THE TEN LEPERS.

ere m[illegible] him ten men that were lepers, which afar off: And they lifted up their voices, and Jesus, Master, have mercy on us.

ld, in the desert, the plague stricken Ten!
n forth from the dwellings and presence of men—men that are lepers" Oh! Hark to their cry!
ey flee to the desert, it may be to die.

for the leper, who dwelleth apart;
out from his home and the friends of his heart—for the leper! All shrink from his side; those, whom to save, he would gladly have died.

decree of the Priest is relentless and stern, er again to his house may the leper return!
ere he departs to his barren retreat,
is bound at the altar this oath to repeat.

ure infection now dwells in my breath—touch is pollution, my contact is death—d tho' thirst, burning thirst should consume me I swear, drink of no stream to which trav'lers repair.

gather no fruit that may hang o'er the path o driv'n by fasting to famine and death—o' fainting with heat and fatigue, to repose the shade of no tree by the highway that grows.

nd ever and always where e'er I am seen ry as a warning—Unclean! Oh unclean!
en cover my head with my garment and fly, est some one in passing should touch me and die—d now the poor lepers, are standing apart, w'd down by affliction and anguish of heart, hen the shouts of a multitude gladly they hear claiming that "Jesus of Naz'reth" is near.

! how this unhappy and plague stricken band joice to learn that a friend is at hand:
d see! He approaches—they call on his name—esus, Master, have mercy," the lepers exclaim.

ain is the pow'r of Jesus reveald—sees them—he speaks and the suppliants are heal'd:
r lo! at his mandate, so gracious and mild,
eir flesh is restor'd like the flesh of a child.

hat words may describe the emotions that burn
the hearts of these lepers as home they return?
et none, save the grateful Samaritan, yield heir praises and thanks to the hand that has heal'd.

ut he when he finds he is cleans'd on the road ails not "with loud voice to glorify God;"
nd to Jesus returning falls down at his feet, gain his thanksgiving and praise to repeat.

hen answer'd the Saviour, in accents divine,
Ten men were recover'd, but where are the nine?
Lo! none of the ten to whom mercy was shown Are found to give thanks, save this stranger alone."

nd thus is it still, when afflictions befall e loudly on "Jesus of Nazareth" call;
ut when he is pleas'd the distress to remove,
ow often we fail to remember his love!

hen grant us, oh Jesus! thy goodness to see est we, like "the nine," prove unmindful of thee h teach us in troubles to bow to the rod nd ever, for mercies, to glorify God.

HEALTH AND ITS ATTENDANT BLESsings can only be secured by a proper attention to the symptoms of disease as they occur, and which, if left unattended to, result in the most fatal consequences. How often is it the case that a neglected cough terminates in consumption when a few of Sherman's Cough Lozenges, given in time, would have prevented the evil. And worms, too, those destroyers of the rising generation, are permitted to pursue their ravages, when a box of Sherman's Worm Lozenges would have banished them entirely, and rendered the sufferer hearty and happy. And how frequently we see many around us bowed down under a dreadful headache, or hear them complaining of faintness or palpitation, when if they only knew how quick Sherman's Camphor Lozenges would relive them, they would suffer no more. Dr. Sherman's remedies are no humbug, nor is there any quackery about them. Try them and you will be satisfied. They may be had at his warehouse, 106 Nassau street, N. Y.

CLICKENER'S SUGAR COATED VEGETABLE EXTRACT PILLS.

A medicinal preparation is hereby announced which has been long desired, and sought for, and which the public must at once see and acknowledge the advantage of. It is a purgative pill, COATED WITH SUGAR, so that it leaves no taste whatever of its internal ingredients. In fact the medicine is so entirely disguised that if a person were to swallow the pills without being informed what they were, he would believe them to be simply lumps of pure sugar, nor could he afterwards, unless by its great purgative effect suspect that he had been taking medicine, for these pills are so skilfully prepared that they do not gripe the bowels, and thus the patient who takes them avoids two evils which attend all other purgative medicines; namely nausea and pain. Medicine administered in all other sweet forms has the disadvantage of being mixed with the sugar, and hence produces a mingled flavor, which, to most persons is more disagreeable than unadulterated bitterness. In these pills this is altogether avoided; the sugar and the medicine being entirely distinct from each other, so that the former must be thoroughly removed before the latter can manifest itself to the taste. It is universally known that nearly all diseases originate with impurity of blood.—Pure blood is therefore essential to health. We must not, however, wait until the blood is impure, for then it takes time—and that time passed in ill health—to rectify it; but when the slightest derangement of the system is indicated by costiveness, or any other sign, it admonishes us that superfluities are gathering in the system, which should at once be got rid of, for their removal leaves the chyle, (from which the blood is formed) in a healthy state, and purity of blood must be the result. This fact, as stated, is universally known; but people have such an aversion to medicine, that, unless the case is urgent, they prefer the disease to the cure, until an impared constitution, or a fit of sickness rebukes them for the folly of their conduct.—Still they had some excuse; for heretofore, medicine in almost all its forms, was nearly as disgusting as it was beneficial. Now, however, the evil is most effectually removed; for CLICKENER'S SUGAR COATED VEGETABLE EXTRACT PILLS have no taste whatever of medicine—produce none of the nausea and griping, attendant on the operation of other medicine—while their speedy effect in removing all impurities from the system cannot be excelled by any other medicine which has ever been discovered.

It is unnecessary to say more here. If these pills are, as described, the public will freely and gladly patronise them; and the proprietor merely asks a trial, which he is sure of receiving, to prove that he assumes no merit for them which they do not fully possess.

Clickener's Sugar-coated Vegetable Extract Pills are prepared and sold, wholesale and retail and for exportation, by C. V. CLICKENER & Co., Chemists, at the wholesale and retail drug warehouse, No. 79 and 81 Barclay street, New York. Price 25 cents.

Caution—The public should remember that C. V. Clickener is the inventor of the Sugar-Coated Pills, and that nothing of the sort was ever heard of until he introduced them. Therefore should any other person, seduced by the popularity of his discovery, advertise Sugar Coated Pills, they must be a wretched counterfeit, which it would be dangerous to use, as none but the most ignorant quacks can be found dealing in such a nefarious traffic, as palming off counterfeit for genuine medicine.
