talbot, was found guilty on Thursday the 21st. of November in the first degree. We understand however, that on account of some informality in the verdict, it is doubtful whether he will be sentenced. The argument upon this point of law was concluded on Thursday last, after which the court adjourned, to meet again in three or four weeks, when their decision will be given. Should their decision be favorable to the prisoner, he will be tried again at the spring term of Talbot county Court.

Vermont.—The official returns from this State show that Mr. Clay received 26,770 votes, Mr. Polk 18,011, and Mr. Birney 3,954. Clay's majority over Polk is therefore 8,729.

New York.—Official returns have reached us from this State through the Albany papers. The vote stands for Mr. Clay 232,482, for Mr. Polk 237,588; and for Mr. Birney 15,812. Polk's majority 5,180. The majority for Silas Wright, over Millard Fillmore, the Whig candidate for Governor, is 10,030.

MEETING OF CONGRESS.—On Monday next the representatives of the people will re-assemble at Washington; and on Tuesday we may expect to have the message of President Tyler, the most prominent feature of which will probably be the annexation of Texas to the United States, on the conditions of the rejected treaty. On this subject he may assume high ground, alleging the result of the presidential election as a sanction of the project, although it is not considered by the leading members of the democratic party in New York. We have no idea that he can succeed, during the approaching session of Congress, in attaining his object—and, indeed, shall be surprised if a majority of both houses in Congress be not found against the measure. But we think that we see a greater obstacle than even the opinions of members of Congress. We believe that the government and people of Texas will not consent to be annexed to the union. And why should they? By coming into the union, and having their country divided into states, they will sink into insignificance and divest themselves of all power. It is not likely that Texas will be further annoyed by Mexico—on the contrary, it is clearly the policy of the latter to recognize the independence of Texas, and to enter into amicable relation with her.—Mexico cannot be so blind as not to foresee the danger to her national existance by permitting Texas to become a portion of the United States, and will doubtless prefer that the Lone Star shall be her neighbor in weakness, rather than have the stars and stripes with all their power and strength. As an independent nation Texas will gradually extricate herself from difficulties, and become a flourishing republic—annexed to the United States she will lose all distinctive character. From publications which we have read, we have no doubt that the views of the people of Texas have undergone great change within the last six months—a change probably by the assurance that Mexico will cease her hostile operations, and by the solicitations and negotiations of European powers. We consider it exceedingingly doubtful whether the infant republic will, under present cirsumstances, solict or submit to our embrace.—Baltimore Clipper.

Georgia.—The result of the vote for President in this State, in ninty-two counties, is as follows: For Mr. Clay 42,159; for Mr. Polk 44,151—giving a majority to the latter of 1,992, and leaving the county of Ware to be heard from, which gave a Locofoco majority of 11 votes in October. The whole vote will be about 86,000—11,000 more than were cast in 1840, and upwards of 8,000 more than in October last.

THANKSGIVING DAY.—It will be observed from the following Proclamation of Gov. Thomas, that THURSDAY, the 12th day December next, has been set apart as a day of general Thanksgiving throughout this State:

PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF MARYLAND, TO WIT:—The general acquiescence of the people of Maryland in the appointments, heretofore made by their Chief Magistrate, of a day of Thanksgiving, praise and prayer, encourages the belief, that a like mode of publicly manifesting our gratitude to the AUTHOR OF ALL BEING, for the abounding blessings of the past year, would be most cheerfully adopted, and would afford a suitable occasion for us all to remember that, however widely, and warmly, we may differ, as to the means of prompting the lasting honor and prosperity of our State, and of our magnificent confederacy, we are one people, with one common courtesy, worshipping one common CREATOR.

Now, therefore, I, Francis Thomas, Governor of Maryland, do most respectfully recommend, that on THURSDAY, the twelfth day of December next ensuing, the people of Maryland abstain from all secular employment and publicly engage in Thanksgiving, praise and prayer to the ALMIGHTY, because of the great blessings enjoyed by them under his Divine protection.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto, affixed my name, and the great seal of the State, this eighteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-four; and of the Independence of the U. States the sixty-ninth.

(SEAL.)

By the Governor. FRANCIS THOMAS.
W. V. BUSKIRK, Secretary of State.

FOR THE CHRONICLE.

MR. EDITOR:—Having learned from various sources that an attempt is being made to excite some prejudice towards me because of my participation in the prosecution of William Tyler of this county, for the murder of William W. Graham, I ask the favor of the use of your columns to disabuse the public mind of any erroneous impressions that may have been created in reference to it.

It is wholly untrue that I volunteered to prosecute the unfortunate accused. However wicked and atrocious might have been the deed, I should never have dreamed of volunteering to prosecute a man arraigned for his life. But in this case I was applied to by some of Mr. Graham's friends a few days after the occurrence, to assist in the prosecution; and regarding it as being within the legitimate sphere of my profession, and as doing no violence either to propriety or the feelings of humanity, I accepted their proposition, and, in order to carry out my agreement in good faith, felt constrained to follow the case to Talbot and assist in the prosecution.

Such is a simple statement of the facts, and though I feel a great repugnance to obtrude my private griefs upon the public, yet in this instance such repugnance is overruled by the obligations which duty and justice to myself impose upon me.

Very truly yours,
E. R. HOOPER.

Horrible Occurance.—On Sunday night about 11 o'clock, the watchman observed a fire breaking out in a dwelling house in Callowhill street near William. On breaking open the door it appeared that the whole of the interior of the building was in flames. The house was occupied by a shoe maker named Mitchel Finnigan, and his wife Matilda, who had gone to bed in a state of intoxication, and left the lamp burning near the clothes which took fire. Their bodies had fallen down with the bedstead, and when the fire was extinguished, they were found burned about the head and burnt to a crisp. The former was 37 years of age, and the latter 26. The coroner was called and held an inquest—verdict accordingly.—Phil'a. U. S. Gazette.

MEXICO.—Advices have been received at New Orleans from the city of Mexico up to the 2nd instant. The Chamber of Deputies have refused to vote the loan repuired by SANTA ANNA to carry on the campaign against Texas. A majority of the committee to which the subject was referred, reported that the Executive should be authorized to obtain a loan of three millions of dollars. Subsequently the Chamber refused, by a vote of 44 to 17, to entertain the projet de loi recommended by the committee. The members opposed to the loan maintained that, to save the Republic from embarrassments and dangers with which she was menaced, there must be a complete change of Ministry.

The New Orleans Picayune says—

"We are confirmed in the belief that Santa Anna does not carry with him a majority of the best disposed part of the republic; but this portion of the Mexican population appears disposed to insist, as strongly as any, that Texas must be recovered. They make this a point of national honor; but in our humble opinion it is more the dictate of a national pride than of any reasonable expectation of success. Those best informed in Mexican affairs think a revolution inevitable—many that the train is already laid, and that the explosion will be heard immediately.

Cheapness, Elegance and Excellance Combined!

Before subscribing to a Periodical for 1845, read the following Prospectus of the Third Volume of ARTHUR'S LADIES' MAGAZINE.

PRICE ONLY $2.00 PER ANNUM,

48 Pages Reading Matter, besides two elegant Steel Plates, in each number!

The Publishers, in sending forth their Prospectus for the third volume of their Magazine, which is exclusively and permanently under the editorial control of T. S. ARTHUR, believe that they can offer to the public most substantial claims to patronage. The first and second volumes have been acknowledged on all hands to be equal, and, in many respects, superior, in character, strength, interest and attractiveness, to any of the magazines issued. The aim of the Editor is a high one. He repudiates the long prevalent system of basing his work upon the reputation of contributors, whose articles, no matter what they have done, are, in too many instances, below mediocrity.

Nothing gains admission into the pages of this Magazine, which is not excellent in itself. The source from which an article comes is secondary—its merits always primary. Such a rule, strictly carried out, must give character to any work. It has given "ARTHUR'S MAGAZINE" a character already acknowledged in all respectable quarters wi ere it has been received.

Among the inexhaustable sources that open up to the hands of a literary caterer, GERMAN and FRENCH LITERATURE offer a wide field for selection. Into this region, with an admirable corps of translators, we are steadily penetrating, astonished at every step by the riches we meet. Especially is this the case in Literature. Already we have given some splendid articles from the German, brim full of pure truths, and forcible illustrations of the power of goodness. "Silent Love," "The Governor and his Successors," "The Unknown Patient," "The Russian Prince," "The Privy Counsellor," &c. &c. all who have read will remember with delight.

From the French we have also given many first rate articles. "The Perplexed Lovers," from Madame de Genlis, also, the "Lesson of Misfortune," and "The Error of a Good Father," from Marmontel, with fine tales from DUMAS, LACROIX, NODIER, BALZAC, and other authors of celebrity.

In selecting from the French, our translators are guided by a strict regard to purity and excellence. None know better than they do, how much that is objectionable abounds in the light literature of this people. But, flowing along by the side of this impure current, is another, as lucid and clear as crystal. From this they dip up the bright waters and present them to our lips.

At this fountain, we shall continue to let our readers drink. But, in doing so, we shall not neglect the EXCELLENCIES OF OUR OWN NATIVE LITERATURE. This would be the worst of folly. Yet in doing this, we shall make no parade of names. The public are getting to understand pretty clearly how much this is worth, and to discover that excellence is not always to be found in the fugitive productions of writers who have done well in books. Our country is teeming with young genius, too often overshadowed and hidden by the successful, who possess not half their intrinsic worth, and whose writings exert not half so healthy an influence. They are crowded from the path in which they are fitted to walk, and their merits kept out of sight by a few who have gained the public ear and eye, and who are kept before the public, not so much on account of the superior excellence of what they are giving forth, as on account of what they have done.

To merit, wherever we find it, we will give the right hand of fellowship. We would not accept a poor article from the most celebrated writer in the country; but a good one, let it come from where it will, shall find a welcome. In all sources, at home and abroad, we shall seek the good, the true and the beautiful.

For some time, and with too much justness in the allegation, our Magazines have been charged with being too light and trashy. This fault we have from the first steadily avoided. "ARTHUR'S MAGAZINE" will continue to sustain a high character for excellence in all its departments. Something more than mere love tales will be given. Its stories, while full of deep and absorbing interest, or, sparkling with wit and happy feelings, will have in them a soul—A LIVING SOUL OF goodness and truth. Reviews, essays and sketches, with poetry that shall be truly called such, will be blended with them in just proportion. Thus much in regard to the literary department of our Magazine. Another matter claims our attention—that of

PICTORIAL EMBELLISHMENTS.

Custom and taste have rendered them indispensible in a literary work like ours. We shall not stand to argue the matter with Custom and Taste, but proceed to open up our intentions on this head. First, then, we have determined to present the subscribers to "ARTHUR'S MAGAZINE," during the year, with a novelty, of a highly attractive character, no less than a series of engraved on steel in a highly finished style This Shakspeare Gallery of Beauty will present embodied to the eye, some of the noble bard's most beautiful creations of the mind, as well as one or two celebrated characters in history, around whom his magic pen has thrown a new charm. What lover of the Poet's immortal creations, will not be eager to secure this splendid series of Engravings? Not one, surely. Every possessor of a copy of Shakspeare, and whose library does not contain his works? will have, at a mere nominal cost, six exquisite illustrations, not to be obtained in any other way. This is certainly a great desideratum. But, besides these beauties from Shakspeare, we are making arrangements to procure a series of female figures, far surpassing, in loveliness of form and face, and exquisite finish, any thing that has yet appeared in any American magazine.

CELEBRATED VIEWS, in this and other countries, will also be a leading feature in our work. For the January number we shall give a highly wrought view of the BRIDGE OF DOON, over which Tam O'Shanter fled in such hot haste from the kirk and the witches. This splendid steel plate will accompany the first of our Shakspeare beauties, and will make that number of our work a highly attractive one. No less so will be that for February. Nor shall there be any falling off in the style of embellishment, or in the character of the literary contents of the work. From the first, we have aimed at a gradual improvement. We do not issue one or two good numbers, and then, after our list of subscribers is filled up fall off. But we endeavor to make every number better than the one that preceded it. Excellence, as we have before said, is our aim. But, besides our Shakspeare Gallery, our Gallery of Female Beauty, our Celebrated Views, we shall introduce, from time to time, other attractions, in the way of embellishments. In addition to the aforegoing, there is yet another feature, no less than from the pen of the Editor! which will be commenced in the January number, and continued until completed. This will be within the year, so that all who subscribe for the Magazine during 1845, will receive this new work. Those who have read "Bell Martin," "Fanny Dale," "Insubordination," "Six Nights with the Washingtonians," "Sweethearts and Wives," &c. &c. from the pen of Mr. Arthur, need not be told that this feature will be a leading one.

In addition to this, Mr. Arthur will also continue to furnish for its pages, his shorter stories, those pointed moral essays, told with so much skill, beauty, and power. The attractions of the Editor's own pen, will, in fact, form a feature of peculiar interest to our work, which no other magazine can possess. While to one or two other periodicals he furnishes a story occasionally, each number of his own magazine will contain many pages of his inimitable writings, and the whole work bear the impress of his pure taste, and sound judgment.

The style in which "Arthur's Magazine" is to be issued, will be as beautiful as clear new type, fine white paper, and a richly Illuminated Cover, (pronounced the chastest design that has yet appeared) can make it.

Take it altogether, the publishers feel confident that, in regard to the quality of literary matter, style of embellishments, appearance, and mechanical execution, Arthur's Magazine will be unsurpassed by any other similar publication. This is not mere idle boast, and vain pretension. No one who has taken the work through the first and second volumes will so deem it.

SIZE OF THE WORK.—"Arthur's Magazine" will contain 48 pages of reading matter, the same quantity that is given by the three dollar Magazines, and give two Steel Engravings in each number, while the price is only $2.00 per annum, payable in advance.

$200 Reward.

RANAWAY from the subscriber living near Cambridge, on Saturday 26th inst. a negro man Adam Keene, about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, & about 25 years of age. Adam is a dark mulatto, very polite when spoken to, red eyes, thick lips, whiskers, and is in the habit of wetting his lips with his tongue, and is apt to look down while speaking. He wore away a suit of blue kersey and straw hat, and a pair of boots nearly new, he carried away with him a blue cloth coat, and a pair of green fustian pantaloons, with other clothes not recollected. The above reward will be given if taken out of the State, 100 dollars if taken out of County, and 50 dollars if taken in the County, provided the above named negro man be delivered in the Cambridge jail.
